WINDY DAY

High winds on June 15 downed a large oak tree on Armstrong Street in New Liskeard, just past the traffic lights at the top of the Wabi River Bridge. The felled tree narrowly missed a nearby home and fortunately did not land on any passing cars. No one was hurt in the incident and the City of Temiskaming Shores public works crew arrived quickly on the scene to clear the tree debris from the streetscape. (Staff photo by Sue Nielsen)

Museum offering a glimpse of royalty, on and off the ice

TEMISKAMING SHORES – Visitors to the Little Claybelt Homesteaders Museum this summer can learn a little about hockey and Her Highness.

The history of the New Liskeard Cubs and a local take on the Queen's Platinum Jubilee are two of the special exhibits at the New Liskeard museum.

It's the museum's first regular season since 2019.

It opens June 25 with an opportunity to meet members of the Cubs, past and present.

The meet-and-greet, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., will officially open a new exhibit about the hockey club.

More than 1,000 teenagers have played for the team since its founding in 1953.

The exhibit was to have been the centrepiece of the museum's 2020 season, but COVID-19 put those plans on ice.

As attractions reopen, visitors can now see team sweaters, trophies, photos, scrapbooks and other club memorabilia drawn from the collection of Rolly and Lois Forget.

Also on display are photos and memorabilia from other hockey teams in the area dating back to the early 1900s.

After perusing the Cubs' display, visitors can move on to smaller exhibitions.

Two of the museum's smaller galleries are dedi-

A bake sale at OK Tire in New Liskeard was well received by passersby who got plates filled with varieties of cookies and other baked goods. The fundraiser event for Zack's Crib shelter was one of two activities carried out by students of École secondaire catholique Sainte-Marie and École catholique St-Michel on June 11. Grade 8 student Julianne Breault is pictured here filling a plate with baked goods for an appreciative customer. QUEEN'S JUBILEE

And for this year only there's an exhibition inspired by the Platinum Jubilee of Queen Elizabeth II.

In addition to a collection of publications featuring the Queen, there's a display case of china on loan from area residents that commemorate milestones in the lives of the royal family.

A focal point of the exhibit, which is staged with support from the federal government, is a portrait of the Queen and Prince Philip, painted in 1959 by Stan Logan of Harris Township.

The museum's gift shop will also be open. Among its offerings are local histories and memoirs.

The museum itself has compiled nine volumes of Claybelt Chronicles, featuring interviews with area seniors who remember the region's earlier era.

FedNor making tourism investments

DISTRICT (Special/Staff) – Several tourism enterprises in the Temiskaming and Temagami areas have received some FedNor help to upgrade and expand.

"We will support Canada's tourism sector as it recovers from the historic disruption COVID-19 presented," said Patty Hajdu, federal minister of Indigenous Services and the minister responsible for FedNor.

The financial assistance, announced in a news release earlier this month, comes from the Tourism Relief Fund.

The fund was launched in July 2021 to help tourism enterprises adapt their operations to meet public health requirements,

EDITORIAL

Jubilation

Seven decades or 70 years is a long time to be the British Monarch.

Her Royal Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, celebrated her platinum jubilee anniversary in a grand weekend of events earlier this month. At 96 years of age, she is the first British monarch to have reigned for so long and with such integrity and class.

There may be a groundswell of public opinion in this modern day about the relevance of the monarchy.

But many Canadians think of her fondly and with great respect.

We know a few members of the royal family have had their fair share of controversy over the years, but the Queen has remained steadfast in her duties and values.

In these changing times when technology rules the way people communicate, the Queen has adapted well to social media and this is a tremendous attribute about her.

Let us remember Queen Elizabeth served in uniform as a driver during the London Blitz in World War II, before she ascended the throne after her father, King George VI, passed away.

And when her husband, Prince Phillip, passed away last year, perhaps the Queen took that loss hard and is looking a bit frailer these days.

Her declining health is cause for concern.

She has held the bar high for those world leaders across the globe that aspire to serve the people of their countries.

Let all the recent elected officials and those municipal hopefuls take some lessons in leadership from the Queen's reign.

That it is not about self, it is about others who matter and that leadership is about values and integrity.

The Queen has served for seven decades with class, dignity, loyalty and selfless dedication.

Canadians can be extremely proud of Queen Elizabeth.

God Bless the Queen!

Do what you love

Sue
Nielsen

There's an old saying, you write about what you love and you photograph the things you value the most.

In my years and years of canoeing and taking photographs, the shoreline and the wildlife of Bass Lake have certainly been my favourite subjects and, of course, my family.

We literally grew up at Bass Lake as kids when our parents took us camping every summer.

Oftentimes we would rent one of the older white cabins that have been replaced with the newer Bunkies.

The old cabins had small potbellied wood stoves in them. My mother used to cook meals on that stove but also fired it up to keep us warm on cool days.

I recall fondly the smell of the wood stove as I peeked out from under my warm blankets in the early morning hours. Thousands of images later, Bass Lake and Wild Temiskaming are still my most inspirational subjects.

Whether it is loons, ducks, eagles, spawning fish, turtles, frogs, butterflies, and countless songbirds, it is one of the most beautiful places in this region.

My deep love for canoeing began in and around 2005 when I moved back home to Cobalt.

My mother was living on her own and it was not going well, so to keep her out of a long term care home, I moved back into her home.

The arrangement worked for both of us and we got along very well.

My affection for the canoe deepened after my mother passed away and my daughter went off to explore the world.

I filled up my well of grief and loneliness with canoe outings.

I frequented the lake, the place where my mother had taken us as children. She loved the lake.

I feel a deep connection to her at the lake.

I spent hours on the water paddling around the shoreline dealing with my grief and learning to be present in the moment.

It's hard to be affected by the stresses of the world when you are meditatively paddling along listening to birdsong.

For this wild woman it is always about healthy, natural, spiritual living on my own terms in my own way.

My love of the water and land helped me to develop a conservationist mindset and when I see clear cutting, garbage in the backcountry and yahoos making a mess of shorelines, I know there is a better way.

Please do not wish and hope for someone to give your life to you.

Do not wait to be loved, love yourself and love every single, messy, broken piece of life.

I have slowly learned to slam the door shut on drama, abuse, and perfectionism as I block toxicity from my life.

For the love of life, please take a second and remind yourself of how absolutely wonderful and brilliant this world really is.

Hyperthyroid and Hypothyroid Disorder Awareness

According to the Thyroid Foundation of Canada, 1 in 10 Canadians suffer from a thyroid condition of one type or another. And as many as 50% of those are undiagnosed.

Thyroid Disease is a Family Affair

The two most common types of thyroid disease are:

- Hypothyroidism (underactive thyroid)
- Hyperthyroidism (overactive thyroid)

Clinical features of hypothyroidism may include:

poor appetite; intolerance to cold; dry, coarse skin; brittle hair; fatigue; constipation; muscle weakness; and poor memory retention. Sometimes the voice becomes croaky and hoarse. Examination may reveal dry, scaly, cold, pale skin; a thickening of the skin and underlying tissues; very slow reflexes; and a slow heart rate.

Clinical features of hyperthyroidism may include:

weight loss, nervousness, irritability, intolerance to hot weather, excessive sweating, shakiness, and muscle weakness. Other signs include a rapid pulse, loss of body fat and muscle bulk, thyroid enlargement (goitre), fine tremors of the fingers and hot, moist, velvety skin.

Thyroid disorders for the most part are treatable; however, untreated thyroid disease can produce serious results in other parts of the body.

Each person's experience of thyroid illness will be different depending on a number of factors; a patient will not necessarily have all (or even any) of the above symptoms; some patients have the symptoms and no thyroid disease, perhaps due to other causes. A primary care provider should be consulted if a thyroid disorder is suspected. Early diagnosis and treatment are crucial.

Earlier this year the museum released its fourth volume of Claybelt Memories, which are family memoirs and stories recorded by other organizations, such as Women's Institute branches.

The museum is also planning to expand by constructing an outdoor exhibit space to both protect and display some of its larger artifacts.

They include the first seed drill used in the area, which was donated by the Peters family, as well as two sleighs donated by the Peters and Bumstead families.

The museum is open Tuesdays through Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., until the end of August. It'll open in the off-season by appointment only.

Admission is free, and donations are welcome.

To minimize the risk of fire and burn injury, the fire service recommends the following cottage fire safety tips:

Install smoke alarms on every storey and outside all sleeping areas. It's the law for all Ontario homes, cottages, cabins and seasonal homes to have working smoke alarms on every storey and outside all sleeping areas.

- Test smoke alarms at least monthly or each time you return to the cottage. Pack a new smoke alarm and extra smoke alarm batteries in case they need replacement.
- Install and ensure carbon monoxide alarms in your cottage if it has a fuel-burning appliance.
- Develop and practice a home fire escape plan to ensure everyone knows what to do if the smoke alarm sounds.
- Know the telephone number for the local fire department and your cottage's emergency sign number, in case of emergency.
- Clean barbecues before using them. Keep an eye on lit barbecues and ensure all combustibles, as well as children and pets are kept well away from them. Fires can happen when barbecues are left unattended.
- Keep barbecue lighters and matches out of sight and reach of children.
- Remember to bring a flashlight with extra batteries.
- Check heating appliances and chimneys before using them.
- Check with your local fire department, municipality, or Ministry of Natural Resources to determine whether open air burning is permitted before having a campfire or burning brush. If open burning is allowed, fires should be built on bare soil or on exposed rock. Remove leaves and twigs from around the fire to keep it from spreading. Always keep a bucket of water, sand, or even a shovel close by and supervise the fire at all times.
- If you must smoke, do so outside. Keep a large can with water nearby so cigarette butts can be safely discarded. If you drink, do so responsibly. Tobacco use and excessive alcohol consumption are contributing factors in many fires and can lead to serious injuries.
- Burn candles in sturdy candleholders that will not tip and are covered with a glass shade. When you go out, blow out!

Why are so many people still getting COVID-19 even after three doses of the vaccine? Are the vaccines working?

Pourquoi tant de gens contractent-ils encore la COVID-19 même après trois doses du vaccin? Les vaccins sont-ils efficaces?

You can still get sick with COVID-19 after getting vaccinated, especially due to the contagiousness of the Omicron variant. If you do catch COVID, the symptoms are usually much milder. Vaccination does a tremendous job preventing the most serious outcomes of hospitalization, ICU admission, and death. Also, the COVID vaccines look like they work very well in preventing long-COVID symptoms.

COVID-19 vaccines are safe and effective. Millions of people have received COVID-19 vaccinations over the past year. These people have been provided with the best protection available against COVID. It continues to be essential to protect ourselves and people who are most vulnerable, like anyone who is pregnant, young children who can't yet be vaccinated, immunocompromised people, and seniors.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to your healthcare provider, pharmacist, or call the health unit with any questions.

Vous pouvez toujours contracter la COVID-19 après avoir été vacciné, en raison de la transmission très contagieuse du variant Omicron. Si vous contracté COVID, les symptômes sont généralement beaucoup plus légers. La vaccination fait un travail formidable à prévenir les conséquences plus graves telles que l'hospitalisation, l'admission en soins intensifs et la mort. Également, les vaccins contre la COVID semblent très efficaces à prévenir les symptômes du long-COVID.

Les vaccins contre la COVID-19 sont sécuritaires et efficaces. Des millions de personnes ont reçu des vaccins contre la COVID-19 au cours de la dernière année. Ces personnes ont reçu la meilleure protection disponible contre la COVID. Il continue d'être essentiel de nous protéger et de protéger les personnes les plus vulnérables, comme toute personne enceinte, les jeunes enfants qui ne peuvent pas encore être vaccinés, les personnes immunosupprimées et les personnes âgées.

N'hésitez pas à communiquer avec votre professionnel de la santé, votre pharmacien ou les Services de santé du Timiskaming pour toute question.
