“Bun” Eckensviller

Community Hall to be renamed for WWII veteran

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Staff) - A city building will be renamed to honour a resident who served his community and his country.

The New Liskeard Community Memorial Hall will be renamed the Lawrence “Bun” Eckensviller Community Hall.

Eckensviller died December 14, 2021, at the age of 96.

He served with the Canadian navy during the Second World War, escorting convoys of merchant vessels and tankers across the Atlantic.

He was a leader of Royal Canadian Legion Branch 33 in New Liskeard for decades, and an advocate for local efforts to remember all who had served.

In January, Temiskaming Shores resident Kim Campbell asked city council to consider renaming the Whitewood Avenue building that houses Branch 33 as “a wonderful tribute to an amazing man.”

“He served his country during World War II with the Navy with pride. Upon his return home he joined the legion, which has helped our community, through donations of money and time to make it a better place for everyone,” she wrote.

Campbell described Eckensviller as an “outstanding” community member who volunteered his time on many committees. He was a lifetime member of Branch 33 and led the pipe and drum band, which performed “at numerous events put on by the city for decades.”

City council approved the renaming February 1.

SKATING AROUND

The Temiskaming Shores skating oval, located near the Waterfront Pool and Fitness Centre, is proving to be a popular destination for area skaters. Sabrina Wyatt and her daughter, LeeAnne Wyatt, 8, enjoyed a day of skating on Sunday, January 30. (Staff photo by Sue Nielsen)

The ice is back at the Earlton arena

ARMSTRONG TOWNSHIP (Staff) - The Earlton arena ice surface has re-opened after being closed to the public throughout last winter due to COVID restrictions.

The rink's natural ice has been in place since January 31 and Armstrong Township clerk-treasurer Amy Vickery-Menard says that there has been a good response with many skaters coming out every evening after school this week.

At their Wednesday, January

26, council meeting, township council reviewed a plan for additional hours for skating, which could be possible as soon as this weekend, but that will depend on whether temporary staff can be obtained to be present during those extended times.

Vickery-Menard said if the hours change, it will be posted on the township's website or Facebook page. The current hours are “a soft opening.”

The gym is also open to users, and the rink is open (at the time of this writing) from Monday to Thursday between the hours of 3 to 6 p.m. Ice rentals are also available.

The upstairs hall is also available for rentals.

Proof of vaccination is required with a scan of a QR code for all individuals over 12 years of age.

Children aged 12 have an exception for 12 weeks from their twelfth birthday.

Angus demands help for seniors

OTTAWA (Staff/Special) – Timmins-James Bay NDP MP Charlie Angus is calling on the Liberal government to move quickly on a one-time payment for seniors to help them pay for basics like food and rent.

At issue is the fact that senior citizens who were eligible for the Canada Emergency Response Benefit (CERB) because they were working to supplement their income are now facing major clawbacks for having taken CERB, Angus explained in a press release.

This has led to seniors facing a serious crisis, and some are losing their homes, he is warning.

“The government has finally admitted that it was wrong to claw back the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS),” he said.

“They have promised to provide a one-time payment for seniors who have suffered from clawbacks, but this help won’t come until May.”

He states that the government needs to move now to help seniors.

“Seniors deserve better from this government. They were unfairly targeted with clawbacks and this is pushing them to the brink of poverty. It’s absolutely unacceptable for the government to make them wait until May for help. The crisis is now. That’s why we’re asking the minister to get money out the door and into seniors’ pockets as soon as possible,” Angus stated.

He noted that for months he has been responding to seniors who are desperate for help, and the situation is worsening. He pointed out that Statistics Canada has reported that the country’s inflation rate has risen to a 30-year high, and the price of groceries has increased by six per cent, which is the biggest gain in ten years.

“I have heard heartbreaking stories from seniors across the riding. They’re living through an unprecedented global health crisis, they’re already stressed and frustrated, and then the government cut the GIS support they rely on to survive. If that wasn’t bad enough, the cost of necessities like food is getting higher and higher. Seniors need help now more than ever,” he said.

Englehart gives nod to Sharpe Township proposal

ENGLEHART (Staff) - Englehart council has given its nod of approval to property development in Sharpe Township which is located north-west of the town and Charlton.

Council received a letter from the Ontario Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing noting that the ministry has received three formal applications for consent on lands in Sharpe.

A Thunder Bay company has made the applications.

As a nearby municipality, Englehart council was asked if they had any comments about the proposal.

Council noted the proposal is different from the Boreal Forest Medieval Village project which is located west of Charlton on Long Lake.

The ministry stated in its notice that “the severed and retained lots described in the applications are all proposed to be used for resource-based recreational uses. They would also be suitable for residential dwellings.”

The ministry went on to outline that “each of the applications proposes to sever one new lot, for a total of three new lots. Each lot would be approximately eight hectares in size, have 200 metres of frontage on the north-south stretch of May Road, and a depth of 400 metres. A fourth lot would be retained. It would also be approximately eight hectares in size, and is on a corner and so would have 200 metres of frontage on the north-south stretch of May Road and 400 metres of frontage on the east-west stretch of May Road. The subject lands are currently vacant and mostly wooded.”

Councillor Doug Metson expressed the opinion that there is nothing wrong with the applications.

Councillor Jerry Mikovitch also observed that the lots are all “decent sizes.”

What is Celiac Disease?

Celiac disease (CD) is a common disorder that is estimated to affect about one percent of the population. It is a condition in which the absorptive surface of the small intestine is damaged by a substance called gluten. Gluten is a group of proteins present in wheat, rye and barley and their cross bred grains. The damage to the intestine can lead to a variety of symptoms and result in an inability of the body to absorb nutrients such as protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, which are necessary for good health.

Symptoms

Common (typical) symptoms include:

- Abdominal pain
- Malabsorption
- Chronic diarrhea
- Weight loss

Less common (atypical) symptoms include:

- Anemia
- Extreme fatigue
- Liver enzyme abnormalities
- Infertility
- neurological problems
- Osteoporosis
- Oral ulcers
- Constipation
- Dental enamel defects

*Children can present with short stature, irritability and vomiting

Diagnosis

(1). Screening

The IgA-tissue transglutaminase (TTG) antibody is the currently recommended test for screening. You must be on a regular (gluten-containing) diet at the time of testing to make the results valid.

(2). Biopsy

The definitive diagnosis of CD is made by a small intestinal biopsy. The biopsy is performed via endoscopy. Again, it is important that gluten not be removed from the diet before the biopsy is completed as it may impair the confirmation of the diagnosis.

Treatment

At present, there is no permanent cure for CD but it can be effectively treated with a gluten-free diet. Gluten-free diet can be challenging and complicated and a consultation with a registered dietitian with expertise in gluten-free diet is essential. Careful label reading each time when buying products is important.

If you think you may have celiac disease and your primary care provider hasn’t raised the possibility, don’t be afraid to bring it up yourself. You are an important member of your health care team.

EDITORIAL

Dangerous intersection

In about a month's time, cars on two separate occasions collided with freight trains at the train track crossing on Whitewood Avenue, near Jaffray Street in New Liskeard.

Thank goodness both people involved in these serious collisions were not seriously hurt or killed.

It is obvious that there is a problem at that intersection. Whether it is the train warning lights, the lack of protective arms or just the way the intersection is aligned that is putting people in harm's way.

Let's not forget, the employees on the trains are also traumatized when the train collides with vehicles and injuries occur.

And the emergency service providers such as police, fire and ambulance workers are also negatively affected when they have to attend those mishaps.

Perhaps it is time Ontario Northland or the Ministry of Transportation takes a good long look at the conditions at this intersection - before a life is lost.

Train mishaps don't happen as frequently as highway mishaps, so perhaps there is a tendency to view them as not a serious threat.

This would be a mistake because train mishaps often result in serious injuries and even deaths. The common causes of train and car collisions are human error, mechanical failure, speeding trains and reckless drivers.

Trying to beat a train is the worst kind of judgment error anyone can make.

Trains cannot stop on a dime and even if a train engineer is aware of a car at a crossing, they are unable to stop the train in a timely fashion, thus avoiding a collision.

Perhaps a better way of warning drivers when the train is arriving at the Whitewood Avenue intersection is to have higher visible warning lights and gates.

Because why wait for a life to be lost?

Land of the free

Sue Nielsen

There has been a lot of talk lately about freedom. True freedom is spiritual in nature.

It is about what is good for your soul while not affecting anyone else's safety and security.

We live in one of the freest countries in the world and I am grateful.

I wish to tell you I am not wasting one inch of this column talking about the truckers' Freedom Convoy. It just isn't the kind of good energy I welcome into my life.

When people talk about freedom they often mean freedom for them and to heck with the rest of society.

As I stare out the window this first week of February to falling snow, I yearn to sit in my canoe and to be free as a bird.

Most days I long for soft water and hard truths.

Northeastern Ontario is dotted with lakes and rivers and is a paradise for those who love nature and to travel by water.

Is it any wonder the canoe helped to open up the north long before ears heard a train whistle blow circa the late 1800s.

The real story of the canoe belongs to our Indigenous brothers and sisters and will always belong to them, despite the heroics of the Coureur des bois.

One thing about truth and reconciliation is that the truth must be told concerning our lives and what happened in the past and what will happen in the present and future in Canada.

If you are talking to Indigenous people they may have some harsh words to say about freedom and rightly so.

Wearing masks and being vaccinated pales in comparison to the atrocities of the missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls and the mass graves at Indian Residential schools.

If there is one group of people who have lost basic freedoms that we all take for granted it is them.

We must always be wary of "human rights" newly invented by special interest groups.

When I get up in the morning and turn my tap on to pour a glass of water, I know this is a privilege because so many Indigenous Canadians do not have a source of fresh, clean drinking water.

I freely say the treatment of Indigenous people in Canada remains appalling.

The freedom of a democratic society is measured by the extent to which all people are free.

So long as Indigenous people are treated unfairly in this country we will continue to fall short of freedom.

I wonder what goes through the mind of a Canadian World War II veteran when they see the Canadian flag turned upside down?

Lastly, the canoe brings out the best in me - a love for everything natural, beautiful and humane in our world.

And that small Canadian flag on my Scott Canoe is, for me, a source of great pride.

Report tabled on the federal election

GATINEAU (Special) – About 62.5 per cent of registered Canadian voters cast a ballot in last fall's federal election.

And more voters than ever chose to do so early, and by mail.

They're among the findings in the recent report on the 44th general election, which was recently tabled in the House of Commons by Stéphane Perrault, Canada's Chief Electoral Officer.

The report provides an overview of the events that took place during the election period.

Later this year the Chief Electoral Officer will provide Parliament with a report on recommended changes to the Canada Elections Act.

"I would like to recognize and thank the more than 195,000 election workers, returning officers, field liaison officers and other stakeholders who worked in particularly difficult circumstances to ensure that their fellow Canadians could safely exercise their democratic rights to vote and run for office in the 44th general election," said Perrault in a news release.

Among the highlights:

- Despite the challenges of a pandemic election, 2,010 candidates appeared on ballots in the 44th general election.

- 17.2 million Canadians, or 62.5 per cent of registered electors, cast a ballot in the 44th general election. Of those, more than 16 million chose to vote in person – more than 5.8 million at advance polls and 10.2 million on election day.

- The more than 5.8 million electors who voted over the four days of advance polls represent an increase of approximately 21 per cent from the nearly 4.9 million Canadians who voted in advance polls during the previous general election.

- The agency received more than 700,000 special ballots by mail, an increase from the roughly 55,000 received in the 43rd general election in October 2019.

- Elections Canada mailed more than 27 million voter information cards to individuals whose names appeared on the preliminary lists of electors.

- Compared with the 43rd general election, there were three per cent fewer advance polling places and seven per cent fewer election day polling places.

Overall, the reduction of polling places due to restrictions related to the pandemic proved to be manageable; however, in some instances, the large number of polling stations resulted in bottlenecks and lineups.

Ducks Unlimited marks World Wetlands Day

DISTRICT (Staff) —Ducks Unlimited Canada (DUC) is proud of the fact they have surpassed a milestone of one million acres of wetland protection in Ontario.

February 2 marked World Wetlands Day, the adoption of the Convention of Wetlands, which took place in 1971, providing a framework for wetland usage around the world.

Since 1974, DUC has completed more than 5,000 conservation projects in Ontario, while conserving one million acres of natural habitats such as wetlands, grasses and forests. These habitats help make up functioning ecosystems that help nurture birds and wildlife.

Ducks Unlimited is inviting Ontarians to take a stroll in nature. "We're inviting Ontarians to bundle up and enjoy a winter wetland together. There are a million reasons to get outside in a winter landscape," said Lynette Mader, DUC's manager of provincial operations for Ontario.

"Fresh air and special times together, that's what many of us are looking for these days," she said in a release to the media.

DUC has unveiled a new interactive map of 17 public wetlands in Ontario found at ducks.ca/winterwetlands.

The featured wetlands are all conservation projects carried out by DUC on public lands owned by the province of Ontario, the Government of Canada or local Conservation Authorities.

Be heart smart!

The risk factors and symptoms of heart failure

Did you know that approximately 600,000 Canadians live with heart failure? This February, in honour of Heart Month, the Heart and Stroke Foundation is focusing its efforts on raising awareness about this condition. Here's what you should know.

RISK FACTORS

Heart failure is a condition that develops after the heart becomes damaged or weakened. The term doesn't mean the heart has failed or stopped working. Rather, it refers to a heart that works inefficiently and doesn't pump blood as well as it should.

This condition often affects people with high blood pressure or who've had a heart attack. However, several other conditions and lifestyle habits are linked to heart failure, including:

- Heart valve disease
- Myocarditis
- Drug and alcohol abuse
- Obesity
- High cholesterol
- Diabetes

In Greater Sudbury and northern Ontario, we've donated to:

- Food banks in Greater Sudbury
- Sudbury Action Centre for Youth
- Infant Food Bank
- Centre Victoria pour femmes
- Cochrane Food Bank
- Matheson Food Bank
- Temiskaming Hospital Foundation
- CTV Lions Children's Christmas Telethon
- NEO Kids Health Centre

In addition, individuals who are 65 and older have an increased risk of being diagnosed with heart failure because aging can weaken and stiffen the heart.

SYMPTOMS

The most common signs of heart failure include:

- Difficulty breathing, especially when lying down
- Rapid weight gain (two kilograms or more in less than a week)
- Bloating or a feeling of fullness
- Severe fatigue
- Changes in appetite
- Swelling in the abdomen, feet, ankles, legs and lower spine
- Increased urge to urinate overnight

Ontario launches Long-Term Care Homefinder

TORONTO (Special) – As part of its plan to fix long-term care, the Ontario government has launched the new Long-Term Care Homefinder.

In a news release, the province says the new website and search tool provide prospective residents and their families with a one-stop-shop to find and compare long-term care homes across the province, along with other resources to help people make an informed choice when considering long-term care.

“Our government has a plan to fix long-term care and a key part of that plan is strengthening accountability, enforcement, and transparency in the long-term care system,” said long-term care minister Paul Calandra in a statement.

“Our new LTC Homefinder brings together all the information families need to make informed decisions about long-term care so they can choose a home that will best meet the needs of their loved ones.”

Each long-term care home has a profile page with helpful information about waiting lists, staff vaccination rates, amenities, inspection reports, contact information and more.

The new site also provides information that can help people decide if long-term care is the best option for them and, if so, how to choose a home, apply, and move in.

Future phases of the website and search tool will include more information on each home’s profile pages as well as other new features based on public feedback.

The new website can be accessed at ontario.ca/longtermcare.

User testing, underway soon, will inform the second phase of the website, with further updates expected to launch in spring, 2022.

In 2021 Canada set a record for most immigrants in a year

OTTAWA (Staff/Special) - The story of immigration fills many chapters in the history of Canada - including the most recent one.

The Honourable Sean Fraser, Minister of Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship, recently announced that Canada has reached its target and welcomed more than 401,000 new permanent residents in 2021 as part of the 2021-23 Immigration Levels Plan.

Reaching that goal "is a historic moment for our country as we welcome the highest number of newcomers in a century," said Fraser in a release.

"I want to thank all the employees in my department, especially our Operations Sector who made this possible. Canada is built on immigration, and we will continue to safely welcome the immigrants that Canada needs to succeed. I can't wait to see the incredible contributions that our 401,000 new neighbours make in communities across the country."

This number surpasses the previous single year record set in 1913.

The achievement is particularly significant in the face of the pandemic's many challenges. From closed borders to domestic lockdowns, global migration has been upended by COVID-19. In spite of those challenges, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) processed a record half a million applications in 2021. To achieve this, IRCC added resources, utilized new technology and brought more processes online. These changes are all permanent improvements to Canada's immigration system.

The majority of these new permanent residents were already in Canada on temporary status. New programs were launched to engage essential workers, health care professionals, international graduates and French-speaking newcomers. Family reunification is another pillar of the Canadian system, and spouses and children were reunited while enabling more families to sponsor parents and grandparents.

One in three Canadian businesses is owned by an immigrant, and one in four health care workers is a newcomer. Business, labour market experts and economists all agree that immigration creates jobs, spurs innovation and helps address labour shortages.

NOTES

- The number of permanent residents Canada welcomes each year is based on the annual Immigration Levels Plan, which was tabled in Parliament on October 30, 2020.

- In 2019, Canada welcomed more than 341,000 permanent residents. Canada also admitted over 184,500 new permanent residents over the course of 2020.

- Immigration accounts for almost 100 per cent of Canada's labour force growth. Roughly 75 per cent of Canada's population growth comes from immigration, mostly in the economic category. By 2036, immigrants will represent up to 30 per cent of Canada's population, compared with 20.7 per cent in 2011.

- Immigration addresses labour shortages in key sectors such as health care. Immigrants make up 37 per cent of pharmacists, 36 per cent of physicians, 39 per cent of dentists, 23 per cent of registered nurses, and 35 per cent of nurse aides and related occupations.

- The Economic and Fiscal Update proposes new measures to support a robust and resilient recovery, including an $85 million investment to reduce backlogs in Canada's immigration system, speed up the process of citizenship, reunite families, and welcome people who can help address Canada's labour shortages.

Only YOU Can Prevent Cooking Fires

Cooking left unattended is a leading cause of home fires in Ontario.

Install smoke and carbon monoxide alarms on every storey of your home.

Test them every month.

How do I keep myself and my loved ones safe?

- To prevent cooking fires, you must be alert. You will not be alert if you are sleepy, have consumed alcohol, drugs or medicine that makes you drowsy.
- Always stay in the kitchen while cooking. If you must leave, turn off the stove.
- Keep anything that burns—oven mitts, cooking utensils, dish cloths, paper towels and pot holders—a safe distance from the stove.

- Loose-fitting clothes can come into contact with stove burners and catch fire. Wear short sleeves, tight sleeves or roll them up when cooking.

For more information contact your local fire department.

QR CODES IN EFFECT FOR PROOF OF VACCINATION CODES QR EN VIGUEUR POUR LA PREUVE DE VACCINATION

At businesses where proof of vaccination is required, patrons are now required to show their enhanced vaccine certificate with QR code. Businesses are no longer allowed to accept vaccine receipts that do not include QR codes.

Medical exemptions, vaccine trial exemptions and receipts from Indigenous health providers have all been integrated into the enhanced vaccine certificate. All these groups must show the required QR code.

You can download your enhanced vaccine certificate with QR code from Ontario's vaccination portal at covid19.ontariohealth.ca.

If you don't have access to a computer or you need help, you can:

- Call the health unit at 866-747-4305, Ext. 6 or email covidvaccine@timiskaminghu.com.
- Visit your local library. Public libraries including Teck Centennial, Temiskaming Shores, Temagami, Englehart and Larder Lake will assist those needing a printout of their enhanced proof of vaccination with QR code at no cost.

Dans les entreprises où une preuve de vaccination est requise, les clients sont maintenant tenus de présenter leur certificat de vaccin amélioré avec un code QR. Les entreprises ne sont plus autorisées à accepter les reçus de vaccins qui ne comprennent pas de codes QR.

Les exemptions médicales, les exemptions pour les essais de vaccins et les reçus des professionnels de la santé autochtones ont tous été intégrés au certificat de vaccin amélioré. Tous ces groupes sont maintenant requis de présenter leur code QR.

Vous pouvez télécharger votre certificat de vaccination amélioré avec le code QR sur le portail de vaccination de l'Ontario à covid19.ontariohealth.ca.

Si vous n'avez pas accès à un ordinateur ou vous avez besoin de l'aide, vous pouvez :

- Communiquer avec les Services de santé au 866-747-4305, poste 6 ou envoyez un courriel à covidvaccine@timiskaminghu.com.
- Visitez votre bibliothèque municipale locale. Les bibliothèques municipales comprennent la bibliothèque Centenaire de Teck, de Temiskaming Shores, de Temagami, d'Englehart et de Larder Lake. Elles aideront ceux qui ont besoin d'une copie de leur preuve de vaccination améliorée avec un code QR sans frais.
