Santa coming to Earlton to Light 'Er Up

Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

EARLTON - Everyone from across the area, including municipalities, are being invited to attend Earlton's "Light 'Er Up" Santa Claus Parade Friday evening, November 25.

Maija Inglis and her husband Mike, who own and operate Inglis Farm Drainage Inc. which is organizing and sponsoring the event, have received the support of the municipality.

They are hoping other businesses will register in the parade, which they can do until Thursday, November 24, for an opportunity to win cash prizes.

She added that Inglis Farm Drainage Inc., with help from The Roaster, will also be supplying warm beverages and treats for spectators throughout the evening.

"The Coeur du Village will be setting up an exterior Christmas tree which will be lit the night of the parade. They have also allowed us the use of their parking lot, use of their hydro to power our speakers (borrowed from Mikey's Photography) and beverage dispensers," she added.

People are invited to bring non-perishable food items to the Coeur du Village where there will be a truck located to accept donations for the Englehart and Area Food Bank. There will also be food drop-off points at various locations throughout Earlton in the week leading up to the parade.

The Earlton Fire Department will be assisting with the parade by directing traffic across Highway 571 and leading the parade as well as bringing up the end with rescue vehicles.

Anyone who would like to register to be in the parade can email inglisfdi@gmail.com or fill out a registration form at the Armstrong Township municipal office.

November 9, 2022 stories...

- A candlelight vigil is being organized to remember war veterans November 11 and 12 at the Cobalt Veterans Cemetery on Morissette Drive in Haileybury.
- Cobalt made some new history with the election of a transgender person to the position of mayor.
- Drivers may have noticed some changes along the Highway 11 corridor running through Temiskaming Shores.
- Police have released the identity of the driver who died late last month in a collision in North Cobalt.
- As CUPE workers returned to school yesterday, so too did those students whose schools had closed for two days during the province-wide walkout.
- Exhibitors at the 2022 Englehart Fall Fair, their families, sponsors and businesses are being invited to the annual awards night and dinner November 19.
- The two remaining COVID-19 outbreaks in the district have ended.
- The city is rethinking transportation in downtown New Liskeard and Haileybury.
- On the day of the municipal election, Sharon Gadoury was cool, calm and collected. Later that night is when the nerves set in as the vote tally began to come in for Latchford.
- It would be an accurate statement to say the Ecole secondaire catholique Sainte-Marie (ESCSM) Junior Girls Apollo Basketball team dominated league play and their playoff tournament this year.

Supporters celebrate Keepers and Mino M'Shki-ki in KL

By XAVIER KATAQUAPIT

KIRKLAND LAKE - Health leaders and advocates recently gathered at the Keepers Of The Circle Office in Kirkland Lake for an open house.

This two-part event was meant to showcase the newly renovated and completed Keepers Of The Circle office building and to host the official opening of the Mino M'Shki-ki Indigenous Health Team office on September 29.

"I am very happy and excited to see everyone who came to visit us today. This is the celebration of so much work by so many people over so many years," said Bertha Cormier, executive director of Keepers Of The Circle.

"Our founder, the late Ann Batisse, was a woman with a vision that started what we have today. What began as a one room office in 1997 with a handful of staff and volunteers has now become a nationally recognized Indigenous services hub that has helped and continues to assist so many people," she said.

Keepers Of The Circle is operated by the Temiskaming Native Women's Support Group (TNWSG). It provides numerous services including Family Services, Childcare Services and Employment and Training Services for Indigenous people and their families in the Temiskaming District.

This umbrella organization also provides health programming through Mino M'Shkiki in partnership with Beaverhouse First Nation, Matachewan First Nation and the Temiskaming Metis Community Council. Mino M'Shki-ki also includes an office location at the Temiskaming Hospital in Temiskaming Shores.

"We are all thankful to so many people that have made all this possible and we are grateful to everyone here today for joining us to celebrate the official opening of our Indigenous Health Team in Kirkland Lake," said Sue Alton, Mino M'Shki-ki Health Director.

COLLABORATION

The opening of this new Indigenous health care office was made possible by the collaborative efforts of several organizations in the Temiskaming area. Mino M'shki-ki, a name selected by an Elders Council, translates as "good medicine."

Several presenters spoke to the gathering to give their thanks and messages of support including Carole McBride, President of the National Women's Association of Canada (NWAC) who represents Keepers Of The Circle at the national level.

"I am very proud of all the accomplishments everyone has achieved here over the years. It is very heart warming and satisfying to know of all of the people and families we have helped over the years through this organization," commented McBride.

The event was also led by Keepers Of The Circle board of directors Amanda Julien, Kara Boucher, Brianna Moore, Kelly McBride, Nancy Luna and Bertha Cormier.

Also in attendance was the Council of Wisdom Keepers who guide the organization. They include Elders Mario Batisse, Sally Susan Martel-Brown, Tom and Freda Wabie, Vina Hendrix, Liliane Ethier and Marilyn Chevrier-Wills.

EDITORIAL

Fundamental Rights

The "political action" by thousands of school-based CUPE union workers showed us a side of our government that might not be favourable.

Instead of taking time to fully negotiate with CUPE members who represent school custodians, education assistants, support staff, the government invoked Section 33 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms notwithstanding clause, aimed at taking away a group's right to strike.

Some 96 per cent of education workers voted to strike in response to the breakdown in negotiations between the union and the government.

Fortunately, the Ford government rescinded the act because of public pressure and the union and government are back at the bargaining table this week.

As we greet Remembrance Day this year, may we pause and thank our veterans for giving their lives for our present day freedoms.

And may we understand that taking away fundamental rights such as the right of unions to strike goes against everything our veterans fought and died for.

If basic human rights can be trampled upon by governments using the notwithstanding clause, our fundamental rights are gone.

We have a constitution in Canada that guarantees our right to freedom of association and belief, press freedom, freedom of speech and more.

Isn't it time to abolish the notwithstanding clause?

Governments that have a majority can get away with using the notwithstanding clause, but it was public opinion that they didn't count on in the end.

Lest we forget

Sue Nielsen

By the time this column comes out it will be Remembrance Day, November 11.

I'd like to talk about the Canadian women who played an important role during World War II, both at home and in uniform.

They gave up their sons, husbands, fathers and brothers to the war efforts, like my grandmother, who had five sons enlist in the Canadian Armed Forces.

When I wrote veterans stories for our Survivor Diaries—Stories from Temiskaming's World War II Heroes book published in 2015, I had no idea how many women veterans we had in the region.

I was sadly unaware of their heroics and it was quite astounding to hear their incredible wartime stories.

Too often the war hero narrative can be one-sided and fails to honour the women's experiences.

I thank each and every veteran and acknowledge the important role our female vets played in our war efforts. They might not have received the medals they deserved, but they were heroes, all of them.

Our brave women veterans that we gathered stories on were Rosemary Hutchison, Rae Fawcett, Jenny Hamilton, Jackie Hervieux, Bertha Redden, Norma Elliott, Sylvia Furnival, Maisie Campbell, Florence Hulcoop, Norma Anderson and Kathleen Hamilton.

I recall Englehart veteran Norma Elliott being shy at first to tell me her story, often undermining her own importance to the Royal Canadian Airforce Women's Division.

She was fiercely proud of her uniform and donated it to the Englehart and District Historical Museum.

She packed parachutes and repaired planes at just 19 years of age. How amazing is that?

The year was 1942.

How about New Liskeard's Sylvia Furnival, enlisting in the British Royal Navy at 17 as a member of the famous Women's Royal Naval Service (WREN).

She said war was horrible but if she had to do it all over again, she would.

"When someone threatens you as Hitler did, threatens your way of life, you have no choice but to fight," she said.

And then there was the feisty Florence Hulcoop, who was a transport truck driver as a member of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Canadian women quickly earned a solid reputation for their mechanical skills and fine precision.

Let us not forget that Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, served as a truck driver and mechanic during the war years when she was 18.

How many stories did we miss because our women veterans didn't feel their stories were important enough to tell?

To forget, omit or downplay

the dedication and contributions of our women veterans during World War II is wrong.

Thank you to all our veterans.

Congratulations to Floyd Streicher on his retirement.

Over the years Floyd served at Flinkert Farms Inc. at the Drayton home farm and in the last 10 years at the New Liskeard dairy farm.

No matter the type of job Floyd could be relied upon to get it done. It's not often these days that a dairy farm operation, can say they have employed the same person for over 34 years, with the exception of family members. In fact that is the point; Floyd has not only been an employee of Flinkert Farms Inc.; over the years he has become part of our family.

We would like to congratulate him on his retirement and wish him the happiest and healthiest days in the years to come.

With our love and respect,

Audrey, Brent, Wilma and the entire extended Flinkert Family

Supporters celebrate Keepers and Mino M’Shki-ki in KL

“It is very humbling to see the results of all the work my wife Anne and everyone she worked with turning into all these services that help so many people,” said Batisse.

“It is very emotional and heart warming to hear all the good things everyone has to say and to know that her legacy has meant so much to so many people,” he said in remembering his wife Anne who died on March 20, 2020.

The event also included traditional performances by a hand drum group comprised of the support staff of Keepers of the Circle and Mino M’Shki-ki. First Nation leaders were also present at the event to show their support.

GREAT SPACE

“All the programs and services offered here provides a step in the right direction for our people, especially in light of the commemoration of the National Day Of Truth And Reconciliation. It is a pleasure to be here today and to see such a wonderful space that allows Indigenous people to feel welcomed, comfortable and cared for,” said Chief Wayne Wabie, Beaverhouse First Nation.

Matachewan First Nation leadership was also represented at the event.

“The work that has been done here and all the services that are offered shows that as First Nations working together we are stronger. It reminds all of us that when we work together for our people, we can make life better for everyone,” said Councillor Stan Fox, Matachewan First Nation.

Municipal representatives were also on hand to show their support.

Presentations on programs and services offered by Keepers of the Circle and Mino M’Shki-ki were provided by Rachel Lachance, Food Forest Program; Mike Degagne, Trades, Training Program; Lisa Sloan, Daycare Supervisor; Chelsea Daley, Brianna Julien and Nicole Renaud for Family Support And Cultural Programming; Kelly Lamon-tagne, Employment and Training and Kathy Lajeunesse and Deanna Baker with the Cultural Confidence and Competence Pre Employment Training program.

Temagami Family Health Team Submitted by Ellen Ibey Spirometry Screening for Asthma and COPD

Spirometry is a common and effective diagnostic test that can easily be done in your health care provider’s office. Spirometry is the most reliable way to test your lungs for COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) and asthma. The earlier it’s done, the earlier lung disease can be detected and treated.

Who should have spirometry testing?

People with asthma

Spirometry is an important diagnosis and management tool for people with asthma. If you have asthma and have never had a spirometry test, please talk to our respiratory therapist about spirometry.

Smokers and former smokers

If you are over 40 and smoke or used to smoke, you may have COPD. Take this quick test:

	Yes	No
1. Do you cough regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. Do you cough up phlegm regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. Do even simple chores make you short of breath?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. Do you wheeze when you exercise or go up stairs?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. Do you get many colds, and do your colds usually last longer than your friends’ colds?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answered “Yes” to one or more of these questions, you may have symptoms of COPD. See our respiratory therapist to find out what is causing your symptoms.

Why should I see a respiratory therapist? Can it wait?

If you get early treatment for COPD you can slow down the damage to your lungs.

If you are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team and would like to have spirometry screening with our Registered Respiratory Therapist, please call (705) 569-3244 to schedule an appointment.

Early detection and intervention contribute to the best possible health outcomes!

Inglis emphasized that all communities and municipalities are being invited to participate in the parade and will have a chance to win a cash prize.

"The more entries in the parade, the brighter the street will be and the brighter the eyes will be on the children and families watching the show," Inglis stated.

Floats are welcome, along with side-by-sides, transports, combines, tractors, and horses.

She added that following the parade Aislinn Stormont will be at the Coeur du Village for photo opportunities.

Santa Claus will also be there to greet the children.

Sorting the real reviews from the fake ones

GATINEAU (Staff/Special) - You're about to click the "Buy" button, but before you open your wallet, it's probably a good idea to read some online consumer reviews, right?

Online consumer reviews help both consumers and businesses - they provide a wealth of "unbiased" product information to help you shop smart, and they reward businesses that provide a great product or service.

But how would you feel if you knew that glowing review you just read was posted by an employee of the company or by a "reputation management" firm that was hired to post it, and not by a real customer?

Consumer reviews often strike at the heart of a consumer's buying decision. Posting fake reviews online can damage that trust and seriously erode consumer confidence.

• Shop around: Just like you shopped for the right product or service, you should also consult several sources for independent, unbiased reviews.

• Go back in time: Be sure to look at reviews over a long period of time. This will help you to spot potential patterns like a spike in positive or negative reviews.

The meat is in the middle: Read the 2-, 3- and 4-star reviews too. Someone writing a fake review is more likely to assign a rating of 1 or 5 stars, meaning you're more likely to find balanced critique in the middle range.

• Diversify: Online reviews are just one way to assess a product or service. Branch out - ask trusted friends and family about their experiences. Consider asking the company for references.

If you believe you have come across fake online reviews, report them to the Competition Bureau of Canada.

The importance of masking | L'importance du port du masque

COVID-19 infection is still a significant risk and cases are rising again, provincially, and locally. Masking is one of the best ways to reduce the spread while protecting yourself and those around you from infection. Please continue to do your individual risk assessment before leaving your home.

Une infection à la COVID-19 est toujours un risque important et les cas augmentent à nouveau, à l'échelle provinciale et locale. Le port du masque est l'un des meilleurs moyens de réduire la propagation tout en vous protégeant et en protégeant ceux qui vous entourent contre l'infection. Veuillez continuer à faire votre évaluation individuelle des risques avant de quitter votre domicile.

In light of the present high levels of COVID-19 in our community, if you are in one of the following situations, it is recommended that you wear a mask, especially in indoor public spaces:

- Around individuals showing symptoms of COVID-19
- If you are vulnerable to illness or have a vulnerable household member
- In an area with large crowds for a prolonged period of close contact
- If you have been exposed, have symptoms, or test positive for COVID-19

En raison des niveaux élevés actuels de COVID-19 dans notre communauté, si vous êtes dans l'une des situations suivantes, il est recommandé de porter un masque, en particulier dans les espaces publics intérieurs:

- Autour des personnes présentant des symptômes de la COVID-19
- Si vous êtes vulnérable à la maladie ou si vous avez un membre vulnérable dans votre domicile
- Dans une zone avec de grandes foules pendant une période prolongée de contact étroit
- Si vous avez été exposé, présentez des symptômes ou obtenez un résultat positif au test de dépistage de la COVID-19

Thank you for continuing to protect yourself, your family, and your community from COVID-19.
Merci de continuer à vous protéger, ainsi que votre famille et votre communauté, contre la COVID-19.

More awareness needed regarding impact of diet

TORONTO (Staff/Special) - Cleveland Clinic Canada says that almost a quarter of Canadians are unaware of what diets are healthy.

Cleveland Clinic Canada, part of Cleveland Clinic's global health system, conducted a survey earlier in 2022 and found that 27 per cent of Canadians say they are either unable to identify a heart-healthy eating plan or they do not believe diet has anything to do with heart health. It was also concluded that 65 per cent of Canadians do not follow any specific diet plan.

Cleveland Clinic Canada reported that when presented with a list of ten diets from which Canadians could choose up to three options, the Mediterranean diet was most identified as among the most heart-healthy, with 32 per cent naming it, followed by a low-carbohydrate diet (27 per cent) and a vegetarian diet including eggs and dairy (25).

In contrast, only seven per cent of Canadians actually follow a Mediterranean diet, ten per cent a low-carbohydrate diet, and seven a vegetarian diet, with 65 per cent of all Canadians reporting that they do not follow any specific diet plan.

Also notable was a generation-related difference in perceptions of the Mediterranean diet, which was identified as among the most heart-healthy diets by 46 per cent of those ages 58 and above, whereas only 14 per cent of those aged 18 to 25, and 24 per cent of those aged 26 to 41, and 28 per cent of those aged 42 to 57 recognized it as such.

"The survey results indicate that more awareness is needed regarding the considerable impact that diet and other lifestyle habits can have on heart health. It is important that people realize that a large percentage of heart disease is preventable through a healthier diet, avoidance of weight gain, regular exercise, and not smoking. Given that heart disease is the second leading cause of death and a leading cause of hospitalization in Canada, this could have an enormous positive impact," said Anil Maheshwari, MD, Medical Director of the Weight and Lifestyle Management Program at Cleveland Clinic Canada.

Preschool Storytime is a fun, interactive and social early literacy program that is a great introduction to the library and the wonderful stories it holds. The program starts at 10:00 a.m. and finishes at 10:30 a.m. at which time the adults and little ones usually socialize and choose books to borrow. We're really looking forward to seeing everyone!

The program is geared towards children aged 3 to 12 but we are flexible. Register your child(ren) by calling 705-647-4215 or email us at info@temisklibrary.com. Remember that your child will need to bring their own LEGO bricks to use at this program.

Christmas Letters to Canadian Armed Forces Members Overseas

Once again this year the Temiskaming Shores Public Library is spreading some Christmas cheer to Canadian Armed Forces members who are serving outside of the country and won't be home for Christmas. We will supply any of our willing patrons either a Christmas card and envelope or stationery and envelope so that they in turn can write an uplifting, positive message to a soldier who isn't able to be home with their family this Christmas. The cards and letters are very much appreciated and we've even had patrons that have received a letter in return from the soldier that received their card. It's a great program and a very small effort on our part to make a big difference in the holiday for the soldiers. This program will be active from November 16 to December 2, 2022 for us to mail them all out to be at CFB Trenton by December 9, 2022. Call the library at 705-647-4215 or drop in to see us to find out more!

Want to get out of the house, spend time with others and discuss some great books? This might be right up your alley!

The library is thinking of starting an afternoon Book Club and is hoping to ascertain if there is enough interest among our adult patrons to make this endeavor worthwhile.

If this is something that would interest you, please come in to see us, give us a call at 705-647-4215 or email us at info@temisklibrary.com.

Northern College Satellite Service Hours

Monday through Thursday: 8-8

Fridays: 8-4

Saturdays and Sundays: 10-3 Closed on statutory holidays.

Mobile Wifi Hotspot Lending program

Need internet access? Check out a portable wifi hotspot to stay connected! The library has received funding through the Temiskaming Health Unit's Digital Divide grant program to add five new devices to our collection. Library members 18 and older may borrow a hotspot for three weeks, for free from the library--there are no fees and the data is provided by the library. The hotspots will work anywhere in the region where there is a cellular connection. Contact the library for more information!

CO₂ Sensor Lending Program

Curious about the air quality in your indoor spaces? The library has a CO₂ Sensor lending program, thanks to a donation by Rise of three Aranet4 Home Air Quality monitors. CO₂ is a gas that is produced when people exhale. As more people remain in a room, CO₂ levels increase quickly if there is not enough fresh air coming into the space. High indoor CO₂ levels can cause tiredness, headaches and other symptoms, and indicate that a space is not well ventilated. High CO₂ levels can also facilitate the spread of airborne infections such as COVID-19. The devices are not CO (Carbon Monoxide) detectors and are not life safety devices. Contact the library to learn more!

Gadget Helper

The library's gadget helper program provides one-on-one help to people in learning to use their tablets, cellphones and laptops. Contact the library and let our staff person know what you would like to learn. Currently we offer weekly 45-minute timeslots on Thursdays. In the past, the gadget helper program has helped patrons with topics from learning to navigate the basics of a new device to downloading ebooks and accessing online resources and even troubleshooting hardware and software issues.

For more information about any of these programs please call us at 705-647-4215, email us at info@temisklibrary.com or pop into the library and speak to one of our friendly staff members.

Under self-isolation guidance, if you have symptoms, you should self-isolate until you have no fever and your symptoms have been improving for 24 hours (or 48 hours for nausea, diarrhea, or vomiting). This will reduce the spread of COVID-19 and other respiratory and gastrointestinal illnesses.

If you have symptoms, test positive, or are a close contact of someone with COVID-19, you should also take additional precautions for 10 days. These include wearing a mask in indoor public settings and avoiding visiting people at a higher risk of illness.

D'après les directives d'auto-isolément, si vous avez des symptômes, vous devriez vous isoler jusqu'à ce que vous n'ayez pas de fièvre et que vos symptômes s'améliorent depuis 24 heures (ou 48 heures pour des nausées, de la diarrhée ou des vomissements). Cela réduira la transmission de la COVID-19 et d'autres maladies respiratoires et gastro-intestinales.

Si vous avez des symptômes, si votre test est positif ou si vous avez un contact étroit avec une personne atteinte de la COVID-19, vous devriez également prendre des précautions supplémentaires jusqu'au jour 10. Ceci inclut porter un masque dans les lieux publics intérieurs et éviter de rendre visite à des personnes à risque plus élevé de maladie.
