Cobalt opens the taps on water plant upgrades

Sue Nielsen

Speaker Reporter

COBALT — The Town of Cobalt, along with EXP Services Inc., held a grand opening barbecue luncheon on October 8 to showcase major upgrades that have been completed at the Cobalt Water Treatment Plant.

It's located on Pumphouse Road on Sasaginiga Lake in Coleman Township.

Mayor George Othmer described it as a state-of-the-art plant designed "for the future."

EXP provided engineering services and the Ontario Clean Water Agency (OCWA) provides the town with ongoing Overall Responsible Operator (ORO) oversight.

This event was an opportunity for members of the public to take a tour of the plant and learn about the upgrades, which began in May of 2019 and wrapped up this September, with a price tag of $1.5 million.

The town's share of the project's costs comes in at $20,000.

The bulk of the funding for the upgrades have come from the federal and provincial governments, says Cobalt clerk treasurer John Hodgson.

The Cobalt Public Works crew operates the facility which also supplies water to 45 nearby households in Coleman.

Public works foreman David Adshead gave tours

He emphasized the importance of stainless steel piping, saying, "We had plastic piping in here and noticed at one point a pipe had literally melted when overheated, which won't happen now."

"This has been a long time coming, we are proud of this facility and all these upgrades are now mandated by the province of Ontario. If you don't want another Walkerton, you have to complete these upgrades," noted Othmer.

UPGRADES

Features include two new high-lift pumps, two new low-lift pumps and two new variable frequency drives to control the flow of the pumps.

The large blue structure that dominates the landscape is the new water tower, or standpipe, which provides additional storage of potable water and increases the robustness of the distribution system.

"These upgrades significantly improve our fire fighting capabilities with the extra water in the new

Osteoporosis and Bone Mineral Density Testing

Osteoporosis is a condition that causes bones to become thin and porous, decreasing bone strength and leading to broken bones, especially the hip, spine, wrist and shoulder. Osteoporosis is sometimes confused with osteoarthritis. Just to be clear, osteoporosis is a bone disease and osteoarthritis is a disease of the joints and surrounding tissue.

Fast Facts:

- Osteoporosis can strike at any age and affects both men and women
- Building strong bones during childhood and adolescence can be the best defence against developing osteoporosis later in life
- Both men and women begin to lose bone in their mid 30s. As they approach menopause, women lose bone at a greater rate, from 2-3% per year
- At least 1 in 3 women and 1 in 5 men will suffer from an osteoporotic fracture during their lifetime
- Over 80% of all fractures in people 50+ are caused by osteoporosis

Testing

Bone Mineral Density (BMD) testing is very important. This test is safe, painless and accurately measures the density of your bones. A BMD test can tell you whether or not you have osteoporosis and how likely you are to develop it in the future. It can help you to make decisions that may prevent fractures or further bone loss.

Who Should Get a BMD test?

- all women and men 65 years or older
- postmenopausal women and men 50-64 with risk factors for fracture including:
 - low bone mass identified on x-ray
 - parental hip fracture
 - high alcohol intake
 - current smoker
 - low body weight, i.e. less than 132 lbs or 60 kg
 - rheumatoid arthritis
- younger men or women (under 50) with a disease or condition associated with low bone mass or bone loss:
 - high risk medication (steroid use, aromatase inhibitors, androgen deprivation therapy)
 - uncontrolled hyperthyroidism
 - early menopause (younger than 45)

For more information about osteoporosis, go to the Osteoporosis Canada website at www.osteoporosis.ca. If you fall into any of the groups listed above, please schedule an appointment with your primary care provider to discuss BMD testing.

EDITORIAL

Recognize them

Individuals who see the big picture and can work successfully to bring people together in this region are gaining well-deserved recognition.

It was recently announced that former Cobalt Mayor Tina Sartoretto had a scholarship to the Northern School of Medicine (NOSM) named after her.

It is a gift from Agnico Eagle in recognition of Sartoretto's legacy in creating a Cobalt Historic Fund with the Temiskaming Foundation.

This fund will provide monies to Cobalt community-based projects for years to come.

New Liskeard residents, business owners and community activists, Sharron and Peter Graydon, have been honoured over the years with awards, but recently they were given a special honour.

Members of the Graydon family worked with the City of Temiskaming Shores to install a bench outside the Don Shepherdson Memorial Arena in the name of the Graydons.

And in Haileybury, businesswoman and entrepreneur Nicole Guertin has been given an Individual Collective Award of Excellence by Desjardins Financial and the Ontario Cooperation Council.

Geurtin is facing a terminal illness and she and her partner have created a fund to be managed by the Temiskaming Foundation to help entrepreneurs across Northern Ontario.

In individual communities across the Temiskaming region bursaries and awards are being set up to honour people who have worked for the betterment of all.

At the Temagami Public Library, books were donated to honour the late Paul Middleton, who had been a library board member and Lions Club member who worked tirelessly to improve the quality of life in Temagami for all residents.

Don't hesitate to nominate someone for an award if you think they have worked tirelessly to promote life in the region.

And for all those who are currently working behind the scenes to make this region the best that it can be, thank you.

Eco anxiety

Sue Nielsen

It's been a beautiful warm October so far.

I spoke with Bruce Murphy at an owl banding session last week and he said he notices differences in the spring and fall migrations due to climate change.

Climate change - the hot topic these days.

It has also been unusually hot in Glasgow, Scotland, where my daughter lives.

They've had heat waves lasting for days with roads melting, people getting terrible sunburns and water sources running low.

The Scottish summers contain mostly rainy, fog filled days with temperatures around 15 degrees Celsius.

I laughed at my daughter's comment recently about the hot temps: "Mom, they don't know how to cope with these hot sunny days here, everyone is getting massive sunburns."

Winter was just as unusual in that wee country where they received snow and had below freezing temperatures.

However, she has enjoyed swimming in the ocean and says it has never been warmer.

As Glasgow hosts the 2021 United Nations Climate Change Conference beginning this week, with Queen Elizabeth in attendance, the Scots are ahead of the curve as an eco friendly country.

They have a marvelous public transportation system of buses and high-speed rail cutting down on the use of cars. And they have massive offshore solar and wind turbine farms producing cheap, clean energy.

But oddly enough, they don't have a glass recycling program.

They have committed to having all public transportation vehicles fueled by electric power by 2025 and reducing green house gas emissions to net-zero by 2045.

Renewable energy sources are making a huge difference in the carbon footprint of Scotland.

Scotland is dubbed the eco friendliest country in the UK.

Factors include electric vehicles, charging points, recycling and waste services, air quality, pollution levels, reducing plastic use and disposable fashion consumption.

I wonder what community in the Temiskaming district is the eco friendliest?

Climate change has been dubbed the single biggest threat to the world's environment.

I wanted desperately to vote for a green candidate in the recent federal election but the Green Party of Canada is a mess.

I felt the party sabotaged the brightest and most progressive leader in An-namie Paul.

These are the things scientists say are changing worldwide because of climate change: food, energy supply, security, water quality and availability, flood risk, wild fires, cultural heritage, habitat loss, recreation and human health.

Basically, everything affecting our daily lives.

We need leaders to stop the platitudes and take action against climate change and give us hope for the health of the planet.

COVID-19 UPDATE

In order to control the spread of COVID-19 and the Delta variant, we need to work together to build community immunity by getting vaccinated. Until then, we must still practice public health measures to help protect everyone.

The benefits of approved COVID-19 vaccines continue to vastly outweigh any potential risks, and have proven reductions in serious illness, hospitalizations, and death. Getting vaccinated is a critical part of our path back to normal and will help to keep our schools and businesses safe and open.

It is normal to have questions about COVID-19 vaccines.

If you have questions, please speak to your health care provider or contact a nurse at Timiskaming Health Unit at 866-747-4305, ext. 7.

Resources and clinic schedules are also on our website.

MISE À JOUR DE LA COVID-19

Afin de contrôler la propagation de la COVID-19 et du variant Delta, nous devons travailler ensemble pour renforcer l'immunité communautaire en nous faisant vacciner. Jusqu'à ce moment, on va devoir continuer de pratiquer les mesures de la santé publique pour aider à protéger tous les gens.

Les avantages des vaccins contre la COVID-19 approuvés continuent de dépasser largement les risques potentiels et démontrent une réduction significative des maladies graves, des hospitalisations et des décès. Se faire vacciner est un élément essentiel pour notre retour à la normale et contribuera à maintenir nos écoles et nos entreprises en sécurité et ouvertes.

Il est normal d'avoir des questions sur les vaccins. Si vous avez des questions, veuillez vous adresser à votre professionnel de la santé ou communiquer avec une infirmière des Services de santé du Timiskaming au 866-747-4305, poste 7.

Latchford planning second Halloween parade

LATCHFORD (Staff) - Last year’s successful Latchford Halloween parade for the kiddies and family members is on track again for 2021.

Latchford Recreation Department chair Sharon Gadoury-East outlined the plans for Latchford council at their regular meeting September 23.

The recreation department will be reaching out to the community with flyers to make everyone aware of the event, and to encourage children to come out with their costumes to be part of the parade. Even residents without children can enjoy it by making their way down to King Street on Sunday, October 31, for the 1 p.m. parade.

It will travel south along King Street starting at Mowat Avenue.

The Latchford Fire Department will also be present to lead the parade and to bring up the end in order to control traffic and ensure safety.

Donations are being accepted for the goodie bags which will be handed out to participating children.

Gadoury-East said that the event is taking place earlier in the day to allow children to go trick or treating that evening if they still wish to do so.

TFN entrepreneur making grand finale pitch

Diane Johnston
Speaker Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES –

For a Timiskaming First Nation entrepreneur, it all comes down to one final pitch to a panel of judges next week.

Weesanin Homestyle Cooking, founded by Kelly McBride, is one of four entrants from Quebec to reach the finals of Pow Wow Pitch 2021.

“Seeing my business come fourth was amazing,” said McBride as she served customers at Riverside Farmers’ Market on a recent Saturday morning.

On October 20, she’ll be among 29 Indigenous entrepreneurs from across Canada and the U.S. to make her case live online for up to $25,000.

Pow Wow Pitch is a showcase and mentorship opportunity for Indigenous enterprises.

Using an approach akin to that of the popular Dragon’s Den TV series, small business owners make their case for their operations to be awarded cash.

The initiative was founded by Sunshine Tenasco from Kitigan Zibi Anishinabeg near Maniwaki, Quebec. In 2015, Tenasco appeared on Dragon’s Den and received a $20,000 loan to help expand her company, which made beaded baby moccasins of deer hide.

She has credited her appearance on the CBC series for giving her the confidence to continue as an entrepreneur.

More than 1,600 vendors, artists, business builders and innovators applied for the 2021 edition of Pow Wow Pitch.

The field was narrowed to 156, and included three applicants from Timiskaming First Nation and one from Temagami First Nation.

Weesanin Homestyle Cooking provides home-cooked meals that incorporate traditional Algonquin foods and family favourites. McBride became a vendor at the Riverside market this year, and recently began serving meals from the Riverside Place kitchen during the Saturday morning markets.

She wants to expand the business, with plans that include a lunch truck and hiring employees.

At the Pow Wow Pitch online semifinals, she made her minute-long pitch to a panel of judges and then responded to questions.

“It was intimidating,” she said.

Now it’s on to the finals, where she’ll make her pitch one more time.

The grand finale will be broadcast live online October 20 beginning at 6 p.m. To register for free to watch, go to www.powwowpitch.org.

Due to physical distancing measures during COVID-19, individuals wishing to attend Council meetings to observe the proceedings, must pre-register with the Clerk's Office at 705-672-3363 ext. 4136, as seating is limited. Only those individuals registered to attend the Council meeting will be permitted, and face coverings/ masks will be required. Question and Answer Period Procedure

In consideration of the current COVID-19 pandemic and prevailing public health orders limiting large public gatherings of people within indoor public spaces, and requirements for physical distancing between persons, in-person attendance at Council meetings may be limited and/or restricted from time-to-time.

Question and Answer Periods during a regular meeting of Council are an opportunity for members of the Public to submit questions pertaining to an item on the Agenda, or the business of Council.

Members of the public who wish to submit questions to Council at a Regular Council Meeting during a Declared Emergency, may submit in writing or via email to questions@temiskamingshores.ca. The questions received will be read aloud and responded to during the Question and Answer Periods.

Emailed questions will be received until the second Question and Answer Period. Questions received after this time, will not be read aloud at the Meeting. Note: Correspondence sent to the Mayor and Council may be included in a Council agenda/package, and become part of the public record.

Comments or questions submitted via the City of Temiskaming Shores Facebook page, will not be considered, and the moderator of the live-streamed Meeting may remove any and all comments.

NOTICE WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM MAINTENANCE

Please be notified that commencing on or about October 4, 2021, the Environmental Crew of the Public Works Department will be carrying out the maintenance program, flushing and testing of fire hydrants throughout the municipal water distribution systems. The work may cause some discoloration in the water; however, the effect should be minimal. If a coloured water problem is encountered in your water service line, flushing the service by letting the water run for a period of time should cure the problem. If the coloured water persists, please contact the Public Works Department for assistance at 705.647.6220.

Thank you for your co-operation as the Environmental Crew carry out this important maintenance activity.

Butt Out Smoking Fires

Smoking is the #1 cause of fatal home fires in Ontario.

Alcohol is a factor in many smoking related fires.

Install smoke and carbon monoxide alarms on every storey of your home.

Test them every month.

How do I prevent a smoking fire?

- To prevent smoking fires, you must be alert. You will not be alert if you are sleepy, have consumed alcohol, drugs or medicine that makes you drowsy.
- Never smoke in bed.
- If people have been smoking in your home, check behind chair and sofa cushions for cigarette butts before going to bed.
- Use large deep ashtrays that cannot be knocked over.
- Empty ashes into a metal container—not the garbage can—and put it outside.
- Do not extinguish cigarettes in plant pots, which may contain a mixture of peat moss, shredded wood and bark that can easily ignite.
- Encourage smokers to smoke outside.

For more information contact your local fire department.
