New Liskeard Lions award '15-16 season

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Staff) – The New Liskeard Lions had a silver lining in their 2015-16 season.
NOHA silver.

The team played in the eight-team Abitibi-Témiscamingue Hyundai Midget BB League based in Quebec through the year.
While they didn't win a game there, the higher level of play they came up against had the Lions well prepared for the Northern Ontario Hockey Association (NOHA) championship.

The Lions hosted the tourney at the Don Shepherdson Memorial Arena in March. They were undefeated through the round robin and made it to the championship game where they earned silver medals in a loss to Woodstock.

"We had a much better team than our record showed in our league," said coach Dom Fleury at the time.

"All the credit goes to the kids, they showed up and showed everybody that they were a really good team with a great work ethic, the coaching staff is proud of the boys."

That feeling of team togetherness was on display May 29 at the New Liskeard Golf Club as the Lions held their annual year-end social and barbecue and presented the team awards.

Sharing the MVP award were goaltenders Alexis Beaulac and Ben Caldwell.

Tristen McClinchey was named Best Defenceman.

The Rookie of the Year was Lane Cote.

Lee Joy was named Coaches' Choice.

The Most Gentlemanly Player award went to Jordan Sutton.

Most Improved was David Leveille.

Cody Loranger won the President's Choice trophy.

Drones have endless potential on farms

While drones are just getting off the ground on North American farms, their potential is endless.

Unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs) can improve efficiency, and there is little doubt the technology will play an ever increasing role in the making of farm management decisions. Notably, drones are being used to monitor crop health. Instead of spending hours scouting fields, drones with infrared cameras and sensors now provide farmers with data on insects, plant diseases and moisture levels.

With this kind of information, growers can more accurately calibrate the need for irrigation, fertilizer and pesticides. When hail destroys cornfields, a UAV can survey and accurately assess the damage. Drones are also good for the environment; the result for both commercial and organic farmers is increased yields and reduced labour, energy and other input costs.

Drones are also being used for livestock surveillance. They can check temperatures, apply insecticides and herd and locate lost animals.

With more and more companies entering the rapidly evolving drone industry, other functions will be developed. The Association for Unmanned Vehicle Systems International predicts that in the future agricultural drones will account for upwards of 80 per cent of the commercial market.

UAVs are like any other new agricultural technology. Experts advise producers to do their homework before buying a drone. They suggest that farmers prioritize their needs and investigate federal aviation regulations and registration requirements. They should also get informed about additional hardware and software requirements, training programs and the UAV's construction components.

A drone flies over a vineyard and pinpoints ripened grapes.
