

Couple hopes oak tree idea will take root

Darlene Wroe
Speaker Reporter

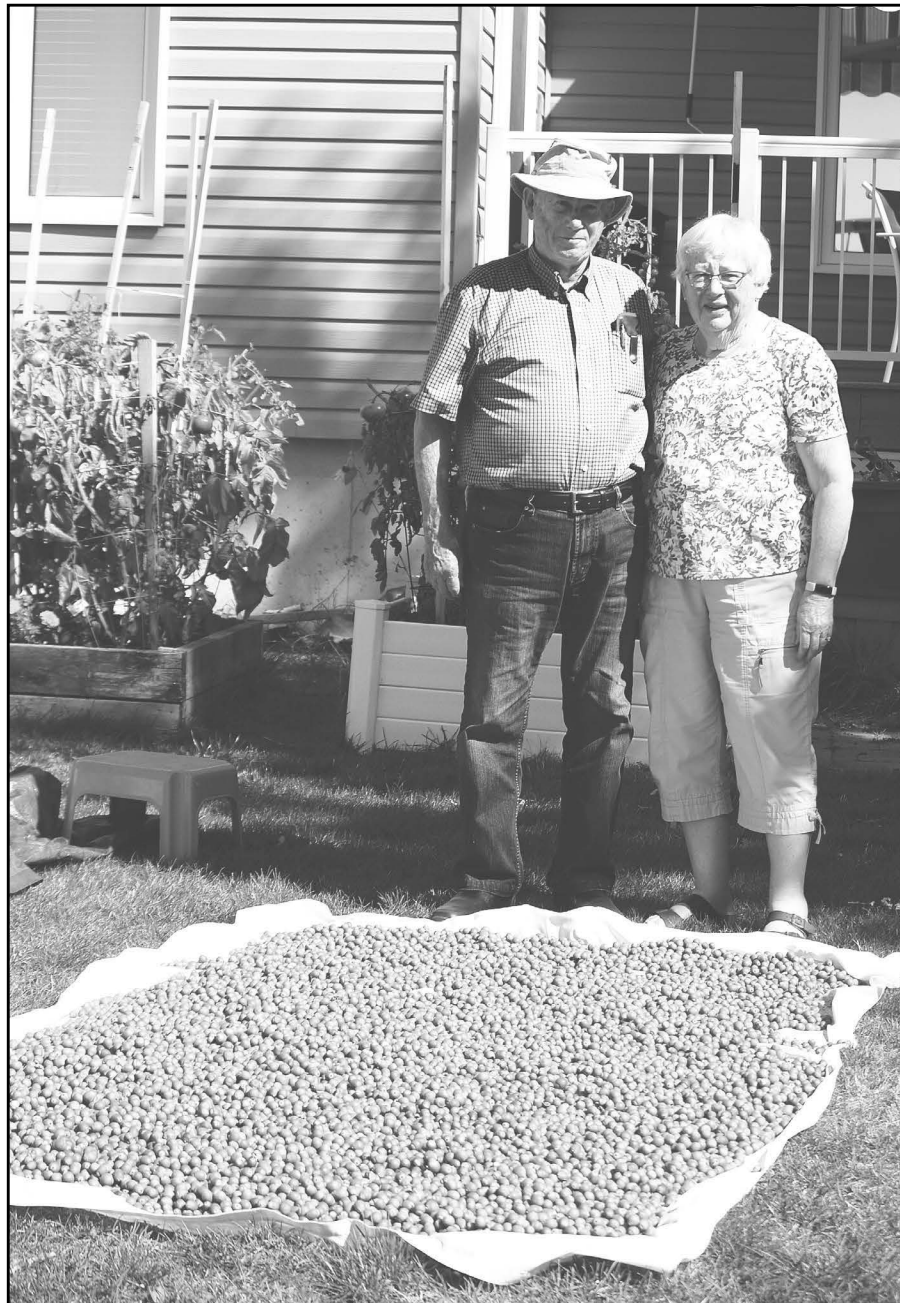

TEMISKAMING SHORES - Ron and Anne Bailey are happy with the success of their project so far, which is to ensure the future of the white oak tree in the area.

By September 19 they had distributed 29,000 hand-sorted acorns in packages of 25 to area schools with the hope that students will plant them. It will take about 40 years for the trees to mature and they could live up to 600 years, says Mr. Bailey.

The New Liskeard couple accumulated the acorns from the Murray Street area of New Liskeard where they were originally planted by Rebecca Beavis around 1891 when she came to New Liskeard from England as one of the area's first pioneers. Bailey related that when she arrived, she saw that there were no oak trees in the area and, on a return trip to England, she collected some acorns and brought them back. Today, there are several oak trees from that original collection which Beavis planted, mainly in the Wabi River area but also in other places around New Liskeard.

Now, over a century later, the Baileys are observing that the trees are gradually being cut down, and they would like to get area students involved in properly planting acorns so that a new generation will be established.

The couple was recently on vacation in the Niagara Falls area, Bailey related, and were talking to someone in that area who collects acorns to sell.

Ron and Anne Bailey are pictured here with some of the 29,000 acorns they have distributed to area schools so that students can plant them and ensure the future of white oak trees in the area. (Staff photo by Darlene Wroe)

"The idea germinated. I really deplore the loss of these majestic trees," he said. "I thought, 'what an opportunity.'"

The couple is hoping the schools will approve the project and get the students to help spread the acorns throughout the area. With the changing climate, they might even now grow as far north as Englehart, Mrs. Bailey suggested.

Mr. Bailey explained that to plant an oak tree, you place an acorn "about an inch deep and hopefully a squirrel won't find it."

"It can be planted in a milk carton if you want to get all carried away. The best thing is to dig a hole about a foot deep and put some really good soil in it." A good garden-type soil would work, he said. Then, "plant the acorn with the pointy end down."

Hopefully, each student will be receiving a baggie with 25 acorns and where they end up will be determined by the students and their families.

The couple have been checking the acorns to make sure they are whole and not cracked and placing them in small baggies for distribution. They considered using biodegradable baggies for the project, but the cost was prohibitive. They are encouraging the students to save the plastic baggies for reuse.

Schools from throughout the district, from Englehart to Cobalt, now have acorns to plant this fall, and in 40 years a new generation of white oak could be part of a second stage of the area's history.

The Baileys' daughter, Jennifer Bailey, a science teacher at Timiskaming District Secondary School, has also been assisting in getting the project to take root in the area.

Upwards of 70 people stood in a light rain as members of the Legion placed a wreath and poppies to honour the Queen's passing. ## EDITORIAL

Enduring democracy

As Queen Elizabeth was laid to rest this week it might be a time to reflect on the importance of democracy.

The Queen was a stalwart of democracy as the head of state of over 50 democratically run Commonwealth countries.

Democracy's core principles are steadily declining around the world as fragile governments and endemic corruption take place.

The most dramatic example of this was the storming of the United States Capital in Washington, D.C. in January of 2021.

The troubling issues in the non-democratic movement include white supremacist ideologies, conspiracy theories and climate change denial.

With democracy under attack in the Ukraine from the Russian invasion, it shows us how fortunate we are to live in a democratic country like Canada.

The common good is to be protected as the most basic of human rights, work, housing, freedom and healthcare are threatened from anti-democratic factions.

People tend to live better lives under democratic governments.

Many of us will recall the Queen's moving message to people during the pandemic about protecting ordinary relationships and a concern for the common good that she most certainly represented in her 70 years on the throne.

Support for the ill and suffering, from health care professionals and through person-to-person interactions during the pandemic, was admirable in this country and region.

We looked out for one another.

We are at an important point in the history of the world, but also in the history of human freedom.

As the war in the Ukraine continues to play out, let us remember, democracy defined by kindness and human rights for all will ensure the Queen's legacy continues.

And what a legacy she has left us with, passed on to her son, King Charles III.

Inclusivity

My grandmother, Orpha Church Smith, lived to be 101.

When grandma was 85 she went to live in a long-term care home in Haileybury.

Grandma was a seamstress for most of her life and long hours sewing in poor light diminished her eyesight.

Essentially, she could no longer live independently in her home at 7 Helen Street in Cobalt.

At first, grandma was hesitant and confused about her move to the nursing home.

She wanted to stay in her own home where she birthed six of her eight children.

But it was decided by her children that she would move to the nursing home.

And for 15 years grandma thrived and loved life in her new home.

There were certain factors that lent themselves to grandma's longevity. The weekly visits from my mother and aunt Eileen, the chocolate ice cream they snuck in to her, the compassionate caring staff and several friends grandma knew in the home from Cobalt, which gave her an important sense of community.

Having a sense of community is hugely important to anyone, especially seniors.

Taking older adults from familiar surroundings and placing them in facilities miles away from their homes can be a death sentence.

And it is inhumane.

But here in this part of the province, we find ourselves dealing with a government that would ship our seniors up to 150 kilometres (or further) away from their communities.

Beginning on November 20, hospitals will be required to bill patients who have been discharged by their doctors or refuse to be moved to a nursing home not of their choice, a daily fee of $400.

Why impose such a horrendous policy on the people who built this province?

I understand hospitals are struggling for available beds so let the province invest our money into more hospitals and long-term care homes.

Maybe hospitals would not have to fundraise for basic needs if they had more government resources.

Sue Nielsen

Do you think a frail senior being moved miles away from family and friends will be happy - or survive?

Is that the plan of the current government, to kill off the old so they won't have to deal with them?

In this province, we must create health care policies to include everyone. Inclusivity is what we must have for those who came before and lit the torch for others.

Do not discard the folks who gave their all. Invite them to become mentors to feel their lives and contributions matter.

We must not throw away people who worked hard to develop the north, but instead create bigger circles of inclusion.

No one should be left behind or be pushed to do something against their will.

Northern ag returning to Royal

STURGEON FALLS (Special/Staff) – Northern Ontario will be back later this year at what’s billed as the world’s largest indoor agricultural fair and equestrian show.

After moving online in 2020 and 2021, the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair is to resume in person in Toronto for ten days in November.

Returning too will be the Northern Ontario Agri-Food Pavilion.

It will house up to 55 agri-food producers and organizations from across the region, introducing their wares to an estimated 300,000 fairgoers.

FedNor has announced $247,321 to support the Northern Ontario pavilion. That brings total federal support for the 2022 event to just under $672,000.

“Northern Ontario’s agri-food sector is a key pillar of growth for our region’s economy and residents,” said Patty Hajdu, minister responsible for FedNor, in an announcement of the funding.

The latest funding will help local growers and producers “showcase their unique products and expand their markets,” she said.

The Northern Ontario pavilion typically includes a couple of producers from Temiskaming. Local 4-H members often make a trip to the Royal to compete, and Thornloe Cheese has also scored wins in dairy product competitions.

FedNor has been participating in the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair since 2000.

Its funding is being provided through the Regional Economic Growth through Innovation program, enabling Economic Partners Sudbury East– West Nipissing Inc., a Community Futures Development Corporation, to support Northern Ontario’s presence at the Royal.

The Royal runs November 4 through 13 at Exhibition Place. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the first Royal in 1922.

City sets park rules

Diane Johnston
Speaker Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES – City parks are officially closed between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m.

Closure hours are included in a new Temiskaming Shores bylaw approved September 6 that governs general park use.

It covers all designated public parkland and associated parking areas in the municipality.

The city did have a bylaw prohibiting overnight parking, but it now has the authority to tell the public that overnight stays are also not permitted, explained recreation director Matt Bahm.

Anyone found in the parks between those hours without city approval will be considered to be trespassing. (Bucke Park campground is exempt.)

The bylaw also prohibits the removal, damaging, or defacing of items within parks, including trees, benches and signs, bridges and fencing.

Anyone suspected of having violated the bylaw may be ordered off all city parkland for a period of 24 hours.

Quilt of Valour presented to military veteran

Darlene Wroe
Speaker Reporter

COBALT - A 40-year military veteran recently received a quilt from the Quilts of Valour program.

Jean Gauthier of Fabre, Quebec, who does volunteer work at the Bunker Military Museum in Cobalt, and also is the director of La Maison du Frère-Moffet in Ville-Marie, was presented with a quilt by local presenter Marg Harrison of Cobalt August 25.

The quilt was constructed by the late Bev Maille.

Gauthier retired from the military in 2016 with the rank of Master Warrant Officer.

Gauthier outlined in a telephone interview that his first posting was in Kingston, Ontario, and then he spent just under three years in Petawawa with the special service force. He then returned to Kingston for seven years, and for six of those years he was an electronics instructor. In 1989 he left for Germany where he spent five years in charge of telecommunications at an airport. From 2008 to 2012 he was with an AWACS (Airborne Warning and Control System Aircraft) which is a 727 airliner with a six-ton radar system on the roof. During that time he also was in Afghanistan.

Gauthier returned to Canada and spent ten years working in the underground complex in North Bay. He was in Ottawa and Gatineau for the last four years of his service, and worked for the North Warning System. He explained that Canada has 36 radars “watching for approaching bombers or missiles from Russia. While in North Bay, the ten years I was there, we were on the receiving end of all the information those radars provided. When I went to Gatineau I was in charge of the quality control, watching over the contractor that did the maintenance for those radars.”

Gauthier’s children Jean-Daniel and Marie-Eve Gauthier were surprise guests at the event which was hosted at Harrison’s home in Cobalt.

The Quilts of Valour program is a Canada-wide initiative to provide comfort to Canadian Armed Forces veterans and Harrison is a local presenter.

THE BIG FIRE OF 1922

By Hartley Houston

October the 4th 1922

Beautiful fall weather, that's nothing new
Farmers in shirt sleeves, cleaning their land
Good time to burn, stump that's on hand

About two o'clock the wind started to blow
Fire that smoldered all started to glow
Whirlwinds would start spreading the sparks
Soon the air was full of burning bark

Burning bark in a hay stack didn't take long
Then the house and the barns were soon gone
Pick up the children and that was no fun
Grab a few clothes and start to run

Kids were at school, all miles from home
Teachers were great, but there was no phone
Most kids had to stay in the school overnight
Parents worried it was a terrible night

Towns on fire, every house gone
Charlton and Thornloe burned, didn't take long
Fire wind jumped over river and hill
Burned some, left some, nothing was still

Eyes were burning, the air full of smoke
Oxygen gone, that made everyone choke
Families died in cellars, whole families gone
Hoped they were safe, it didn't take long

Haileybury started to burn about four o'clock
It raced forward to block
Go to the Lake, the only safe place
With a small family, a terrible race.

Next morning look for family and friends
What a relief to find them again
A cold day and snow, no clothes to wear
People to the rescue, all seemed to care.

Relief soon started to come by train
Food and clothes, people got warm again
Stay at a friend, whose house didn't burn
Now people with needs at every turn

Soon only street cars came in by train
A place to stay and it kept out the rain
Nails, roofing and lumber soon was on hand
A new house by winter would really be grand

Hard to believe that was 75 years ago
Was a disaster but helped the country grow
Towns were rebuilt, farms easy to clear
Pioneers that lives thru it, deserve a big cheer

Pilot project helps close digital divide

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Special/Staff) – Affordability, availability and assistance are preventing some people in Temiskaming from crossing the digital divide.

But a two-year project has helped bridge the online information and communications gap by providing devices and internet access to assist an estimated 750-plus residents.

Closing the Digital Divide, which is now wrapping up, grew out of local discussions in the early days of the pandemic on how to ease disparities in health and well-being.

Those gaps became even more evident as in-person services closed and education, health services, work, applications for financial support, and even social exchanges moved online.

The project was launched in October 2020 as one way to address the inequity between those who have access to information and communications technology, and those who don't.

The pilot project provided about 400 people with devices – laptops, tablets and smart-phones – and/or data packages.

Taking into account their household members, project coordinators estimate that more than 750 people benefited.

The project was launched with a target clientele in mind – older adults and those in financial hardship.

In the end, 83 per cent of the individuals participating in the project earned $25,000 or less. Forty-seven per cent of participants were aged 50 and older.

In a media release, the Temiskaming Health Unit said several factors leave some people in the district on the wrong side of the digital divide.

An evaluation of the project identified as barriers the high cost of technology and online access, limited internet connectivity in rural areas, and the need for better digital literacy.

“The top two facilitators to digital inclusion beyond the duration of the project were affordable quality internet services at home and public places with free Wi-Fi,” it concluded.

SUPPORT

The first phase of the project was funded by $120,000 from the United Way and Temiskaming's social services administration board.

More than $200,000 was subsequently provided.

Supporters included The Temiskaming Foundation, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing's Social Services Relief Fund, the Canadian Mental Health Association, the health unit and Telus.

The second infusion of funding enabled the extension of the program and the hiring of staff to continue work on the issue, said Lorna Desmarais, public health promoter with the health unit, in an email.

“While the COVID-19 pandemic exposed many issues in our communities, it also opened the door to collaboration across organizations and across sectors,” said Kerry Schubert-Mackey, the health unit's director of strategic services and health promotion, in the release.

“The creativity and commitment of project partners are what made this project possible.”

The project's evaluation report can be found at www.temiskaminghu.com/90490/Community-Supports#DigitalDivide.

Protect Against the Flu

Getting a flu vaccine is more important than ever this year to protect yourself, your family, and your community from flu.

What is the Difference between the Flu and COVID-19?

Influenza (Flu) and COVID are both contagious respiratory illnesses, but they are caused by different viruses. COVID is caused by infection with a coronavirus and flu is caused by infection with influenza viruses. From what is known, COVID spreads more easily than the flu.

Both COVID-19 and the flu can have varying degrees of signs and symptoms, ranging from no symptoms (asymptomatic) to severe symptoms. Common symptoms that COVID-19 and flu share include:

- Fever or feeling feverish/chills
- Cough
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Fatigue (tiredness)
- Sore throat
- Runny or stuffy nose
- Muscle pain or body aches
- Headache
- Some people may have vomiting and diarrhea, though this is more common in children than adults

Because many of the symptoms of flu and COVID are similar, it may be hard to tell the difference between them based on symptoms alone, and testing may be needed to help confirm a diagnosis.

Tips to Avoid Getting and Spreading the Flu and COVID-19:

- Wash your hands often
- Cover your mouth when you cough or sneeze
- Don't touch your face
- Stay at home when you're sick
- Wear a mask when unable to maintain a 6-foot distance from anyone outside your bubble
- Clean (and disinfect) surfaces and shared items

Flu shot clinic dates will be held in various locations throughout the District of Temiskaming – watch for details from the Temiskaming Health Unit. When flu vaccine is available for Temagami FHT patients, appointments will be scheduled so please call the office at (705) 569-3244 to get your name on the list. It is safe for individuals to get both a COVID booster and flu shot at the same time so feel free to enquire about both when you call.

The more people vaccinated; the more people protected. Do your part. Get your vaccine this fall.

Mobile Wifi Hotspot Lending program

Need internet access? Check out a portable wifi hotspot to stay connected! The library has received funding through the Temiskaming Health Unit's Digital Divide grant program to add five new devices to our collection. Library members 18 and older may borrow a hotspot for three weeks, for free from the library--there are no fees and the data is provided by the library. The hotspots will work anywhere in the region where there is a cellular connection. Contact the library for more information!

CO<sub>2</sub> Sensor Lending Program

Curious about the air quality in your indoor spaces? The library has a new CO<sub>2</sub> Sensor lending program, thanks to a donation by Rise of three Arant4 Home Air Quality monitors. CO<sub>2</sub> is a gas that is produced when people exhale. As more people remain in a room, CO<sub>2</sub> levels increase quickly if there is not enough fresh air coming into the space. High indoor CO<sub>2</sub> levels can cause tiredness, headaches and other symptoms, and indicate that a space is not well ventilated. High CO<sub>2</sub> levels can also facilitate the spread of airborne infections. The devices are not CO (Carbon Monoxide) detectors and are not life safety devices. Contact the library to learn more!

Ontario Parks Day Passes

Summer is not quite over yet! Check out a day passes to get into an Ontario Park for the day for free. Swim, canoe, kayak, fish, hike or picnic at a park nearby such as Kap-Kig-Iwan in Englehart, Esker Lakes in Kirkland Lake, Finlayson Point in Temagami or any of the parks further afield! The park passes can be taken out for one week, and you may place a hold in advance to plan your trip. Contact the library for more information!

Gadget Helper

The library's gadget helper program provides one-on one help to people in learning to use their tablets, cellphones and laptops. Contact the library and let our staff person know what you would like to learn. Currently we offer weekly 45-minute timeslots on Thursdays. In the past, the gadget helper program has helped patrons with topics from learning to navigate the basics of a new device to downloading ebooks and accessing online resources and even troubleshooting hardware and software issues.

For more information about any of these programs please call us at 705-647-4215, email us at info@temisklibrary.com or pop into the library and speak to one of our friendly staff members.

NOTICE

WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM MAINTENANCE

Please be notified that the Environmental Crew of the Public Works Department will be carrying out maintenance of the municipal water distribution systems which includes the flushing and testing of fire hydrants starting on Monday, September 26, 2022. The work may cause some discoloration in the water; however, the effect should be minimal. If a coloured water problem is encountered in your water service line, flushing the service by letting the water run for a period of time should cure the problem. If the coloured water persists, please contact the Public Works Department for assistance at 705.647.6220.

Thank you for your co-operation as the Environmental Crew carry out this important maintenance activity.
