Village Noël opens New Liskeard's Christmas season

TEMISKAMING SHORES – It'll be red, green and – if organizers' weather hopes come true – a little snowy white in New Liskeard next week.

The Christmas season kicks off November 21 with the downtown Night of Lights. It continues November 21-23 with Village Noël Temiskaming. And it wraps up that evening with an illuminated Santa Claus parade.

VILLAGE NOEL

This year marks the tenth since the first Village Noël was established.

"People are beginning to realize that this isn't just a francophone event. It's a community event, and it's for everyone," said Réjeanne Bélisle-Massie, chair of the Village committee and Centre Culturel ARTEM, the event's sponsoring organization.

In a recent interview, Bélisle-Massie described the Village as a family-oriented, festive event that highlights the area's three

RETIRED TEACHERS HELP SENIORS

The RTO/ERO (Retired Teachers of Ontario/Les enseignantes et enseignants retraités de l'Ontario) presented two cheques to the Temiskaming Shores Seniors Housing Corporation November 7. A cheque for $3,927 was made possible through an application for a grant to head office for a project that would benefit seniors and non-profits. A cheque for $200 was also presented, raised through a raffle at the RTO/ERO fall forum held earlier in the day in Earlton. The money will be used to update walking paths and signage at Dymond Court on Grant Drive. Security cameras, already installed, have also been made possible through the donations. Pictured here from the left are Dymond Court Apartments manager Jennifer Edwards; Temiskaming Shores Seniors Housing Corporation board chair Carman Kidd; RTO/ERO District 5 president Sharon Bowes; and chair of community grants Dennis Draves. ## Coleman happy with DTSSAB refund but not rising police costs

Sue Nielsen
Speaker Reporter

COLEMAN TOWNSHIP — At the regularly scheduled November 4 council meeting, Coleman Township council was informed of a refund given to the municipality by DTSSAB of $23,620.

Coleman's chief administrative officer Chris Oslund told mayor and council and citizens Zooming in to the meeting that the township was pleased to see the refund from the District of Temiskaming Social Services Administration Board (DTSSAB).

"They are giving back $800,000 to contributing municipalities from their reserves and this is good news."

But on the other hand, Oslund said the municipality's policing costs have risen by $28,395 (22 per cent). The anticipated increase for policing services in 2025 for the township equates to about two per cent of the total 2024 tax levy.

The township received the Municipal Policing 2025 Annual Billing Statement and it had a sharp increase as well.

He said several municipalities in the Temiskaming region are also dealing with rising policing costs.

He said the costs reflect salaries, benefits, overtime and enhancements to the local policing model.

Compared to previous years, Oslund said this is a substantial increase to the township.

He said municipalities across the region and province have reached out to discuss

Tips to Reduce the Spread of Respiratory Viruses

Every year many people get infections in parts of the body that affect breathing, such as the throat, airways, or lungs (respiratory infections). These infections are usually caused by viruses (germs) like COVID-19, Influenza, RSV, and colds. Other germs such as bacteria can cause infections in the lungs (pneumonia).

How is Ontario's 2024-2025 respiratory season shaping up?

- For influenza, signals are suggesting a November start with a peak in early to mid January.
- This year's wave of RSV is starting 1 month later than the last two years, suggesting a peak for kids in early January followed by a peak for seniors in late January/early February.
- This year's wave of COVID-19 continues to be unpredictable, with new waves driven mainly by new variants emerging. The expectation is a post holiday surge in early January.

Many respiratory infections have the same symptoms but can cause very different illnesses and outcomes. No matter what the respiratory illness is, there are actions that can be taken to help keep yourself and others healthy and stop the spread of respiratory illness.

Preventing Respiratory Illnesses:

- Stay up to date with Influenza, COVID-19, and RSV immunizations;
- Wear a mask when recovering from illness or visiting high risk settings;
- Wash your hands often; avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth with unwashed hands;
- Cough or sneeze into a tissue or the bend of your arm; be sure to dispose of the tissue and wash your hands immediately;
- Stay away from others when you're sick, unless seeking testing or medical care.

Everyone has a role to play to reduce the spread of respiratory viruses. The actions you take will protect you, loved ones and those most vulnerable in your community.

If you are experiencing mild respiratory symptoms and want the opinion of a health care provider, please call your primary care provider's office first before going to the Emergency Room.

Catch and release - does it work?

Utter the worlds “catch and release” and many people may think of fish and anglers putting fish back in the water after catching them. But this is not what we are talking about concerning the judicial system. The catch and release we speak of has to do with violent offenders.

Are Ontario households and citizens being put at risk because of the catch and release form of justice whereby violent offenders are getting released soon after a violent offence?

We know the Ontario courts are backlogged and under strain while prosecutors are overwhelmed with their case-loads.

Some violent repeat offenders are being released on house arrest or put on probation.

Are police sources being demoralized because they go to all the work of catching violent criminals and have to manage repeat arrests within a system that limits their ability to protect public safety?

Taxpayers of Ontario deserve a system that protects the public.

The current opioid crisis has contributed to a desperation among criminals whereby violent crime and theft are the norm in our communities.

We can all agree that breaking bail conditions must have stiffer consequences. Let's not blame the judges and court staff either when it's politicians who must ensure a properly funded justice system protects the public.

Hence the need to focus on getting more resources to the court system, including hiring more justices of the peace in more courts. Increasing the number of drug treatment courts working in partnership with hospitals ensures that people with mental health issues get treatment rather than being charged, all of which would lead to lower recidivism rates.

It is time the judicial system maximizes public safety. We are talking about dangerous violent criminals here, not fish.

A collective fear

Sue Nielsen

It's 3 a.m. and I can't sleep. I have been tossing and turning all night long.

I have been pained by the hate directed at a young girl in my hometown of Cobalt.

It is not often I am at a loss for words but this past week has been hard.

The bright spot came when I attended a Candlelight Vigil for Kaylie Smith, 16, outside St. James Anglican Church exactly one week after she was attacked.

People cried and hugged each other during the vigil showing solidarity with the teen and her family.

Thank God for the people who lived nearby that night who helped the teen as she lay on the ground badly injured.

I live in a community that is filled with beauty and extraordinary human beings.

When she was attacked, I thought about my own daughter.

She lives thousands of miles away in the U.K. I thought about the abuse she has been subjected to from some of her boyfriends.

She often told me how they had tried to control her with abuse.

I reflected on the abuse I myself took from boyfriends and a partner over the years.

I think every woman and girl at some point can relate to some form of violence or abuse. We have had to look over our shoulders, keep our voices down and fade into the background to avoid being beaten up.

It's a sad fact that we have to live in fear of violence simply because of our gender.

And you know what our biggest fear is? Not being believed about the violence.

Because on some level, we fear that people will say we are crazy and because we said no and we wore a short skirt we deserved it.

And deep down we know that isn't true.

We cannot deny intimate partner violence has reached epidemic proportions in our communities.

We are outraged at what happened to this young girl and we want meaningful change whereby the violence stops.

The truth is simple anger management skills can and should be taught to children and adolescents.

The bottom line is we don't want men to protect us, we are asking that men stop being the thing that we need protection from.

Uncontrolled anger has become our Number One mental health issue.

Please know that one word, one hug, one smile, a nod of compassion of seeing another human heart can transform a heart that is in pain, that is suffering. That is what the vigil did for so many people.

The organizer of the candlelight vigil, Angie, helped to make it a special event, the good, kind men from the Cobalt Fire Department and others, you make this world better and kinder.

I hope for a better world, a less violent and more compassionate world.

How to plan a winter holiday for less

(NC) - Are you already starting to feel the winter blues? Then you may be in need of a winter getaway.

But, if you're worried about being able to afford a holiday right now, here are some tips from Air Canada Vacations that can help you plan an affordable holiday.

BOOK EARLY

Booking as early as possible has two key advantages.

For one, you'll have the best selection of destinations and travel options before the prime spots get booked up. Plus, the further in advance that you book your holiday, the better the deals you'll likely find. Now, for example, is a great time to find deals for a European holiday in winter, spring and even beyond. Once your travel and accommodations are confirmed, look into pre-booking tickets for any bucket-list excursions to avoid disappointment.

CONSIDER DIFFERENT OPTIONS

It's peak season for beach resorts and ski hills so unless you already have an early bird deal or get lucky with a last-minute booking, you may be priced out of those destinations.

But that doesn't mean you can't get out of town for a bit. Consider more affordable temperate locations where you can shed your winter clothes while exploring the local cuisine, culture and attractions.

COMPARISON SHOP

Think about the type of consumer you are: do you like to choose things a la carte, or do you prefer package deals? You can play around with different flight times, the calibre of accommodations, and the excursions and attractions you're interested in to find an itinerary that fits your budget. Or you can search through various curated self-guided or guided tour packages that take care of the planning for you. Pre-set packages often build in volume discounts so you can see and do more for less.

USE YOUR POINTS

Most of us have a variety of rewards cards or apps that we use for different purchases. With some, you can use the points to book everything from flights and hotels, to complete resort stays, including travel.

Find more tips on how to save on travel at aircanadavacations.com.

Stay Connected | Restez connecté

Staying social helps build relationships and improves your mental health. People with strong social networks are more active, feel happier, and are more supported. Staying in touch with neighbours, friends, and family can help keep your social network strong. Consider the use of technology to connect with loved ones or to try virtual programs and activities.

L'activité sociale vous permet de nouer des relations et d'améliorer votre santé mentale. Les personnes qui ont de solides réseaux sociaux sont plus actives et plus heureuses et elles se sentent mieux soutenues que les autres. Rester en contact avec vos voisins, vos amis et vos proches peut vous aider à renforcer votre réseau social. Songez à utiliser la technologie pour maintenir des liens avec vos êtres chers ou pour participer à des activités et à des programmes virtuels.

Stay Safe | Restez en sécurité

Be sure to get your vaccinations including boosters for protection from diseases that are particularly prevalent and serious in older adults, such as shingles COVID-19 and influenza (flu). Be cautious of financial scams in order to protect yourself from fraud.

Les personnes âgées devraient accorder la priorité à la vaccination, y compris aux doses de rappel, pour se protéger contre les maladies qui sont particulièrement répandues et graves chez les aînés, comme le zona, la COVID-19 et la grippe. Il est aussi important de se méfier de la fraude financière.

the rise in policing costs and that the Federation of Northern Ontario Municipalities and the Temiskaming Municipal Association (TMA) will be discussing the issue at upcoming meetings.

Councillor Lois Perry, who is also the chair of the TMA, said the increases to area municipalities range from 18 to 24 per cent.

She said the TMA would be addressing the issue at an upcoming November meeting.

"It looks like the wage increase is retroactive to two years ago and $15,000 from our bill was for retroactive costs," said Oslund.

He also said this issue of rising police costs is a hot topic which may come up if there is a provincial election called in the near future.

HOROSCOPE

WEEK OF
NOVEMBER 17 TO 23, 2024

THE LUCKIEST SIGNS THIS WEEK:
LEO, VIRGO AND LIBRA

ARIES
Communication may be difficult this week. You won't be able to reach certain people. However, suddenly they'll be the first to contact you, and your phone will be ringing off the hook.

TAURUS
You'll be quite popular this week, and you'll have a lot to share. Your social life will be very active, whether in person or online. Expect your partner to spoil you with acts of kindness.

GEMINI
Shopping will take up some of your time this week, and you'll be inspired to redesign your home. You might even be tempted to buy some early Christmas decorations.

CANCER
Your imagination will know no bounds this week! However, you might get into a bit of a slump. You'll immerse yourself in creating a work of art or indulge in binge-watching a TV series. Creativity is key.

LEO
You may not always thrive in crowds, but you'll come across inspiring individuals who'll motivate you to take on new challenges. Expect to develop meaningful new friendships.

VIRGO
You may procrastinate this week, but your loved ones will help you get your priorities straight while keeping things light. You may have a new lease on life after this experience.

LIBRA
A spontaneous trip is on the horizon, even if you think it's unrealistic. On the job, you'll work with a diverse clientele that will bring you abundance. Keep an open mind when opportunities arise.

SCORPIO
You'll need to take on many responsibilities at work and home. Your hard work will be acknowledged, and you'll be rewarded for your efforts. Recognition and gratitude are coming your way.

SAGITTARIUS
Change is coming! Go with the flow, and your worries will fade away. Sentimental projects will happen faster than expected. Be open to opportunities.

CAPRICORN
You must address financial, professional or personal matters; negotiations may become tense. You must strike the right balance in all aspects of your life to find peace.

AQUARIUS
Love will take up a big part of your week. Prepare to be romanced! Expect an awkward, perhaps unexpected and unreciprocated confession of love from a colleague.

PISCES
Take some time off to recover from a cold. Spend a few days at home and bring some work home with you over the weekend to catch up. The moon will boost your imagination, inspiration and intuition.

ENGLEHART - ONTARIO

Village Noël opens New Liskeard's Christmas season

cultures – francophone, anglophone and Indigenous.

Attendance last year was estimated at just under 10,000.

She stressed that the event would not be possible without the help of almost 200 volunteers.

The fall fairgrounds will once again be Village-central.

Outdoor kiosks will house three-dozen artists and artisans from across Temiskaming and as far away as Val-d'Or, North Bay and Sudbury. They include about 10 food vendors to satisfy hungry visitors.

"We have a lot of new vendors, and a lot more food this year," she said.

The Riverside Farmers' Market has also extended its hours to run in conjunction with the Village Noël. About 30 vendors are expected to be on site.

November 22 is a school day.

Students can learn about subjects as varied as shoemaking, the life of a voyageur, wood carving, and legends of the Métis.

They can try their hands at sawing logs, driving nails, and playing a variety of games both old and new. More heritage games have been added.

Also new this year is a warming tent where visitors can duck inside, admire lap quilts made by local schools, and even see a film about life in New France.

Bélisle-Massie said there will be more local entertainment on the outdoor stage.

Attendees can also join in some folk dances and take in performances by Les Bilinguist Boys and strolling troubadour André Thériault.

And Saint-Nicholas has a brand new sleigh, she said.

This year's event runs 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. November 21, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. November 22, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. November 23.

Admission is free.

NIGHT OF LIGHTS

Just outside the Village gates will be the Night of Lights, organized by the downtown New Liskeard Business Improvement Area group.

Visitors are invited to gather at the downtown cenotaph park for the annual illumination of the Christmas lights at 6 p.m. November 21.

Santa and Mrs. Claus are expected to make an appearance, and people can pick up a bag of treats.

PARADE

The Santa Claus parade will bring the festivities to a seasonally enlightened end on November 23.

The New Liskeard Lions' Santa Claus parade of illuminated floats is set to begin winding its way through the downtown at 5 p.m.

Participants can access the organizing area, located in the lot behind Timiskaming District Secondary School, by Scott Street. They should be on site by 4 p.m.

Notice of Public Information Centre 2+1 Roadway Model Pilot Project on Highway 11

THE PROJECT

The Ministry of Transportation (MTO) has retained AECOM Canada Ltd (AECOM) to undertake the Design and Class Environmental Assessment (EA) for a 2+1 Roadway Model Pilot Project on Highway 11 at two locations, between the City of North Bay and the Municipality of Temagami. A 2+1 highway is a three-lane highway that typically involves a passing lane that changes directions approximately every two to five kilometres. The two locations selected for the Project include the following as shown on the key map:

- GWP 5151-21-00: Highway 11 from Sand Dam Road northerly to Ellsmere Road (13.8 km) located in the Townships of Merrick, Blyth, Notman and Lyman in the District of Nipissing in the Electoral Riding of Temiskaming-Cochrane.
- GWP 5033-22-00: Highway 11 from 4.6 km north of Highway 64 northerly 11.4 km to 340 m south of Jumping Caribou Road in the Townships of Sisk, Olive and Law within the Municipality of Temagami, the District of Nipissing and in the Electoral Riding of Temiskaming-Cochrane.

The purpose of the Project is to reconstruct/reconfigure and widen Highway 11 at two locations to accommodate a 2+1 facility, rehabilitate other elements of the highway including frost heaves and pavement distress areas, and complete various safety and operational improvements.
