Enbridge Gas feeds setting up in Cobalt

Darlene Wroe
Speaker Reporter

COBALT - Enbridge Gas will be undertaking maintenance work on a section of exposed natural gas pipeline in the South Wabi Creek waterway west of Haileybury.

"This pipeline serves the communities of Haileybury and Cobalt," said Andrea Stass, Enbridge Gas manager of external communications and media relations in an email interview.

Enbridge has told the City of Temiskaming Shores and the Town of Haileybury that it has a plan to ensure natural gas demand in the two communities will continue to be met during the project.

"As the spring thaw approaches, we have developed a three-stage plan to address potential impacts to the pipeline from water and ice," said Stass.

"Public safety and maintaining customer gas service are our top priorities.

"First, we have implemented temporary safety measures while we execute on a longer-term solution, including working with an engineering consultant and other partners to implement a continuous monitoring program for this section of exposed pipeline."

She said the company's engineering and operations teams "have developed a plan for a permanent solution which we will begin to implement within the coming weeks. This plan involves: tak-

Eating Disorder Awareness

Thoughts, feelings and behaviours related to managing food and weight can begin to interfere with everyday activities. When we focus too much attention on our bodies and our eating, these thoughts can quickly lead to missed opportunities in other parts of our lives.

DID YOU KNOW?

- The most common age of onset is between 14 and 25 years of age, however the disorders are being seen more and more in children as young as 10 years of age;
- It's estimated that 3% of women will be affected by eating disorders in their lifetime;
- In a recent study, 27% of Ontario girls 12-18 years of age were reported to be engaged in severely problematic food and weight behaviour;
- Eating disorders are now the third most common chronic illness in adolescent girls;
- The death rate associated with anorexia nervosa alone is more than 12 times higher than the overall death rate among young women in the general population;
- Recent studies show that 25% of eating disorder cases occur in young boys and men

If the way you eat and think about food interferes with your life and keeps you from enjoying life and moving forward, then that is disordered eating. Take it seriously and talk to someone who can help.

Please feel free to schedule an appointment with our Registered Dietitian (705-569-3244) and/or our Mental Health Worker to learn how to help foster a healthier relationship with food.

SPRING RELAY

The Community Sprint Relays is a free, fun, family-friendly event made up of two-person teams. All racers ski a 200-metre loop course in front of the chalet.

In the Jackrabbit category, the first skier skis the loop once, tags off to their partner who skis the loop, and the team is done.

In the Track Attack and Teens/Adults categories, each skier skis the course twice, but in an alternating relay format (i.e. skier 1 tags skier 2 who tags skier 1 again, and then skier 2 finishes off the event).

The category is based on the age of the youngest skier on each team (e.g., two friends could compete in the Jackrabbit category together if one of the friends is under 10 years of age).

All participants will receive a goody bag and there will also be prizes for the best costumes.

- Registration is from 1- 1:30 p.m. with a start time of 2 p.m.
- Name your two-person team and team up with a friend or family member.
- Create and dress in costumes.
- Have fun with it!

It's free for TNSC members, non-members pay standard trail fees and equipment rental fees apply.

- Mass starts at 11 and 11:20 a.m.
- Distances and start times: one kilometre (km) (nine and under) - 11 a.m. start.

Enbridge Gas feeds setting up in Cobalt

ing the exposed section of pipeline out of service; maintaining customers' gas service with a mobile supply of compressed natural gas which will feed into the local distribution system from another location.

"The final step will be to install a new section of pipeline beneath the required depth of soil cover, connect it to the existing pipeline and return the pipeline back into service. This work is expected to take place through the spring and summer of 2022. This plan will not require an interruption in customers' gas service."

Stass noted that Enbridge is working closely with the communities of Haileybury and Cobalt to coordinate their plan.

COMPRESSED GAS

The project will be taking place on the Enbridge line on the west side of Highway 11, off Mowat Landing Road.

Enbridge Gas will be setting up an alternative site to deliver natural gas to the line through portable compressed gas feeds which will be set up behind the former Cobalt arena.

In her report to Temiskaming Shores city manager Chris Oslund, which was shared with council, city municipal clerk Logan Belanger stated that "trucks operated by Certus (based in Timmins), will be parked outside of the former Cobalt arena, and will supply compressed gas to feed the demands of each community, to ensure there are no interruptions in service. During colder weather there will be three trucks daily, and during warmer weather one truck per day.

"They are currently in the process of gaining TSSA (Technical Standards and Safety Authority) approval. Certus will be providing 24/7 remote monitoring, and Enbridge would be part of the emergency response. Enbridge ensured the safety and security of the system (robust locks on the trucks, etc.); however, (we) will be investigating temporary fencing and/or security."

EDITORIAL

Gas price pressures

The cost of living in Canada and in this region is upward trending as gas and food prices soar in 2022.

The high gas prices we are seeing in Canada are putting pressure on individuals, businesses and families in terms of their budgets.

People are struggling to put enough gas in their vehicles to get to work in the north where driving is essential between rural regions.

Do high gas prices mean people will have to cut back on their food budgets?

In January, Statistics Canada reported grocery prices had risen by 5.7 per cent, the biggest rate since 2011.

High gas prices means higher shipping costs, which businesses have no choice but to pass onto the consumer.

For those living on fixed incomes, especially our seniors, that means choosing between heat, food or rent.

A large portion of the price paid for gas goes to the provincial governments in taxes. In Alberta we see premier Jason Kenney removing the gas tax to aid consumers in that province.

Will Doug Ford now take a page out of the Kenney book and give Ontario consumers a break from gas taxes?

Ontarians may be busy rejigging their household budgets to forgo leisure activities and travel as a result of high gas prices and this is not good for the economy overall.

This may be a tough proposition as many families in the region wish to head out to parts unknown during the March break.

Pressure on discretionary spending has a ripple effect on restaurants, tourist businesses and on and on.

Lower income families were struggling before gas prices went up, just imagine how they are managing now.

Consumers have little recourse but to find ways to limit travel by car.

Covidian Times

Sue Nielsen

Once in a few centuries there is a watershed event on planet earth that changes the course of human history.

Without a doubt the COVID-19 pandemic is just such an event.

We've been living in Covidian Times for two years beginning in March of 2020.

Covidian Times almost sounds like the name of a newspaper, doesn't it, or the name of an historical era or a bad horror movie? Ha, ha.

My good friend, Dr. Maryann Fraboni, coined the term Covidian Times during a conversation we were having.

She has a tremendous sense of humour.

An industrial-organizational psychologist by trade and highly published, I love her insights. She said it sounds like an "archeological era" and maybe a thousand years from now, the pandemic will be recalled as the Covidian Times.

Will the Covidian Times, the Covidian Age, indicate we have acquired new skills when it comes to health and infectious diseases?

Much like the advancements of the Stone Age, the Bronze Age and the Iron Age, will the Covidian Age be marked by mankind's advancements with technology by way of Zoom meetings, online learning, social distancing, working in a bubble and the like?

We know that at the time of this column there have been 113 million cases of infections worldwide that resulted in 2.5 million deaths.

Tens of millions of people who had worked with colleagues in bricks and mortar buildings moved to working remotely from home.

Schools of all levels moved to online learning formats that placed enormous pressures on students, families and teachers themselves.

Perhaps the biggest learning curve of the post Covidian Times will be in the field of mental health.

Did we all of a sudden realize how important our mental health is to us and to our children during the pandemic?

And certainly I felt, pre-pandemic, that mental health was not being given the attention it deserved in our schools, workplaces and homes.

The World Health Organization deems the current mental health crisis as the leading cause of disability worldwide.

According to Statistics Canada, one in four Canadians screened positive for stress, anxiety and depression during the pandemic.

Covidian Times amplified the critical shortage of mental health providers in Northern Ontario while the need for mental health services surged.

I would like to thank all the mental health services providers here in our region for their compassionate care.

Let us remember to live in ways that uplift, empower and bring people together. And that we fully understand there is no health without mental health.

And, like Fraboni, above all else keep your sense of humour!

HOG LINE REPORT

With Angus McStone

Happy St. Patrick's Day from the Haileybury Curling Club (HCC)!

All the best of the luck of the Irish to you, as we head towards the one day where the whole world, except for maybe one or two, can claim Ireland as their home.

Traditionally, the HCC would be celebrating with the Blarney Spiel, but the uncertainty of where things were headed in the health sector suggested that perhaps now was not the time. One thing is for sure - 2023 ought to be a Blarney Blast!

And to all you out there - as you slide down the banister of life, may the slivers all be pointed down.

CLUB EVENTS

The lights were out last week and into this week as several teams were unable to ice enough members to play their draw games.

Hopefully things will settle, with the goal of a return to play with the afternoon open draw on March 22.

The aim will be to return to the game that week, perhaps complete a Friday/Saturday in-house spiel on the weekend, then follow up with an extra week of ice to finish off the draws.

Fingers crossed, please.

Here are a few haunting dreams from the dark, cold arena: Tuesday afternoon Open Curling echoes of a stone being delivered and an exclamation at the top of ones' lungs of "NO HANDLE."

Wednesday Night men's draw game, lots in play above the house, no way to the rings save an unforeseen triple wick double raise and roll, which is called by the automatic "Plan B" chorus.

Thursday afternoon Open Curling with the first stone of the first end coming to rest just biting the back of the 12, and a bellow from the house that "we better take this out."

And just to finish things off, for Mixed night, picture everyone at their table engaged in animated discussions and then at 7:29 p.m. all heads lower and no one wants to make "the move."

Hope all remembered to turn clocks ahead an hour last weekend. And look for the Spring Equinox this Sunday, which coincides with the first day of Spring. Just don't look outside when you are contemplating that. There appears to be a way to go just yet.

WHAT ARE THE POSSIBLE
 SIDE EFFECTS OF THE COVID-19
 VACCINE FOR CHILDREN?

Like any other vaccine or medication, there are potential side effects of the COVID-19 vaccine, although not everyone experiences them to the same degree. Individuals who experience side effects mostly reported that they are mild and resolve within the first two days after vaccination.

Comme tous les autres vaccins ou médicaments, les vaccins contre la COVID-19 peuvent avoir des effets secondaires, bien que leur intensité varie d’une personne à l’autre. Les personnes qui en éprouvent déclarent le plus souvent qu’ils sont légers et se manifestent dans les deux jours qui suivent la vaccination.

The most common side effects include:

- pain at the injection site
- tiredness
- headache
- muscle and joint pain
- chills
- mild fever

QUELS SONT LES EFFETS SECONDAIRES

 CONTRE LA COVID-19?

Les effets secondaires les plus courants sont les suivants :

- Douleur au site d’injection
- Fatigue
- Maux de tête
- Douleurs musculaires et articulaires
- Frissons
- Fièvre légère

Side effects can be a sign that your child’s body is working to develop their immunity. With ongoing monitoring of the safety and effectiveness of the COVID-19 vaccines, serious side effects are extremely rare. Vaccination is still highly recommended as the benefits of vaccination outweigh the potential risks. Learn more at <https://covid-19.ontario.ca/covid-19-vaccines-children-and-youth>

FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

In most cases, the best thing to do in a home fire is to get everyone out of the home immediately and call the fire department from outside:

- Make sure working smoke alarms are installed on every storey of the home and outside all sleeping areas.
- Everyone in the home should practice a home fire escape plan so everyone knows what to do BEFORE a fire occurs.

Many people who decide to purchase a fire extinguisher might not know how or when to use them.

Fire extinguishers should be used only by people who have been trained to use them. People are encouraged to contact their local fire department if they would like fire extinguisher training or have any questions.

The following tips can help people who are thinking about buying a fire extinguisher for their home:

- Consider purchasing a fire extinguisher that has an ABC rating. This type can be used for most types of fires.
- Choose a fire extinguisher that has the logo of an independent, accredited product safety testing agency such as ULC.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions regarding where the extinguisher should be placed in the home.
- Inspect the fire extinguisher once a month and have it serviced by a certified technician every year.
- Fire extinguishers should be used only on small, contained fires. Never let the fire get between you and the exit.

To operate a fire extinguisher, remember the acronym PASS:

- Pull the pin;
- Aim the nozzle at the base of the fire;
- Squeeze the trigger;
- Sweep the extinguisher from side to side until the extinguisher is empty.
- Know when to go. If the fire does not go out after using one fire extinguisher, back out of the area, close the door if possible, and safely get outside and call 9-1-1.
- Remember that many stovetop fires can be safely extinguished without the use of a fire extinguisher. If a pot on the stove starts on fire, slide a lid over the pot to smother the flames and turn off the stove. Leave the pot in place until it has cooled completely.
