

Sunrise ceremony Friday brings message of Coming Home

TEMAGAMI (Staff) - Remembering the children lost to the horrors of the Indian Residential Schools, healing, and what reconciliation could look like in the town of Temagami, are the focus of the "Coming Home" event Friday, September 30, organized by Living Temagami, the local arts and culture organization.

The event is called "Coming Home" to keep focus on the over 120 Indian Residential School sites that have yet to be searched for unmarked graves.

"The Truth and Reconciliation Commission estimated that as many as 6,000 students are unaccounted for due to poor records keeping, including undocumented deaths and unmarked graves," says Living Temagami board member Mary Laronde.

The keynote address is centred on what truth and reconciliation would look like in Temagami and will be given by Donna and Reverend Jim Sinclair, who have worked nationally and internationally on healing and reconciliation. Time and space are then provided for participants to share their thoughts on healing and reconciliation in the local context.

IT'S ABOUT LAND

"We believe that there is a path forward to true reconciliation, and that the shared arts and culture taking place with Living Temagami is a beautiful and important beginning to that vision. 'We are all connected to this land,' both say. 'The land and our care for it is at the centre of any attempts to overcome the past,'" she explained.

Donna Sinclair, author and retired journalist, has written about Indian residential schools in Canada, and events in other places around the world (Central America, Africa, East Germany) where healing and reconciliation are required. She reported from Kahnatesake 30 years ago during what is often referred to as the Oka crisis in Quebec.

Jim Sinclair is a United Church minister and former General Secretary of the United Church of Canada. He was in Esgenoôpetitj (Burnt Church, New Brunswick) during the conflict between non-Indigenous and Mikmaq fishers in 1999, and he served as an election observer in the first free elections in post-apartheid South Africa.

In retirement both have been involved in efforts to care for the land and water locally, and to be allies in Indigenous solidarity actions nationally. They both were born and raised in Northern Ontario, and have lived in North Bay for more than 40 years.

The event begins at 7 a.m. with a sunrise ceremony to give thanks and the program for the day begins at 9:30 in the Temagami Welcome Centre. All are welcome.

The event is made possible through the generous support of the Temagami Community Foundation.

FUN DAY FOR SERIOUS TOPIC

Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and Timiskaming Crime Stoppers were out to have some fun, with good hard work and tasty food September 24 with a car wash and barbecue fundraiser at the Temiskaming detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. Curtis Shillinglaw (left) and Daxx Sauvé are pictured here washing a car while at the same time earning some volunteer hours. MADD members Annette Neil and Donna Jones said the goal of the day was to promote MADD and raise funds for the awareness of the message which is to not drive while impaired. ART OPENING DOORS AGAIN

The Open Doors Studio Tour was an enjoyable experience for both the visitors and the artists after a long pause caused by the pandemic. Englehart Area Artists opened their doors once again September 24 and 25, welcoming old friends and new to come in to view their artworks in their homes. City expanding voting options

Diane Johnston
Speaker Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES – City voters won't have to come to the polls to cast their ballots for municipal council next month.

Temiskaming Shores voters will have the option for the first time of voting by phone or online, in addition to traditional in-person voting by paper ballot.

Letters containing more details are expected to begin arriving in voters' mailboxes the first week of October. The municipality will also be providing a helpline number for anyone who requires further information.

City council approved a hybrid system combining voting in person, by phone and via the internet earlier this year.

At that time, Mayor Carman Kidd hoped that offering alternatives would boost voter turnout.

Numbers have been declining. In 2010, 45 per cent of eligible voters in the municipality cast ballots. That dropped to 42 per cent in 2014 and to 33 per cent in 2018.

This year, electors will be able to vote online or by phone beginning at 9 a.m. October 14 until 8 p.m. on election day itself October 24.

EDITORIAL

Hunger is real

As many of us scan the local grocery flyers for the best prices on foods and other items near and dear to us, there are many among us who do not have that luxury.

Millions of Canadians, and many people living in the Temiskaming region, are struggling to make ends meet and keep food on the table.

Almost six million people in Canada were food insecure last year, with a third of them living in Ontario, says Statistics Canada.

Food insecurity means people have to limit their food choices or go without food entirely because they can't afford to buy it.

They are strapped financially to pay the rent, keep the heat on, pay the hydro and internet costs that most of us take for granted.

In Ontario in 2021, 249,000 households missed meals or reduced their food intake or went without eating on some days.

And with the rising price of gas, food and other commodities, there are likely going to be more people missing meals and going without food.

Food prices are the only item that has seen a significant increase in the overall Consumer Price Index.

Meat prices are up, along with milk, pasta, eggs and bread.

Hunger and prolonged poor nutrition make people get sick quicker and this in turn puts pressure on our already overburdened health care system.

And besides that, it is simply unacceptable that children, teens, adults and seniors are going without food and not living their best lives.

There are ways to prevent food insecurity that include a basic income for everyone, social assistance rates that match the real cost of living and realistic wages and benefits for working people.

According to the Timiskaming Health Unit, 17.5 per cent of families in Temiskaming live with low incomes.

Thank goodness for the area food banks which are manned by wonderful volunteers.

Let us support our local food banks as much as we can in the coming weeks.

Food banks tell us that they can buy much more food if they receive cash donations.

So please be generous, donate money, food and volunteer time to help those less fortunate among us.

Seasonal rhythms

"The world is not in your books and maps, it's out there."

Gandalf -Lord of the Rings

The water was still, the air was fresh and the colours of autumn were beginning to show.

Three juvenile loons kept me company as I paddled around the lake.

The adult loons have flown off to warmer climates but the juveniles have yet to fly away.

Their feathers are continuing to develop and hopefully by the time the ice and snow arrives they will have fledged enough to migrate away. But for now they are hanging on to summer and the lake.

I am also hanging on to summer as much as I can.

Summer feels like it is exhausting itself into the arms of fall.

It is an exit that is both pleasing and peaceful as autumn refuses to be rushed.

Seeing it all unfold from the seat of my canoe is a joy for which I am grateful.

I look to the natural world to tell me what is coming in terms of weather patterns.

The size of a beaver's feed bed in front of their lodge is said to indicate the length of a winter.

When crickets and spiders head inside that is also considered a way to predict the weather.

Some people claim their bones ache when inclement weather is approaching.

How do we understand weather and the natural world if we are housebound searching for information from apps?

To see, feel, touch, smell and taste the natural world is the only way we can understand it.

How does a child learn about weather patterns such as rain and snowstorms if they are stuck indoors?

When I hear about snow days and bus cancellations I shudder.

Give kids the opportunity to get out into natural spaces to explore, identify birds and stars and find out what makes the seasons so special.

In the early part of September people stopped coming to the beach. Why?

The temperatures were balmy and the water was incredibly beautiful and warm.

I have enjoyed some wonderful swims of late.

One calm evening, as I was swimming to a marker that I use to judge distance, two loons popped up very close to me.

Just then a tiny bat appeared out of nowhere and fluttered around my head for a bit.

We are being welcomed into the arms of autumn, with the constellation Orion beaming brightly in the early morning sky. The earthly wobble that brings the seasons reminds us we are not machines, we are here to embrace the natural rhythms of the earth.

I dedicate this column to the kind gentleman I met outside of the Temiskaming Hospital a couple of weeks ago.

Your words were wonderful and most appreciated by me.

This one is for you buddy, hope you feel better soon and take care.

WE ARE SURVIVORS

by Norm Abraham

It was the fourth day of October
Nineteen hundred and twenty-two
Unbearable heat made me swelter
Sweat was pouring down to my shoe

Unusual weather we were having Housework was becoming a drain
A time when it should be snowing
The humidity felt more like rain

The children home from school
Laugh and play in the streets
In the shade a dog keeps cool
A passing cat slowly retreats

A strange feeling came over me
The smell of smoke in the air
Made me look outside to see
There was a message of beware

The wind was strongly blowing
Black shrouds hung over my home
Towering flames loudly crackling
As it happened one time in Rome

Quickly I grabbed what I could
To the turbulent lake I fled
Around the maze of burning wood
Streaks of fire touched my head

With my treasures in each hand
Soothing cold water at my feet
As I splashed about in the sand
Is this my fare that I'm to meet

The whole town, a wall of flame
An experience into hell I tread
Is there anyone to take the blame
For our misfortune and many dead.

I walked around the mounds of ash
From burning heat to chilling snow
An untouched home among the trash
Where I stayed with friend I know

Spring had come, time to rebuild
True Haileyburians never gave in
A new home was a dream fulfilled
To grieve our loss would be a sin

A terrible tragedy that many shared
And escaped a frightful fiery hell
We are survivors whom God has spared
Gratefully here with a story to tell

FedNor funding Northern Ontario mining showcase in Montreal

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Staff/Special) - FedNor, the federal economic development agency for Northern Ontario, has announced a $412,000 investment to expand the Northern Ontario Mining Showcase at the 2023 Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum (CIM) Convention and Expo in Montreal.

The investment will enable the City of Temiskaming Shores to establish the Northern Ontario Mining Showcase (NOMS) pavilion at the CIM convention and Expo.

"The continued expansion of NOMS demonstrates the importance of the project and the need to keep it growing so we can include more businesses and help them increase sales and exports and attract new investment to our region," said Temiskaming Shores Mayor Carman Kidd in a press release issued by FedNor.

"Since 2015, the City of Temiskaming Shores has led the charge on this strategic initiative and I am thrilled to say the return on investment has been incredible for all involved."

Taking place in Montreal from April 30 to May 3, the 2023 CIM EXPO is expected to attract over 5,000 industry professionals, experts, and decision-makers, and feature more than 450 exhibitors.

Nipissing-Timiskaming MP Anthony Rota made the announcement virtually, in company with Kidd, on August 31 on behalf of Minister of Indigenous Services and Minister Responsible for FedNor Patty Hajdu.

"NOMS continues to grow its presence at CIM Expos, building upon its continued success at the Prospectors & Developers Association of Canada (PDAC) convention held each year in Toronto," said FedNor in the release.

"Spanning an impressive 5,000 square feet and featuring up to 60 mining supply and service companies from across the region, the FedNor funded pavilion at CIM EXPO 2023 has nearly doubled in size and scope so it can include more businesses and maximize opportunities for networking and sales. As one of the largest pavilions at CIM 2023, NOMS will provide a unique opportunity to showcase Northern Ontario innovation, including some of the latest in mining equipment, tools, products, services and clean tech. In 2023 alone, NOMS at CIM is expected to help participating businesses increase sales and exports by more than $1.5 million, creating 30 high-quality jobs in Northern Ontario and maintaining 30 more."

Hajdu stated in the press release that since 2015 the showcase "has created over 750 jobs and generated more than $85 million in direct economic benefits for Northern Ontario. Through FedNor, we are helping local businesses, municipalities and Indigenous communities thrive in this flagship initiative. It is exciting to see the expansion of this work, creating even greater reach and positive impacts for our region."

Rota commented that he is "pleased that FedNor is stepping up to support the continued growth and success of the Northern Ontario Mining Showcase. By expanding the role of NOMS to include CIM Expos, I am confident that even more businesses and communities will reap the benefits this important project delivers for all of us here in Nipissing-Timiskaming and across Northern Ontario."

FedNor added that "with a wealth of mines and one of the largest concentrations of mining supply and service companies in Canada, Northern Ontario is primed to capitalize on the rising global demand for critical minerals and materials that will power the transition to clean energy and advanced manufacturing."

Northern College commits to sustainable development

TIMMINS (Special) – Northern College is joining other Canadian post-secondary institutions in committing to the sustainable development goals outlined by the United Nations.

In a news release, the college said the goals “define a linear path and blueprint for shared peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and in the future.”

Among the 17 goals are the elimination of poverty and hunger, the promotion of a healthy lifestyle, the provision of quality education, the creation of sustainable communities, and encouragement of responsible consumption and climate action.

“As educators, we provide knowledge and promote understanding about creating a better world, which is our vision as an institution, and we ask our students to do the same as they project their ambitions, wants and goals into the future,” said Northern president and CEO Audrey Penner in the release.

“We ask our students to do this as we take the necessary steps to ensure that we are doing everything in our power to provide a bright future for them to inherit.”

As of 2021, 33 Canadian post-secondary institutions, including Northern, have signed the pledge. “This movement is worldwide, and we are pleased to be playing a role in it,” stated Susan Hunter, chief cultural officer at Northern.

“The goals outlined are at once straightforward and transformational. We know that change always starts small and we’re looking forward to beginning a sustainable journey, building upon what we’ve already accomplished.”

Northern officials note the college offers several programs specifically designed to focus on the future of industry and environmental needs.

They include programs focused on battery electric vehicles, wastewater treatment, biomass heating, as well as many traditional programs that incorporate sustainable development principles into the curriculum.

“As we continue to develop programming, we keep an eye on industry needs, trends and do our best to forecast and tailor our offerings to not only provide students with the skills they need to create fulfilling and worthwhile careers, but to also ensure that industry has access to highly skilled talent to do this important work,” said Aaron Klooster, vice-president of academic and student success.

“We have to show our students, our communities and the wider world that what we teach and how we lead takes these commitments and makes them real,” Klooster continued.

Dementia Awareness

Dementia is an overall term used for a set of symptoms that are caused by disorders affecting the brain. Symptoms may include memory loss and trouble with thinking, problem-solving or language, severe enough to make it hard for a person to carry out everyday activities. A person with dementia may also experience changes in mood or behaviour.

Dementia is progressive, which means the symptoms will gradually get worse as more brain cells become damaged. Dementia is not a specific disease. Many diseases can cause dementia, the most common being Alzheimer's disease and vascular dementia (due to strokes).

Some treatable conditions can produce symptoms similar to dementia, for example, vitamin deficiencies, thyroid disease, sleep disorders, or mental illness. It's very important to arrange for a full medical assessment as early as possible. Getting a timely diagnosis can help you access information, resources and support, benefit from treatment, and plan ahead.

NORMAL AGING

- Not being able to remember details of a conversation or event that took place a year ago
- Not being able to remember the name of an acquaintance
- Forgetting things and events sometimes
- Sometimes have difficulty finding words
- You are worried about your memory, but your relatives are not

DEMENTIA

- Not being able to recall details of recent events or conversations
- Not recognizing or knowing the names of family members
- Forgetting things or events more frequently
- Frequent pauses and substitutions when finding words
- Your relatives are worried about your memory, but you are not aware of any problems

If you are worried about your memory and are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team, talk to your primary care provider about a referral to our Memory Clinic. The goal of the clinic is to provide early diagnosis and treatment for problems associated with memory loss.

It's important to know when to see your primary care provider about memory concerns but it's equally important to know that forgetting someone's name doesn't necessarily mean that you are getting dementia.

The Temagami Medical Centre and Family Health Team is committed to keeping you as healthy as possible!

Memorial fund supports youth hunting and fishing

HAILEYBURY (Staff) - Isaac Walker-Dupont loved the outdoors, loved fishing and loved bowling.

The 19-year-old man died September 4 as the result of an August 31 motor vehicle collision on Highway 11 north of Englehart.

About 100 family members and friends gathered at the Haileybury Harbour Place September 24 to hold a celebration of life doing the things that Isaac loved. Along with family and friends, there was fishing, a fish fry, and bowling at the nearby alley.

Friend Pete Gilboe noted that a fund has been set up "to honour Isaac's love for the outdoors."

Gilboe said that Isaac often went out fishing with him.

Isaac's father, Remi Dupont, expressed gratitude to the community for their support.

"It's for my son," he said, adding that a proud moment in Isaac's life was when he was the winner in the youth league of the Belleville Kinsmen Club fishing derby.

The Cast A Line for Isaac memorial included bowling at the Tri-Town Bowling Lanes, and Dupont noted that the business had donated the lanes for free bowling. He said there had been "incredible donations and everything is definitely welcome. It's all for the kids. The community here is unbelievable," he added.

Donations are being accepted in cooperation with the Temiskaming chapter of Ducks Unlimited Canada and can be made by going to <https://square.link/u/VevAdCv4?sr=sheet>.

Mobile Wifi Hotspot Lending program

Need internet access? Check out a portable wifi hotspot to stay connected! The library has received funding through the Temiskaming Health Unit's Digital Divide grant program to add five new devices to our collection. Library members 18 and older may borrow a hotspot for three weeks, for free from the library- there are no fees and the data is provided by the library. The hotspots will work anywhere in the region where there is a cellular connection. Contact the library for more information!

CO₂ Sensor Lending Program

Curious about the air quality in your indoor spaces? The library has a new CO₂ Sensor lending program, thanks to a donation by Rise of three Aranet4 Home Air Quality monitors. CO₂ is a gas that is produced when people exhale. As more people remain in a room, CO₂ levels increase quickly if there is not enough fresh air coming into the space. High indoor CO₂ levels can cause tiredness, headaches and other symptoms, and indicate that a space is not well ventilated. High CO₂ levels can also facilitate the spread of airborne infections. The devices are not CO (Carbon Monoxide) detectors and are not life safety devices. Contact the library to learn more!

Gadget Helper

The library's gadget helper program provides one-on one help to people in learning to use their tablets, cellphones and laptops. Contact the library and let our staff person know what you would like to learn. Currently we offer weekly 45-minute timeslots on Thursdays. In the past, the gadget helper program has helped patrons with topics from learning to navigate the basics of a new device to downloading ebooks and accessing online resources and even troubleshooting hardware and software issues.

For more information about any of these programs please call us at 705-647-4215, email us at info@temisklibrary.com or pop into the library and speak to one of our friendly staff members.

EVERY SECOND COUNTS!
PLAN
2 WAYS OUT!

If a fire occurred in your home tonight would your family get out safely?

A fast, pre-planned escape is critical to survival.
There are no second chances in a fire.

Follow these simple steps:

Test your smoke alarms—
every month!

Discuss with everyone in your home how each person will get out in a fire.
Practice your plan!

Know two ways out of each room, if possible.

Determine who's going to help
young children,
older adults,
people with disabilities or anyone else who needs help escaping.

Have a meeting place outside your home.

Call 9-1-1 or your emergency number from outside the home.

GET OUT, STAY OUT!
Never re-enter a burning building!

EVERY SECOND COUNTS!
Fire and smoke can travel so quickly that despite their best efforts, firefighters may not be able to rescue you or your family if a fire occurs in your home.
You need to be out of your home
when the firefighters arrive!

For more information, contact your local fire department.

BEAUCOUP DE CHEVAUX

The New Liskeard Riding Ring was the scene of an AERWAT (Association Équestre Western de l'Abitibi-Témiscamingue) show recently.

Approximately 120 horses and their owners whipped up the grounds with western competitions, entertaining spectators. The circuit holds shows in Northwestern Quebec almost every weekend throughout the summer. The September 3 event, which is the only one to take place in Ontario, was actually the finals, said Missy Phippen who organized it with her husband Curtis. The couple and their family are members of the circuit and have been following it for years, she said. Pictured here is participant Cynthia Gaumond of Rouyn-Noranda. Phippen said these riders "compete with the best of the best." (Staff photo by Darlene Wroe)
