STRUCTURE FIRE

A person renting the Golden Age Club in Cobalt alerted the Cobalt Fire Department to a smell of smoke in the building on October 4. Fire fighters arrived on the scene and put out a fire in the wall of the building, minimizing damage to the structure. There were no injuries reported. The Golden Age Club advises members that their fundraising dinner on Saturday, October 18, will take place at the Coleman Township Community Hall beginning at 5 p.m. (Staff photo by Sue Nielsen)

Cobalt supports call to ban widely used herbicide

Joe Hornyak

Speaker Reporter

COBALT – When Cobalt Councillor Doug Wilcox was about eight years old, he went to collect blueberries in the bush, dreaming of blueberry muffins, pies and pancakes.

When his bucket was about three quarters full, a gentleman from the department of lands and forest came walking out of the woods and told the young Wilcox he had to dump his bucket as the area had just been sprayed.

He shared this with Cobalt town council at its September 16 meeting to argue in favour of supporting a Township of Moonbeam resolution asking the federal and provincial governments to immediately end the aerial spraying of glyphosate for forestry.

The Moonbeam resolution notes the chemical poses significant biodiversity loss; harmful health effects on wildlife; loss of use of land for recreational, tourism and hunting/gathering purposes; water contamination; and concerns about the effects on human health.

There is also a loss of biodiversity as glyphosate kills broadleaf plants and reduces habitat diversity. This can lead to soil erosion due to the loss of vegetation and loss of habitat and nutrient sources for wildlife, insects and aquatic life. Glyphosate promotes monoculture, which reduces forest resilience, and also kills non-targeted species such as moose, birds, snowshoe hares and insects.

It can also contaminate drinking water sources and chronic exposure to glyphosate is suspected of having a negative impact on human health, including endocrine disruption and concerns that it is carcinogenic.

Wilcox said, "oddly enough, it's only later that I realized that all kinds of other things, like bears and moose, also eat blueberries."

Glyphosate is an ingredient in Roundup, a brand name for a herbicide that has been at the centre of substantial legal and scientific controversies.

Council agreed, as Wilcox suggested, it "jumped on the bandwagon" and called for an end to its use.

Being subjective

Sue Nielsen

We have been fortunate to be blessed with a warm fall and in years past we would call that an Indian summer.

But we don't use those culturally inappropriate words these days because when we know better we do better.

The common loons are moaning these days.

I don't know exactly why, they could be dreading the fact they have to fly thousands of miles in the coming weeks to warmer climates.

They could be bemoaning the fact they have to leave beautiful Northern Ontario?

Or they could be sad they are losing their habitats, clean, clear lakes and untouched shorelines.

For the first time in many years the loons failed to successfully nest on the lake I frequent.

The presence of the loons with their haunting calls has helped me to ground myself, appreciating the natural world around me.

In the context of someone who is on her spirit journey now, the world is moaning the loss of conservationist Jane Goodall.

She died at age 91 of natural causes while on a speaking tour in Los Angeles.

She knew the north, she came to Sudbury and Science North quite often to speak and I know the City of Sudbury was paying tribute to her last week.

Goodall was a force to be reckoned with - her value system of curiosity, courage, and commitment to animals and the planet.

She showed us how to look closely, listen and to act, not to turn away from issues affecting the natural world.

Let us continue her activist legacy by protecting natural habitats, wetlands, to defend wildlife and genuinely care about the wild world around us.

I like her quote: "The greatest danger to our future is apathy."

Her words should resonate with many, sadly there are those who are not listening.

I still see people spraying harsh pesticides on their lawns near open water and somehow not realizing the ducks, loons, fish, frogs, snakes and turtles will be harmed and even killed.

All over the region I see people messing with shorelines, removing the natural vegetation growing there.

The shoreline is a place where birds nest and creatures come to source food such as frogs, snakes and clams.

I am seeing trees being cut down across the region for absolutely no reason.

Trees, bogs and swamps provide homes for birds, they prevent soil erosion and flooding and are carbon emission storage systems offsetting climate change.

Hunter S. Thompson said to get at the truth about terrible things you have to "get subjective."

I am sure Jane would love it if we all get subjective about our environment and the damage done to wild spaces in the name of progress.

HOROSCOPE

Week of October 12 to 18, 2025

ARIES

This week, you'll realize how important you are to your employer. This will translate into a well-deserved raise and exciting new opportunities. In your love life, you'll take meaningful steps to plan experiences that reflect the depth of your feelings.

TAURUS

You'll make your days at work better by sharing happy moments and using your energy to have engaging conversations. Don't hesitate to share your ideas; they'll energize your discussions and strengthen your connections.

GEMINI

If you're facing financial challenges, negotiating the terms of a loan could result in a solution that improves your quality of life. Additionally, by paying more attention to your partner, you will strengthen your relationship and create a sense of peace between you.

CANCER

In your love life, focus on fairness by considering your partner's needs when you're making decisions. At work, pay close attention to details; the smallest things can make all the difference.

LEO

Prioritize sleep this week. Sufficient rest is crucial to maintaining focus and staying healthy. When your body has the rest it needs, it will boost your creativity, making you better able to achieve impressive results.

VIRGO

Many friends will reach out to you this week. You may find yourself distracted by social media. A family commitment will help you refocus. You'll also discover a new art form that will captivate your interest and awaken your senses.

LIBRA

Work emergencies could pile up this week. However, your family will step up to help lighten your load at home. You'll create a warm, inviting atmosphere and spread joy with your infectious smile.

SCORPIO

Before diving into a new project, gather all the necessary information to set yourself up for success. Although you haven't planned a romantic weekend getaway, a tempting and unexpected adventure could arise.

SAGITTARIUS

You must show courage to succeed in your career. Commit to ongoing training and adapt to your changing work environment. These adjustments will ensure stability and drive your professional growth.

CAPRICORN

Small details matter. Your appearance and how you present yourself will directly impact your career advancement. You'll treat yourself to a few personal indulgences this week. Your friends will encourage you to spoil yourself with these well-deserved treats.

AQUARIUS

You'll receive very positive news about your health this week. A new treatment or medication will improve your well-being. You'll be given various urgent tasks at work. Fortunately, you'll handle them with grace.

PISCES

You'll attract fascinating individuals with your undeniable charm, increasing your romantic prospects. At the same time, you'll successfully expand your client base, which will delight your boss. Thanks to your charisma, the company's sales revenue will double.

Fire Prevention Week

OCTOBER 5-11, 2025

Charge into Fire Safety™: Lithium-Ion Batteries in Your Home

House fires: are you aware of the dangers of electricity?

Fire Prevention Week runs from October 5 to 11, 2025. This year highlights the importance of electrical safety in the home. Did you know that half of all residential fires are caused by human error? Here are some simple tips to keep you safe.

- Always buy electrical appliances that are CSA or ULC approved. Take the time to read the manufacturer’s instructions for safe use.
- Avoid using extension cords for long periods. They’re only intended for temporary use.
- Never try to fix or alter electrical devices yourself, and never strip any wires.
- If you notice any drops in power or flickering lights, get a certified electrician to check your electrical system.
- Get rid of damaged, very old or non-compliant electrical appliances as soon as possible by taking them to an authorized disposal point.
- As soon as you notice any wear and tear, replace the protective covers on your electrical outlets, junction boxes and switches.

- Never paint over electrical wires or extension cords.
- Always use the charger that came with your device, or a compatible one that’s approved for use.
- When using a power strip, only plug in low-power devices like lamps or TVs.

Remember that you can never be completely safe from electrical fires. Smoke alarms are still the most effective way to save lives. Make sure you have functioning smoke alarms on every floor of your home and check them twice a year.

Want to find out what activities are happening near you during Fire Prevention Week? Visit the campaign’s official website and social media page, as well as those of your local municipality or fire department.

How to prevent fires caused by cigarettes and e-cigarettes

Every year, cigarettes that aren't properly extinguished and issues with e-cigarettes lead to numerous preventable fires. You can avoid these incidents by following some simple preventive measures. Here's how to stay safe.

SMOKING CIGARETTES

If you smoke cigarettes, follow these tips:

- Use a stable, deep, heat-resistant

ashtray

- Refrain from smoking when under the influence of drugs or medication
- Never smoke in bed or while lying down, such as on a sofa
- Before disposing of ashtray contents, place them in a metal container to allow the ashes to cool
- Avoid stubbing out cigarettes in plants or mulch

VAPING

If you vape, take these precautions:

- Use only the manufacturer's charger and accessories
  - Don't leave your e-cigarette plugged in for extended periods or unattended
  - Stop using your e-cigarette if it's damaged
  - Keep your e-cigarette in a protective case when carrying it in your pockets
- Always keep your smoking items out of reach of children. Remember, every action counts in preventing tragedies. Take responsibility for your safety and the safety of others.

Electrical equipment and devices are responsible for nearly one-quarter of all residential building fires.

Questions to ask about your first mammogram

Mammograms are an essential part of preventative care for women over the age of 40. Although getting your first mammogram can feel overwhelming, being well-informed can help ease your anxiety and ensure that you make the most of your appointment.

1. WHAT CAN I EXPECT DURING THE PROCEDURE?

Understanding what happens step by step can make the experience less intimidating. Ask how long the test will take, whether it might be uncomfortable, and what you should wear.

2. WILL THE MAMMOGRAM BE 2D OR 3D?

Standard 2D mammograms are widely available and considered reliable for screening. A 3D mammogram can provide more detailed images and may be recommended for people with dense breast tissue.

3. WHEN AND HOW WILL I GET MY RESULTS?

Make sure you know when to expect your results and how you'll receive them. Your clinic may provide results by phone, mail or online portal. Ask if a follow-up appointment is necessary.

4. WHAT HAPPENS IF SOMETHING ABNORMAL IS FOUND?

It's good to be prepared. Most abnormalities aren't cancer, but it's wise to know what additional steps might be needed, such as more imaging or a biopsy.

5. HOW OFTEN SHOULD I HAVE A MAMMOGRAM?

Guidelines can vary based on age, family history and risk factors. Typically, women aged 40 to 74 should have a mammogram every two years. Ask your provider for a personalized screening schedule.

Cubs back home Friday after weekend split with Soo U16

Sue Nielsen
Local Journalism Initiative
Reporter

SAULT STE. MARIE — The Cubs won and lost on the road last weekend in Sault Ste. Marie during a two-game series with the U16 Soo Jr. Greyhounds.

On October 4 the Cubs were outrun by the Greyhounds 3-2, but the next day, Sunday, October 5, they bounced back and blanked the Greyhounds 3-0.

Cub goalie Morgan Hyndman earned his second shutout of the young season in net.

New Liskeard's record in the Great North U18 AAA League is currently at two wins and two losses.

Head coach Jonathan Blier said it wasn't their best game on Saturday but he was pleased the way his team bounced back to win the next day.

"It wasn't our best game, we tried to keep it close. Goalie Cooper Peever kept us in the game with some big saves. We tried to take what went our way and brought it to the game on Sunday," said Blier in a telephone interview.

GREYHOUNDS 3 CUBS 2

The Greyhounds set the tone early when Logan Watson scored, assisted by Reegan Dezoro.

But the Cubs quickly answered back with a goal from Emerik Bray, assisted by Uilliam Noll and Ethan Roy.

Early in the second period Ashton Neufeld and Bailey Fitzpatrick put the Greyhounds back in the lead at 3-1.

The Cubs managed to score another goal in the third period from Kobe Simpson, assisted by Lucas Daviau and Kieran McCoy, but couldn't find the equalizer.

Peever took the loss in net for the Cubs while Phoenix Bell skated away with the win for the Soo.

The Cubs had four penalties to the Greyhounds' six.

CUBS 3 GREYHOUNDS 0

Less than 24 hours after that tough loss, the Cubs bounced back Sunday against the Soo.

The game was scoreless after the first period until the Cubs were boosted by a second period goal from Morgan Curran, assisted by Keiran McCoy.

New Liskeard came out in the third period determined to win and boosted by goals from McCoy and Roy. Assisting on the McCoy goal were Owen Robinson and Kyle Cloutier.

Each team took four penalties in the game.

COMING UP

The New Liskeard Cubs have a three-game weekend coming up.

It begins with their next game against the U18 Trappers on Thursday, October 9, at Memorial Gardens in North Bay at 7:30 p.m.

On Friday, October 10, the Cubs host the U18 Sudbury Wolves at the Don Shepherdson Memorial Arena beginning at 8 p.m.

The Cubs are back at Memorial Gardens on Sunday, October 12, to play the U18 Trappers for an afternoon matchup beginning at 2:30 p.m.
