Earlton Farm Show feeds a need as big crowds take it in

Sue Nielsen
 Speaker Reporter

EARLTON — Organizers of this year's annual Earlton Farm Show are calling the event a success.

All things agriculture in the district of Temiskaming were on full display at last weekend's 2024 Earlton Farm Show, held at the Rosaire and Wilf Paiement Centre April 12-13.

People could view farm animals, take part in auctions, enjoy a breakfast and lunch, meet old friends and make new ones at the show.

According to organizing committee member Norm Koch, "everything went well, we were really pleased."

He said numbers show roughly 3,500 people attended, down slightly from 3,800 last year.

He thinks it may have been due to the soggy weather that hit the area Friday, April 12.

"The storm came quickly and left quickly," said Koch.

He didn't realize how much rain had fallen because he was inside all day at the Farm Show.

He said the 61 exhibitors provided good feedback to the Farm Show committee in terms of how pleased they were to have taken part in the event.

The show featured the latest technology and innovations used in agriculture.

Fine-tuning the annual Saturday morning memorial breakfast helped to ensure its success this year, mentioned Koch.

"Things ran a lot smoother this year at the breakfast," he said.

This year's breakfast was held to honour René Lacasse, an Earlton resident who died in 2019. He operated a farm in Armstrong Township and was part of the Earlton Co-Op team.

Admission was free but donations of non-perishable food for local food banks was appreciated.

Koch said planning has already begun for the 2025 Earlton Farm Show.

Elk Lake Public School students Audrey Fiset, at back, and Dahlia Robertson Fiset got a feel for field work at the Earlton Farm Show. They were among the first to climb into a combine simulator that made its debut at the farm show April 12. It was built by students in the AgriTech program at Timiskaming District Secondary School and uses a real combine cab to run, in this case, a farming simulation game. There are plans to install GPS and the computer equipment used in an actual combine to give students an even more realistic experience of equipment operation. (Staff photo by Diane Johnston)

Travel tips to make your trip more pleasant

(NC) - There's nothing worse than spending your hard-earned holiday sick in a hotel room. To make sure you can enjoy your trip – and avoid bringing something home that could hurt people, animals or the environment – follow these pro tips:

- Practice good hygiene

Washing your hands frequently, using hand sanitizer when you can't wash your hands and avoiding touching your face are the easiest ways to avoid spreading germs and reduce your risk of getting sick.

- Get your vaccines early

Health experts recommend specific immunizations when visiting certain countries, so check to see what you need. Give yourself plenty of time to get all your doses before you leave, as some vaccination schedules take months to complete – including for hepatitis A and B, which are present in much of the world.

- Be cautious with what you eat

To avoid foodborne illnesses when travelling, be careful with street food, undercooked food and unclean water. Ensure your meals are cooked thor-

Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS) Awareness

Irritable bowel syndrome or IBS is a disorder affecting the intestine. IBS involves problems with motility (movement of digested food through the intestines) and sensitivity (how the brain interprets signals from the intestinal nerves), leading to abdominal pain, changes in bowel patterns and other symptoms.

FAST FACTS:

- Canada has one of the highest rates of IBS in the world; 13-20% of Canadians (approximately 5 – 7.5 million individuals) are living with IBS
- 54% of those with IBS experience symptoms of fatigue
- 40 to 60% of those with IBS experience psychological symptoms, including anxiety disorders and depression
- the primary symptoms are what are commonly referred to as the ABCDs of IBS – Abdominal pain, Bloating, and Constipation and/or Diarrhea

Although each person has a unique IBS experience, this condition can significantly decrease a person's quality of life. Interestingly, only about 40% of people with IBS symptoms will seek help from a health care provider.

DIETARY AND LIFESTYLE MODIFICATIONS

The bowel responds to how and when a person eats, so it is important to eat regular, well-balanced, moderately sized meals rather than erratic, variable meals.

Some people find that dietary fats and the food additive monosodium glutamate (MSG) trigger symptoms. Some find symptoms worsen when consuming large quantities of liquids with meals. Others find that cooking vegetables and fruits lessens IBS symptoms, compared to when eating them raw. People with IBS might need to avoid or decrease consumption of caffeine, nicotine, and alcohol, particularly if the main symptom is diarrhea.

FIBRE

An important step in controlling the symptoms of IBS is to increase dietary fibre. Gradually increase your dietary fibre intake, allowing your body to adjust to the change, but make sure to increase the amount of water you drink as well.

It is important to note that for some IBS patients, a diet excessively high in bran fibre might trigger more frequent diarrhea, while other types of fibre could still be helpful. Consult your primary care provider or dietitian if you have any questions regarding fibre in your diet.

If you are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team or the Cobalt or Latchford Medical Clinics and would like to speak with your primary care provider, one of our mental health workers or our registered dietitian, please call 705-569-3244 for Temagami, 705-679-5466 for Cobalt, or 705-676-2200 for Latchford to schedule an appointment.

Stricter legislation is needed

Months after a one-armed monkey reportedly bit and injured a woman in Latchford, there seems to be no provincial legislation that clearly restricts the ownership of exotic animals.

In November of 2023, a one-armed monkey escaped from a home in Latchford, crossed Highway 11 and bit a woman who was helping a patient into a car at the Latchford Medical Clinic.

There have been no repercussions from this terrible incident so far and municipalities across the north are trying to make the province tighten up the rules around exotic animal ownership.

The issue was discussed at a Temiskaming Municipal Association meeting, where representatives from 20 municipalities across the Temiskaming region heard the mayor of Latchford speak about the issue.

Subsequently, the mayor of Kirkland Lake, Stacy Wight, brought forward a motion at one of the town's recent council meetings asking the province to tighten up the rules concerning exotic animal ownership.

Currently, Ontario has a law to prevent wild animals that are native to the province from being kept in captivity.

But it falls short of exotic animal legislation prohibiting or restricting exotic animal possession and/or breeding of exotic animals in captivity.

The province has essentially shifted the burden to local councils whose bylaws don't have the teeth and enforcement power to protect citizens from being harmed by exotic animal interactions.

The Ontario government needs to restrict the possession, ownership and breeding of exotic animals resulting in a consistent policy across the province.

The burden for this problem has fallen on municipalities and that's not fair.

Comforting melodies

Sue Nielsen

We live in challenging times with news of war reaching us on a daily basis.

The bombs, the drone raids and the war talk have many living in a state of fight or flight.

It seems like the Middle East is a powder keg for the us-versus-them tribal mindset of war.

But there is something quite beautiful that has taken my mind on a different journey these days.

Tweet, tweet, chirp, chirp.

Travel tips

oughly and avoid food that has been sitting out. Wash produce, respect local customs and communicate allergies to staff to lower your risk of getting sick from contaminated food while abroad.

- Build in time for resting

It can be tempting to create a fully packed schedule to get the most out of your trip, but that can leave your body tired and vulnerable to catching a virus that's circulating. Take breaks on busy days and make sure you get enough hours of sleep each night.

- Don't pack restricted foods

Some goods are banned from Canada to protect us and our animals. Food products can carry diseases. This includes pork, which could be contaminated with the highly contagious African swine fever. While this pig disease doesn't infect humans, it can spread to pigs in Canada and seriously harm farmers' livelihoods. If you're travelling, don't pack any pork products.

Find more information at inspection.canada.ca/protect-pigs.

A bird's singing is a thing of beauty to the appreciative ear.

You step outside and immediately hear it, the sounds of spring birdsong is everywhere.

The dawn chorus has begun and it is a joyous sound.

The returning birds are so full of life as they migrate to the Boreal forest to nest and raise their young.

Bird song goes much deeper than the mere songs we hear each day.

They often are meant to mark territory, attract a mate or warn other birds of approaching danger.

I am of the belief birds sing for the pure pleasure of singing.

According to scientists and ornithologists, bird song produces a chemical in their brains much like an opioid.

I know this sounds horrible, but scientists gave fentanyl to starlings and they began to sing their hearts out.

Can you imagine giving American robins fentanyl? Wow, that level of sound might cause an earthquake because they sing loudly enough as it is.

I was up at 4 a.m. the other morning to let my cat outside and sure enough, the birds were singing.

Listening to birdsong and interacting with birds is good for our mental health and well-being.

A study by Kings College in London, England, found that people who interacted with birds reported the sound boosted the mood of depressed people.

I know this past winter I avoided seasonal affective disorder (SAD) by visiting a friend's backyard feeder and making trips to the Hilliardton Marsh Research and Education Centre for my bird fix, which helped with the winter doldrums.

And you know what? Hearing birdsong is far better than listening to drone raids on television, snowplows and lawnmowers any day of the week.

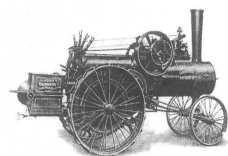

I wonder what the birds sound like in Gaza and Israel these days.

Are they singing mating songs or songs of impending danger?

Prolonged exposure to the horrors of war has taken a great toll on the mental health of the people of Gaza, according to the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.

It is my hope that the people of the Middle East hear the sound of birdsong and that they are comforted by it.

Especially the children.

Transportation Service

Albert Street Reconstruction Project | April 29, 2024

Haileybury Residents. Please be advised, the Albert Street Reconstruction Project is set to begin again on April 29th, 2024.

Please be cautious in the area around construction workers and plan for road closures along the road. The anticipated completion date is not yet known. We thank everyone for their cooperation.
2024 construction is upon us!

Decommissioning Winter Operations

The winter season has come to an end and city staff are performing tasks to decommission winter operations. Thank you for your cooperation in helping keep our streets clear and safe this Winter Season.

Complete Overnight Parking Prohibited | November 1, 2023 to March 31, 2024
Winter Maintenance Season | November 1, 2023 to April, 2024.

In Effect

Weather Monitoring Season | October 1 to April 30.

The minimum standard is to monitor the weather, both current and forecast to occur in the next 24 hours, once every shift or three times per calendar day, whichever is more frequent, at intervals determined by the municipality.

Spring Maintenance Activities

- ◆ Half Load Restrictions
- ◆ Street Sweeping and Spring Clean Up
- ◆ Lawn Repairs
- ◆ Road Repairs
- ◆ Sidewalk Repairs

For further information, visit the city website.

Half Load Restrictions in Effect

March 6, 2024 until June 30, 2024, unless indicated otherwise.

When half-load restrictions are in effect, a road is off-limits to vehicles exceeding 5 tonnes per axle. However, there may be alternate routes that can be taken to reach a destination.

Why

Roads become softer and weaker during the spring thaw. Heavy vehicle traffic on these roadways can cause permanent damage. Following the half-load restrictions reduces the potential for any unnecessary road repairs or reconstruction.

Street Sweeping and Spring Clean-up

The annual spring clean-up includes sweeping all paved roads and some hard surfaces, to remove debris and materials that have accumulated throughout the winter season and could pose dangers to motorists, pedestrians/cyclists as well as clogging up catch basins and inlets.

Residents are asked to help crews clean the city by not parking vehicles on the streets while street sweeping activities are being conducted in the area. Typical hours of operations are Monday to Friday, between 6:30am and 3:00pm beginning in April (weather dependent). Hours of operation may also vary depending on the location that needs to be swept.

To minimize the risk of fire and burn injury, the fire service recommends the following cottage fire safety tips:

Install smoke alarms on every storey and outside all sleeping areas. It's the law for all Ontario homes, cottages, cabins and seasonal homes to have working smoke alarms on every storey and outside all sleeping areas.

- Test smoke alarms at least monthly or each time you return to the cottage. Pack a new smoke alarm and extra smoke alarm batteries in case they need replacement.
- Install and ensure carbon monoxide alarms in your cottage if it has a fuel-burning appliance.
- Develop and practice a home fire escape plan to ensure everyone knows what to do if the smoke alarm sounds.
- Know the telephone number for the local fire department and your cottage's emergency sign number, in case of emergency.
- Clean barbecues before using them. Keep an eye on lit barbecues and ensure all combustibles, as well as children and pets are kept well away from them. Fires can happen when barbecues are left unattended.
- Keep barbecue lighters and matches out of sight and reach of children.
- Remember to bring a flashlight with extra batteries.
- Check heating appliances and chimneys before using them.
- Check with your local fire department, municipality, or Ministry of Natural Resources to determine whether open air burning is permitted before having a campfire or burning brush. If open burning is allowed, fires should be built on bare soil or on exposed rock. Remove leaves and twigs from around the fire to keep it from spreading. Always keep a bucket of water, sand, or even a shovel close by and supervise the fire at all times.
- If you must smoke, do so outside. Keep a large can with water nearby so cigarette butts can be safely discarded. If you drink, do so responsibly. Tobacco use and excessive alcohol consumption are contributing factors in many fires and can lead to serious injuries.
- Burn candles in sturdy candleholders that will not tip and are covered with a glass shade. When you go out, blow out!
