Northlander train shelters taking shape

Joe O'Grady
Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES - It's full steam ahead for the return of the Northlander passenger train with work progressing on a new Temiskaming Shores passenger shelter at the former site of the Ontario Northland station off Jaffray Street.

The shelter will be one of nine along the route, including ones in Temagami. Matheson, Swastika, South River, Huntsville, Bracebridge, Gravenhurst and Washago.

The shelters will provide passengers with a "safe, accessible space to wait for the train," Ontario Northland Transportation Commission (ONTC) officials said in an information package.

"The shelters will be equipped with ample lighting, real-time train arrival updates, CCTV security cameras and Wi-Fi access, offering a consistent, modern experience for passengers travelling along the corridor."

These shelters will complement three existing stations in Englehart, North Bay and Cochrane which are currently undergoing accessibility upgrades and platform improvements to prepare for the return of passenger service.

Work on the shelters and stations follows another important milestone with the recently completed bypass at the busy North Bay rail yard. The 982-metre track will improve travel times by 15 minutes to North Bay station.

Officials are hoping to relaunch the passenger rail service by next year, more than a decade-and-a-half after the original Northlander was cancelled as a provincial government cost-cutting measure in 2012. The current provincial government announced a $75 million investment to bring back the Northlander in 2022 and has already contracted new trains and infrastructure upgrades. Work is also under way upgrading the Northern terminal station in Timmins.

Timiskaming-Cochrane MPP John Vanthof, a staunch advocate for the return of passenger rail service for the north, praised the ONTC for its work and acknowledged the efforts of the current Ontario Conservative government in bringing it back. While the NDP MPP said his job is to critique the provincial government, there are times to also give credit where it's due.

"We are supportive (of the Northlander plan)," he said.

"Losing the Northlander was a stake in our hearts and we have been pushing relentlessly (for its return.)"

Vanthof said he is eager to see the pricing for the new rail service and will work with the province and the ONTC to try to ensure the Northlander is an affordable option to attract usage. Under its previous incarnation, the service had become too expensive for many potential passengers, contributing to its dwindling ridership, he suggested.

Vanthof said efforts must also continue to promote rail usage, not just for people, but for goods and services. This dovetails with another of his priorities - promoting road safety in Northern Ontario.

"Everyone in the North wants to get trucks off the road," he said, adding rail can play an important role.

Armstrong exploring pick up of business recyclables

Darlene Wroe

*Local Journalism Initiative
Reporter*

ARMSTRONG TOWNSHIP - Armstrong Township staff have advised businesses in the municipality that Friday, December 19, will be the last day that commercial recycling collection will be provided by the township.

Staff intend to collect the recycling bins from business properties and the businesses will then be responsible for arranging their own private recycling services.

The township has been charging the businesses for the arrangement which saw GFL Environmental picking up the recyclables, but that service ends at the end of 2025. The collection fee will be removed from the commercial tax bills, businesses are being told.

The municipality states that along with other municipalities it is advocating "for the province to include business recycling under the new producer responsibility framework."

The province has made producers responsible for organizing pickup of residential recyclables from across Ontario, but not those generated by businesses.

Armstrong is "also exploring a shared commercial recycling truck in partnership with neighbouring municipalities to service businesses in multiple communities," township businesses were told in a notice sent to them. However, nothing has been finalized and businesses are being advised to look into arranging their own private recycling services if that is required in the new year.

In an email interview, Armstrong's chief administrative officer Dan Thibeault explained that "the challenge is that, as of January 1, 2026, business and residential recycling can no longer be collected in the same truck."

The provincial government's Ontario Ministry of Environment, Conservation and Parks has made producers responsible for residential recycling pickup and removed the responsibility from municipalities. However, some recycling, including that produced by businesses, is not eligible for pickup.

Circular Materials Ontario has been tasked as the operations manager and has hired GFL to pick up the recyclables in Armstrong, as well as many other municipalities in the region.

GFL has been picking up business recycling in the township through an agreement with the municipality, but that ends at the end of the year. Producers responsible for the program have said it cannot continue past that date.

"For small municipalities like ours, that creates logistical and cost challenges since it's not practical to send a separate truck just for businesses," said Thibeault.

"We're still exploring options for how business recycling collection can be managed and where it can be dropped off."

OPTIONS

At the township's October 15 council meeting, council and staff discussed the possible options for managing the business recycling.

In response to a query from the province, the Producer Responsibility Organizations (PRO) looked at the possibility of making an arrangement with the municipalities and First Nations to collaborate on handling recycling waste generated at businesses.

However, PRO has concluded it does not have the capacity to add business recyclables to its service.

The organization wrote that "procuring additional collection vehicles would require 18 to 24 months lead time based on current supply chain realities, leaving the (collection system) without sufficient collection vehicles to service the eligible sources (residential) on January 1. This would impact resident collection services."

The organization stated in a letter received by the municipality that it could "allow the blending of eligible source and (business) blue box material at depots with producers and municipalities assuming operational and financial responsibility for each party's respective proportionate share of the blended materials."

EDITORIAL

Ontario Public Libraries Week

Reading is a lifelong skill that fosters critical thinking in a world infused with misinformation. Reading leads to continuous learning, which leads to better employment opportunities and even better health outcomes.

It is Ontario Public Library Week, celebrated from October 19-25.

From a person's first story-time experience to lifelong learning, libraries are here for us at every stage of life.

According to the Canadian Urban Libraries Council, there are 213 libraries across the province.

Certainly in our region most of the municipalities in our coverage area either have a library or support one.

What is wonderful about each library is that they have their own special collections, some are historical in nature, others are art centric, and so on.

It goes without question that supporting libraries with tax dollars is a no-brainer because of the benefits to the communities that libraries serve.

Libraries are valuable because they provide free access to information, promote literacy and education, bridge the digital divide and serve as community hubs.

Let us celebrate our public libraries that provide free and open access to learning and not restrict their valuable services with tighter and tighter budgets.

And let's thank all the dedicated library staffers for their knowledge and expertise that often goes unnoticed.

Let's go Blue Jays!

Sue Nielsen

I had tears in my eyes after the Toronto Blue Jays won the American League Championship Series against the Seattle Mariners in game seven this week.

Mind you I had no fingernails left and I thought I had pulled out half of my hair as well.

I nervously gobbled down almost a bag of Werther's candy during the sixth and seventh inning of Game Seven when we were behind 3-1.

Then the game exploded when Toronto's George Springer hit a three-run home run to put us ahead by a run.

A Springer Dinger when we needed it the most.

What an incredible moment for the Jays team, the franchise, the city of Toronto, Rogers Communications, us fans and the entire country.

In a time when tensions are tight between the U.S. and Canada over tariffs and the 51st state moniker, we ruled, they drooled.

I thought of my dad when the Jays won game seven.

He would have been over the moon proud of the Jays.

He put the Toronto Star's front page photos of when the team won the World Series in 1992 and '93 on the walls.

I wish we were still able to purchase the Toronto Star in our region but, alas, that is a story about newspapers and profitability to save for another day.

I came into work the morning after the big game and shouted "Let's Go Blue Jays" and waited for reply.

Sure enough, the ads people replied with their own victory chants and we were on our way to showing our Speaker pride for this amazing team.

When you talk about team effort, the Jays are the poster child for teamwork.

There are no small roles on great teams.

Because of their beliefs, the Jays worked longer and harder as selfless athletes.

The managerial staff are to be commended for how they handled the team from spring training onward.

Manager John Schneider deserves all the credit he gets for bringing this team to the World Series.

I just wish he didn't have such a potty mouth during interviews.

There are kids all over the country watching and listening to those interviews.

The Jays will meet up with the Los Angeles Dodgers on Friday of this week in game one of the World Series in Toronto.

Wow, I was checking ticket prices and they range from a thousand dollars in the nose-bleed section to $15,000 behind the plate.

The Jays will have to be on their game against the likes of Dodgers Shohei Ohtani, Freddy Freeman, Mookie Betts and Teoscar Hernandez.

Thank you so much Toronto Blue Jays for an incredible season and post-season play.

The entire country is proud of you and stand behind you as you compete for the holy grail of baseball, the World Series trophy.

We want it all!

Spirometry Screening for Asthma and COPD

Spirometry is a common and effective diagnostic test that can easily be done in your health care provider's office. Spirometry is the most reliable way to test your lungs for COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) and asthma. The earlier it's done, the earlier lung disease can be detected and treated.

Who should have spirometry testing?

- People with asthma
- Spirometry is an important diagnosis and management tool for people with asthma. If you have asthma and have never had a spirometry test, please talk to our respiratory therapist about spirometry.
- Smokers and former smokers

If you are over 40 and smoke or used to smoke, you may have COPD. Take this quick test:

	Yes	No
1 Do you cough regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2 Do you cough up phlegm regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3 Do even simple chores make you short of breath?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4 Do you wheeze when you exert yourself (exercise, go up stairs)?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5 Do you get many colds, and do your colds usually last longer than your friends' colds?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answered "Yes" to one or more of these questions, you may have symptoms of COPD. See our respiratory therapist to find out what is causing your symptoms

Why should I see a respiratory therapist? Can't it wait?

If you get early treatment for COPD you can slow down the damage to your lungs.

If you are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team, the Cobalt Medical Centre or the Latchford Medical Clinic and would like to have spirometry screening with our Registered Respiratory Therapist, please call (705) 569-3244 (Temagami), (705) 679-5466 (Cobalt) or (705) 676-2200 (Latchford) to request an appointment.

Early detection and intervention contribute to the best possible health outcomes!

GEMINI

It's easier to negotiate when your emotions aren't involved. Be careful, as your children may try to take advantage of your kindness to gain certain privileges. Maintain your vigilance and don't give in to their requests too easily.

CANCER

You may, for no apparent reason, have a sense of uneasiness this week. However, this discomfort could prompt you to consult a specialist sooner rather than later, so you get the care you need to improve your well-being.

LEO

You'll accomplish something remarkable this week that fills you with pride and boosts your self-confidence. This achievement will help you flourish. In addition, you'll be just the right person to help someone navigate a tricky situation.

VIRGO

Changing your diet will help you reach your health goals. Additionally, the idea of starting a small home business may spark your interest and give you the energy you need to succeed.

LIBRA

Your loved ones will seek you out for exciting moments and meaningful conversations. If you're in a new relationship, you'll have serious discussions with your partner about the future. The possibility of moving in together or starting a family may come up.

SCORPIO

At work, a promotion with a pay raise is on the horizon. Be cautious, though, as some colleagues might envy your success. In your love life, a new beginning will bring happy moments.

SAGITTARIUS

You'll spend quality time with your loved ones this week. By managing your schedule wisely, you'll turn even your professional responsibilities into enjoyable experiences.

CAPRICORN

This week, you'll reflect deeply on your life journey, and your thoughts will lead to valuable insights. Your creativity will enhance your well-being. Don't forget to step outside to clear your mind and recharge your batteries.

AQUARIUS

If you're single, you'll receive an invitation to go on an outing with your friends. This invitation will help you reconnect with the more social side of life. Social media could also help you make new friends or expand your client base.

PISCES

Challenges will pile up this week. Fortunately, your ability to manage your priorities will keep you moving forward. Be careful, however, not to let anxiety about time constraints overwhelm your daily life or dampen your mood.

Questions to ask about your first mammogram

Mammograms are an essential part of preventative care for women over the age of 40. Although getting your first mammogram can feel overwhelming, being well-informed can help ease your anxiety and ensure that you make the most of your appointment.

1. WHAT CAN I EXPECT DURING THE PROCEDURE?

Understanding what happens step by step can make the experience less intimidating. Ask how long the test will take, whether it might be uncomfortable, and what you should wear.

2. WILL THE MAMMOGRAM BE 2D OR 3D?

Standard 2D mammograms are widely available and considered reliable for screening. A 3D mammogram can provide more detailed images and may be recommended for people with dense breast tissue.

3. WHEN AND HOW WILL I GET MY RESULTS? Make sure you know when to expect your results and how you'll receive them. Your clinic may provide results by phone, mail or online portal. Ask if a follow-up appointment is necessary.

4. WHAT HAPPENS IF SOMETHING ABNORMAL IS FOUND? It's good to be prepared. Most abnormalities aren't cancer, but it's wise to know what additional steps might be needed, such as more imaging or a biopsy.

5. HOW OFTEN SHOULD I HAVE A MAMMOGRAM? Guidelines can vary based on age, family history and risk factors. Typically, women aged 40 to 74 should have a mammogram every two years. Ask your provider for a personalized screening schedule.

HOG LINE REPORT

With Angus McStone

Rings are in, lines are set and the final conditioning of the ice for play has begun at the Haileybury Curling Club (HCC).

Open House is set for Wednesday and Thursday (October 29 and 30) from 7 to 9 p.m. Come on out and work out the golf kinks and replace them with the curling groans. Toss a few up and down, get your membership paid and be ready to rock the house for the 2025-26 season!

Membership rates are up a bit from last year. Students may curl any day and any league for $250. New members join for $300. Afternoon Open Curling is $325 (Tuesdays and Thursdays for 22 weeks). Mixed League or Men's League entry is $400 per person for the season and an all access pass is $500. Rates are payable at the open houses or on the first night of the appropriate draws.

Men's Draw is Wednesday night, with first stone at 7:30 p.m., while the same time goes for Mixed Draw on Thursday nights.

THANK YOU

A note of appreciation goes out to the volunteers that signed up for "line dancing" at the club. Many hands make the work quick. And it also helps to get an inside look at how your ice is prepared.

LEARN TO CURL

November will see four one-hour learn to curl seminars held on the ice at the club. Each clinic starts at 6 p.m. and runs Thursday nights from November 6-27. Fee is $50 per person. All you need is to dress in layers, light gloves and bring a clean pair of sneakers. The club will provide step-on sliders, brooms and sticks if you prefer.

LEAGUES

All skips for the Men's and Mixed leagues are asked to get their name in to Shawn Hearn at 705-288-7823 or shearn@fibreop.ca to get draws prepped.

Good start for U11 Puckhounds

KAPUSKASING (Special) - On October 18 the U11 Temiskaming Shores Puckhound Girls travelled to Kapuskasing to kick off their season against the Jags.

The first game proved to be a nail-biter. Although the Puckhounds were buzzing early, they fell behind in the first period.

Controlling the play, the girls persisted and eventually found the net in the third period on a power play goal from captain Quinn Morin. With some stellar play from goaltender Arielle Allaire, the Puckhounds were able to hold on for the 1-1 tie.

In game two the Puckhounds dominated early and took the lead on a goal from Lilly Maga with assists going to Violet Chief and Jenika Gosselin.

The Kapuskasing squad refused to go away silently, but fortunately for the Puckhounds Georgia Nadeau stood firm between the pipes, turning away all 27 shots from the Jags to earn a valuable 1-0 win for the visitors.

Up next, the girls will travel to Smooth Rock Falls on October 24 to 26 for the inaugural Northern Cup.

The U11 Puckhounds came back from Kapuskasing with a win and a tie and are in action October 25-26 in Smooth Rock Falls for the inaugural Northern Cup. The team is, in the front row, Jenika Gosselin (left) and Quinn Morin; second row, same order, are Charlie Lachapelle, Kyla Benoit; third row Arielle Allaire, Violet Chief; fourth are Danica Barker, Jordyn Langford fifth row Millie Briand, Briar Bain; sixth row Lilly Maga, Andie Perry; seventh row is Georgia Nadeau; top row, left to right, are Sutton Zubyck, Ellie Beaulieu, Cameron Gervais.
