

Englehart mayor-elect accepts position

Darlene Wroe

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

ENGLEHART - Jerry Mikovitch has decided to accept the position of mayor for the Town of Englehart.

A strong election outcome caused Mikovitch to reconsider his October 19 statement that he was withdrawing from the race.

At the Meet the Candidates meeting October 19, Mikovitch advised the public and on his Facebook page that he had decided to withdraw from the mayor's race against incumbent Nina Wallace because of work and business time constraints.

JERRY MIKOVITCH

Mikovitch, who was a councillor this past term, won the October 24 election 329 to 142 against incumbent mayor Wallace.

His enterprise, the Great Northern Garlic Co., "had our best business season this past summer with our market stretching into Timmins and Cochrane," he said in an email to The Speaker.

"We have plans to expand again next season."

He said discussions have been taking place about the manpower needed to do that. Mikovitch also works for Ontario Northland as a rail traffic controller.

However, he has decided to accept the mayor's duties as well.

Council and staff for the new term "need to hit the ground running," he said in the email.

"There are a few time-sensitive issues that need to be addressed right away. Getting the new council assigned to committees that would best suit their attributes is something that also has to be done immediately."

He added that he is looking forward to working with council and staff this term.

On the morning of October 26, he stated on Facebook that "after seeing the election results, it is

Hospital eases restrictions but advises caution

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Special) – The end of the COVID-19 outbreak at Temiskaming Hospital earlier this week has spurred an easing in visitor restrictions.

But it's clear, "that COVID-19 is not finished with us yet," said hospital CEO Mike Baker in a statement.

As expected, he said, other infectious conditions like the flu are compounding the hospital's issues.

"We hope everyone will continue to take precautions to protect those who are the most vulnerable to these conditions by staying home if you are sick, wash your hands frequently, wearing a mask inside high risk settings and ensuring you receive all the vaccinations you are eligible for," he said.

The recent outbreak was declared over on October 25 after 20 days.

Baker said it was not only significantly longer than the hospital's only other outbreak this year in April, but also bigger.

At one point, 25 patients had COVID, compared to the peak of 12 in April.

During the recent outbreak, as many as 15 staffers were absent from work with COVID-like symptoms, although about 30 per cent tested negative for the virus.

The hospital instituted strict visitor restrictions. Only essential care partners were allowed for obstetrical, end-of-life, and pediatric/adolescent in-patients and out-patients requiring help due to cognitive, intellectual, developmental or communication impairment.

As of October 25, restrictions have relaxed.

The hospital is no longer maintaining a list of care partners, meaning that all in-patients will be allowed up to two care partners at their bedside at a time.

Care partners can come and go during the day, but must undergo active screening when entering the hospital and must wear a mask throughout their stay.

On its website, the hospital says it will continue to monitor the situation and adjust policies according to the risk it is managing.

"I would like to thank our community for its support and understanding during these unprecedented times and remember, while we care for you, please care about us," Baker said.

EDITORIAL

The people have spoken

By now, the municipal candidates that put their name forth for public office in our district have been selected to fill council, mayor and reeve positions.

The 2022 Ontario Municipal Election is now in the record books.

Congratulations to all the candidates who stepped forward to run for municipal office.

You had to put yourself out there, you spent time and money to get your message across and you showed a willingness to get involved and be part of your community's future moving forward.

Voter turnout continued to be below 50 per cent in most communities in The Speaker's coverage area, with the exception of Latchford coming in at 74 per cent.

Way to go Latchford.

The new councillors, mayors and reeves will be sworn in sometime soon and then they can begin to do the work of making sure their community is progressing for the benefit of the many.

Now is the time for all council members to make a promise to their citizens that they will be accountable and transparent in their council dealings.

Let elected officials bring new ideas and new energy to all the councils in our region and that they advocate for what is best for their ratepayers.

Perhaps the newest members of council are an indication in many municipalities that the status quo wasn't working and that people truly wanted change.

Using compromise to get results is a good idea for most council members, but never compromise your values might be a good saying as well for the newly elected.

It is time for all councils across the region to work collaboratively for the betterment of all citizens.

Bird love

The late October weather has been beautiful lately, warm and sunny.

The colourful sunrises and sunsets we are seeing have been outstanding.

I'd like to see this glorious fall weather hang around until January or February. Hmm, perhaps even longer.

For one thing, I love the sun and the dark days of winter just don't cut it for me.

And I am away from my canoe and the lake during the winter months and that's no fun at all for this canoe-obsessed woman.

And I am stuck indoors and it drives me crazy.

I know, I know, I can get my skis, snowshoes and ice fishing gear out and get moving.

But it's no fun when it is 35 below most days.

And I miss the birds. We don't have as many birds in the region during the winter months, but the ones we do have are spectacular.

They lift our spirits even on the duller days.

The woodpeckers, blue jays, evening grosbeaks, chickadees, pine grosbeaks, purple finches, common redpolls, eagles, owls, robins and more that do not migrate to warmer climates are delightful to watch.

It has been an absolute pleasure to observe birds at my friend Tim's backyard feeders.

I thought I was a bird lover until I met Tim. He shells out over 2,000 pounds of seed per year to help our feathered friends get through our harsh winters.

I was at the Hilliardton Marsh recently for the Northern Saw-whet owl banding, those tiny raptors being the size of a pop can.

That night a long eared owl was also caught in the nets for banding. I had never seen one up close and it was such a beautiful bird, slender in the body with those long ear feathers.

I have recently seen two new species of birds that we don't normally observe here. They were a beautiful red-bellied woodpecker and a rusty blackbird.

The red-bellied woodpeckers are not native to our region.

Perhaps Hurricane Fiona blew it off course as it was migrating southward?

Being an amateur birder gives me a sense of wonder, awe and connection to the natural world.

Birds also give me something to focus on besides the cold and snow.

Researchers say watching a bird feeder for as little as 10 minutes per day can improve your psychological health.

Variety is the spice of life and birding sure provides variety and keeps the boredom at bay for me.

But birds are not only here for my happiness fix, they are an important part of our ecosystem.

They eat tons and tons of

insects each year and they help to pollinate flowers and trees.

Birds are the messengers that tell us about the health of our planet and we had better listen to them as our climate changes and deforestation continues globally.

Immunization Protects Everyone!

Immunization is widely recognized as one of the greatest public health achievements of the twentieth century. Vaccines save lives, prevent the spread of diseases and reduce health care costs. Immunization programs are an important foundation of Ontario's health system.

Before tetanus immunization was available, the fear of tetanus hovered over every cut and puncture wound. Older adults will easily recall how frantic parents were to disinfect every childhood scrape to protect against lockjaw and memories of family or friends paralyzed by polio and summers spent in fear. In the last 50 years, immunization has saved more lives in Canada than any other health intervention.

Immunization is necessary for two reasons: to protect individuals and communities. Vaccines protect an entire population by preventing the spread of disease from one person to another...the more people immunized, the less chance there is for disease to spread.

Prevention of infection by immunization is a lifelong process — it does not stop in childhood! Childhood immunization programs have significantly reduced vaccine-preventable diseases among children, but Canada's population has an increasing number of adults who remain vulnerable to these diseases. All adults should be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, measles, mumps, rubella and varicella. Additionally, adults 65 years of age and older and those with conditions that increase their chances of complications should receive one dose of pneumococcal vaccine and yearly Influenza vaccine.

Thinking of travelling? Be sure you are protected against illnesses such as hepatitis, typhoid, meningitis, yellow fever or Japanese encephalitis depending on where you are going. If you're not sure what you might need, contact your local public health unit to enquire.

As you grow, you don't outgrow your need for immunization. Whether you are a parent, a young adult or a senior, talk to your health care provider about being up-to-date with your immunizations.

The Temagami Medical Centre and Family Health Team is committed to keeping you as healthy as possible!

Temporary lower water levels on the Montreal River

To protect workers during upcoming maintenance/repair work at Hound Chute Generating Station on the Montreal River, Ontario Power Generation (OPG) will be lowering water levels below the normal operating range. Workers will be making repairs to the station's Obermeyer weir.

The work is scheduled to take place on Nov. 8, 2022, but to avoid any sudden fluctuations, OPG will begin decreasing levels as early as Nov. 6, 2022. Water levels will safely return to seasonal elevation after the work is completed.

Taking a rapid antigen test? The Ontario Science Table recommends swabbing your mouth and then your nose for the best results.
These instructions may be different from the instructions found in your test kit, and we understand that it's confusing to receive differing instructions. The Ontario Science Table considers taking mouth and nose samples to be a best practice for testing for the Omicron variant.
To learn how to take your sample, see the Ontario Science Table video: www.youtube.com/watch?v=LJhdIWWdXT4

Vous passez un test antigénique rapide? La Table de consultation scientifique de l'Ontario recommande de prélever des échantillons de la bouche et de votre nez pour obtenir de meilleurs résultats.
Ces recommandations peuvent être différentes des instructions trouvées dans votre trousse de test, et nous comprenons qu'il est frustrant de recevoir des instructions différentes. La Table de consultation scientifique de l'Ontario considère le prélèvement d'échantillons de la bouche et du nez comme une pratique exemplaire pour les tests de dépistage du variant Omicron.

Ontario dentists say be mindful of Halloween candy

DISTRICT (Staff) – The Ontario Dental Association (ODA) says it is that time of year when millions of children and adults may eat too much candy in a short period of time.

The dental association wants Ontarians to know that certain candies have high levels of sugar that can haunt your teeth for a long time.

They say the worst candy for your teeth are caramels, lico-rice and dried fruit.

Because they are sticky and chewy, these treats can cling to teeth and ruin dental work and cause tooth decay.

Hard candy, jawbreakers and lollipops are also potentially damaging as they have hard surfaces and can cause teeth to chip and crack, and dislodge braces.

Chips, while not sugary, can easily get stuck on or in between your teeth and cause cavities.

Brushing right after you eat candy or other treats is a wise idea and it is best to wait 30 minutes before brushing and flossing.

FRIENDLY

The ODA says friendlier treats for the palate include plain chocolate, which has sugar in it but it dissolves quickly and doesn't stay in the mouth for long periods of time.

They say trick or treaters should eat nuts, as they are full of nutrients including vitamins and minerals that keep your teeth strong and prevent cavities.

Another good choice is cheese, because it leaves a protective film on your teeth and can block sugar damage.

Eating a meal before trick or treating is advised because the tendency is to eat less candy.

And finally, drinking water after eating treats is advised because it washes away sugar.

La demande n^o 54-C-224307 vise à créer par retranchement un lot (« lot 1 ») d'environ 4,2 hectares dont 313 mètres donneraient sur la route 65. La demande n^o 54-C-224406 vise à créer par retranchement un lot (« lot 2 ») d'environ 9,5 hectares dont 350 mètres donneraient sur la route 65. La demande n^o 54-C-224505 vise à créer par retranchement un lot (« lot 3 ») d'environ 9,1 hectares dont 145 mètres donneraient sur la route 65. Le reste des biens-fonds visés, qui représente 7,9 hectares, serait conservé. Les lots proposés seraient accessibles par une des deux entrées existantes sur la route 65. Les demandes de servitude n'ont pas été reçues, mais seront présentées prochainement.

Les lots sont présentement vacants; il est proposé qu'ils servent à des fins récréatives.

Toute personne ou tout organisme public peut interjeter appel d'une décision du ministre concernant l'autorisation au plus tard 20 jours après la publication de l'avis de décision. Pour recevoir cet avis, il faut le demander par écrit au ministre à l'adresse indiquée ci-contre. Si la personne ou l'organisme public qui interjette appel de la décision ne présente pas d'observation écrite au ministre avant qu'il accepte ou refuse d'accorder une autorisation provisoire, le Tribunal ontarien de l'aménagement du territoire peut rejeter l'appel.

OPP enforce traffic laws from the air

TEMISKAMING SHORES (Staff) - Police recently employed some high-flying help for traffic enforcement on Highway 11.

On October 21, police conducted aerial enforcement in the district with the help of the OPP's aviation services, Traffic Incident Management Enforcement team, and officers from the Temiskaming detachment.

A total of 26 charges were laid during the blitz. Nine drivers were charged with speeding and five commercial vehicle drivers were charged with following too closely.

The OPP's aviation enforcement uses a fixed-wing single-engine Cessna 206.

On its website, the OPP explains that aircraft observers use a sophisticated stopwatch to monitor and determine vehicle speeds over designated areas on a highway.

"The use of this technology ensures accuracy and efficiency in speed enforcement from the air. In addition to passenger vehicle speeders, aircraft observers also target violations by commercial motor vehicles and motorcycles," the OPP say.

Pictured is a close-up of the camera mounted on the OPP plane used during aerial traffic enforcement on Highway 11 last week. (OPP Photo)

Pull the Plug on Electrical Fires

Electrical equipment is a leading cause of home fires in Ontario.

Install smoke and carbon monoxide alarms on every storey of your home.

Test them every month.

How do I keep myself and my loved ones safe?

- Avoid running cords under rugs which can damage the cord and cause a fire.
- Avoid overloading a circuit with "octopus outlets". If additional outlets or circuits are required, have them installed by a licensed electrician.
- Extension cords should be used only as a temporary connection. If permanent wiring is required, have additional outlets installed by a licensed electrician. Extension cords should not be linked together—use an extension cord that is long enough to do the job.
- Air conditioners and other heavy appliances should be plugged directly into an outlet.
- Ground fault circuit interrupters (GFCIs) should be installed in bathrooms, kitchens, and garages. GFCIs shut off an electrical circuit when it becomes a shock hazard.
- Check electrical cords for damage such as fraying or nicks. A damaged cord can expose wires and result in a potential shock or fire hazard.

For more information contact your local fire department.
