Improving Connectivity

Temagami looking at better internet service

By Jamie Mountain

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

TEMAGAMI – Temagami council agreed to provide a letter in support of Xplornet's application to Stage 1 of the Improving Connectivity for Ontario program at its regular meeting on August 6.

Recently, the Province of Ontario opened the first intake of the Improving Connectivity in Ontario (ICON) program. Stage 1 applications are due August 21. The municipality has had a call with Xplornet which intends to apply to the program.

Throughout Central and Northern Ontario, Xplornet is proposing to install 2,650 kilometres of fibre lines. This includes installing fibre lines to their existing tower situated north of Temagami.

"What it would do to our tower is it would be able to supply, to its current coverage, a hundred (megabits) per second to residents," treasurer-administrator Craig Davidson told council at the meeting.

"But also it could expand the range as well. When you're looking at the route the fibre wants to take, or what they want the fibre to take, it would basically leave Highway 11 around Sturgeon Falls and come up Highway 64. So, over time it would be a lot easier to service the Marten River area, as well."

Xplornet is estimating that the cost of this project would be $200-$220 million.

Xplornet already possesses a Long-Term Evolution (LTE) tower and will be installing fibre lines to increase

A SUMMER INTERLUDE

On a sunny afternoon last week, Dan and Friends – including Dan Allaire, at left, and J.P. Gravel – performed some favourites outside New Liskeard Non-Profit Housing on Market Street. the strength of the tower, so they are looking at the Temagami extension to be one of the first stages of the overall project.

The Improving Connectivity for Ontario program was created to provide Ontarians with reliable high-speed internet and cellular connections at home, at work and along major highways.

The province is investing $150 million in the new program so that, when leveraged with partner funding, it has the potential to result in a total investment of $500 million to improve broadband and cellular coverage in underserved and unserved communities.

The province also is inviting telecommunication service providers, municipal governments, Indigenous communities and non-profits to submit innovative proposals to lend their investment, expertise and experience to improve connectivity in communities across Ontario.

Xplornet asked the municipality of Temagami to consider providing a letter of support they can include in their application to the ICON fund.

Davidson provided a draft letter that council reviewed and approved at the Aug. 6 meeting.

"If this (application) goes through, I guess it's a feather in our cap where we will get a better infrastructure to work from that we can build on in the future," Temagami Mayor Dan O'Mara commented.

"So it is a start. It's not everything, but at least we're on their agenda and they are looking to try to work with us to try to get better (internet) service in our particular area."

Most Canadians believe pandemic is far from over

By Len Gillis,

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

SUDBURY - Most Canadians and indeed most residents of Ontario believe the coronavirus pandemic is far from over, and things will get bad again come fall or winter.

Those are just some of the results reflected in a poll carried out by Canadian accounting and management firm KPMG.

The poll involved 1,010 Canadians in all parts of the country. The results were broken down by national responses, as well as responses from British Columbia, Alberta, combined Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and the Atlantic Provinces. Ontario had the largest number of responses with 398.

FAR TO GO

Ontario residents believed by 94 per cent that the pandemic "is far from over," a figure that was matched by the national response.

Another statement that most Ontarians agreed with was: "I'm ok with going back to the workplace now because COVID cases are relatively low, but I think a second wave this fall and/or winter will shut down workplaces all over again." The Ontario response was 76 per cent while the national response was 72 per cent.

With respect to getting back to work, the poll also revealed that Ontario residents believed more than other Canadians that they "feel much or somewhat better about returning to the workplace safely if their employer kept them updated in real-time about the level of health risk in their office and provided resources to foster their health and well-being." The number was 69 per cent for Ontario and 64 per cent nationally. B.C. was also 69 per cent.

That being said, Ontario residents responded by 78 per cent that they are most worried about colleagues coming to work sick or asymptomatic. The national response was 77 per cent. Ontario residents were 55 per cent worried about having to share common spaces like meeting rooms or lunch rooms. That national response was a bit higher at 57 per cent.

Some of the other work-related concerns were sharing air ventilation (50 per cent), workplace washrooms (38 per cent), and sharing the office coffee machine/water cooler (24 per cent).

For going back to work, the poll also revealed the "least concerning" issues. This included having to wear a face mask in the workplace and the responses were 54 per cent for Ontario and 56 per cent for all of Canada.

Another question asked how many would be ok to use an employer's smartphone app that would let them know how busy office areas are, so they could better manage their time and avoid such areas. Ontario residents responded "Yes that would be helpful" by 39 per cent and "Yes, but I'd be concerned about app geo-tracking and privacy" at 25 per cent.

Ontario residents also showed the highest satisfaction for their "virtual work environment" at 80 per cent with 64 per cent who said they feel more productive in a virtual working environment.

The poll also showed 53 per cent of Ontario respondents felt their company could have done a better job communicating on how to work from home. A similar number, 52 per cent in Ontario, said they wished their company was doing a better job communicating how the workers would be returning to work safely.

BUCKE-ROO CAMPING

By Robert Ritchie

With covid-19 still with us in Ontario, Temiskaming must keep on track with the medical experts' advice on social distancing, face coverings and washing/sanitizing your hands often.

Camper repairs are important to RV'ers, trailer and 5thwheel owners to stay up on them before they make a small problem into a larger one. One of the most important is the roof of the unit and if it has a pull-out its roof also should be checked at the start of the season, middle of the season and at the end of the season. This can be done by the seasoned camper or a competent camper technician. The roof should be treated every two years with special roof sealant that can be bought at a camper repair shop.

Another thing to keep an eye on is looking for any small openings in your camper's exterior envelope especially the under carriage where small visitors may enter your trailer unexpectedly. Inspecting your trailer once a month should be enough to spot any openings. Water lines inside and out should also be inspected by camper owners along with awnings, jacks and tires.

Let's remember why we camp; the great Temiskaming outdoor fresh air, campfires under the stars eating smores and spider wieners, meeting new people and getting together with old friends, going down to the beach for a swim with the kids, and grandchildren, being together with family enjoying a picnic outside.

Some people take up gardening while they camp. Some grow flowers, others grow vegetables like tomatoes, carrots, little green onions, radishes, and leaf lettuce, makes for a good salad. Some spend their time bird watching. Temiskaming has many indigenous species of birds and some new arrivals in the past ten years like cranes, turkey vultures, bald eagles and more. Others watch the playful scampering of chipmunks and squirrels or happen to come across a rabbit eating mother nature's own salad. Still others watch the butterflies go from flower to flower and the dragonflies cleaning up the mosquitoes.

Regardless of the campground, camping in Temiskaming is the best way to enjoy the outdoors.

MAKING WAY
The old pizza place building on Third Street in Englehart was torn down recently to make way for a new office building. Dr. Julie Williams, who owns the current Englehart Dental Office just down the street, bought the building and plans to construct a new office in its place. Traffic along Third Street by the dental office was blocked off July 16 while the demolition work was completed. (Staff photo by Jamie Mountain, LJI reporter)

In Loving Memory of Dawson Jibb
April 7, 1986 - August 14th, 2010

God walked around the Heavens and decided then and there, I need a warm and gentle man, I have no time to spare. He must be very special, with free smiles to give away, and a sense of humour all can share to brighten every day.

I need someone with a loving touch who has made his family proud, then God checked the whole world over and called your name out loud.

May the winds of love blow softly, and whisper so you hear... we will always love and miss you Dawson, and wish you were still here.

Always on our minds, forever in our hearts, eternity in our souls.

Love Mom, Dad, Colton, Vickey, Omélia, & your loyal companion Gus.

Cervical Cancer—What You Should Know

Each year in Canada, more than 1,300 women are diagnosed with cervical cancer and over 400 die from the disease. Almost all cases of cervical cancer are caused by the human papillomavirus (HPV), which is preventable through the HPV vaccine. The publicly funded vaccine is provided to male and female students in every province and territory through school-based programs. Regular screening of adult women is also vital as cervical cancer caught at an earlier stage has a high survival rate. Most cervical cancer (67% occurs in women aged 30-59.

Risk Factors

The main risk factor for developing cervical cancer is the sexually transmitted human papilloma virus (HPV) that infects the cervix.

Other risk factors for developing cervical cancer include:

- Becoming sexually active at a young age; having many sexual partners or having a sexual partner that has had many sexual partners.
- Smoking.
- The use of birth control pills for a long period of time.
- Giving birth to many children.
- Having taken diethylstilbestrol (DES), or being the daughter of a mother who took DES.

Prevention

Getting screened regularly is important because it can find abnormal cells that could become cancer (called pre-cancers). Finding pre-cancers and treating them can prevent you from getting cancer. Treating pre-cancers is much easier than treating cancer. It also has a better chance of working than treating cancer after it develops.

Who Should Be Screened:

- Women 21 and older who are or ever have been sexually active, should be screened regularly for cervical cancer.
- Based on the latest clinical evidence, most women should be screened every 3 years.
- Regular screening can stop at the age of 70 if a woman has had 3 or more normal tests in the previous 10 years.

If you are due or overdue for cervical cancer screening, call your primary care provider today to schedule an appointment. Screening is the only way to find the early changes that might lead to cervical cancer.

Early detection is key.

Today with the pandemic Norma and Douglas Edwards have decided on their sixty fifth wedding anniversary to turn the situation around and thank all those who have been part of our life over the past sixty five years. We started out as young lovers on a road, yet to be travelled. With the help of our parents to encourage us, some doors opened and some remained closed but with faith and determination we carried on. We have four wonderful children, thirteen grand children and eight great grand children all who come to our help in time of need. We are prepared for one more door to open when time comes. We wish for God to bless our family, friends, business owners. All the blessings of a safe life in the coming years. May God bless you as we have been blessed in the future to come. Psalm 100-5 The Lord is good. There is no end of His faithful Love. We can trust in Him forever and ever.
Amen

Former Englehart theatre to be demolished

Darlene Wroe
Speaker Reporter

ENGLEHART - The Town of Englehart has received a substance inventory regarding the former theatre building on the northeast corner of the intersection of Third Street and Fourth Avenue.

The substance inventory provides an analysis of any hazardous substances such as asbestos that exist in the building. A small amount of material was found on the outside of the building, town chief administrative officer Shawn LaCarte told the council at their regular meeting July 22.

“There wasn’t a lot but there were a few little things,” he said.

LaCarte obtained council’s approval to now proceed on moving the property into the town’s name.

The next step will be to put out Request For Proposals from contractors who could carry out the job of tearing the building down, he said.

“It’s something we need to do.” The property has been “a hindrance in our downtown.”

The substance inventory will be provided to the contractor who demolishes the building, he stated.
