Momentum growing for local hospice care

Joe O'Grady
Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES - Raising awareness is almost as important as raising funds for a local group of volunteers seeking hospice care facilities for the south Temiskaming area.

Spearheaded by former local librarian Chris Gallagher, the group held its first fundraiser October 17-18, a book and art sale, at the New Liskeard Legion hall.

Gallagher said the ultimate goal is to create a four to five bedroom residential hospice, including accommodations for family and friends. The facility would provide "respectful and dignified" end-of-life care to local patients.

Committee members took the first "small steps" toward creating a hospice space for south Temiskaming, hosting a fundraising book sale at the New Liskeard Legion October 17-18. Pictured, from left, are committee treasurer Jaymie Werner, secretary Chris Gallagher and member Janet Spencer. (Staff photo by Joe O'Grady)

The area served would extend from Earlton in the North to Temagami in the south, west to Elk Lake and east to Temiskaming Shores.

Gallagher said she was pleased with the success of the group's first "small steps" in hosting the fundraiser.

"Despite the rainy weather, we were gratified to see quite a good turnout," she said in an email interview.

"We were blessed with hardworking volunteers who helped with everything from sales to packing and loading boxes to and from vehicles."

In an interview during the event, Gallagher told The Speaker one of the first challenges for the group is to educate the public about the difference between palliative care and hospice care. The former is aimed at providing symptom relief and support for those with serious, life-limiting illnesses, while hospice care provides comfort and support to the terminally ill.

Students at Ecole secondaire catholique Ste-Marie were once again in the giving spirit as they conducted their annual Thanksgiving food drive in support of the Salvation Army. “The (school) community is committed to continuing its support throughout the year with additional food drives to help the Salvation Army Church meet the growing needs of our region,” said Renee Godmaire of Conseil Scolaire Catholique de District des Grandes Rivières. “Great job, Apollo family.” Seen here with the donation ready for delivery to the church are student council members, from left, prime minister Annabelle Marquis, secretary and minister of finance Brianna Léveillé, sports minister Lexie Forget, and minister of culture and citizenship Janelle Bélanger. # Diwali festival of light celebrates good over evil

Darlene Wroe

Local Journalism Initiative
Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES - The Indian Community of New Liskeard and Surroundings celebrated Diwali on October 18.

About 100 people were in attendance at the Bun Eckensviller Community Hall in New Liskeard to mark the festival of lights which celebrates the victory of good over evil.

The event was also attended by Nipissing-Timiskaming MP Pauline Rochefort and her husband Ronald Roy.

Foram Shah explained the legend behind the festival.

"Lord Rama, who was in exile for 14 years, killed the demon Ravana, and the victory of good over evil happened at that time. People celebrated the comeback of Lord Rama with lights, with diyas, with colours. We do rangolis. We make sure Lord Rama eats a lot of sweets so we prepare a lot of good things for him."

She continued that the Indian Community of New Liskeard and surrounding area has also organized Navratri festivals in past years as well as Christmas events.

The events bring together friends and families such as the Mazumdar family.

Krishna Mazumdar, a teacher at New Liskeard Public School, and her husband Vipav Mazumdar, an engineering manager at Wabi Iron and Steel, have been in New Liskeard since 2012 with their daughter and were one of the first Indian families in the community.

Krishna Mazumdar said

Families gathered to celebrate Diwali at the Bun Eckensviller Community Hall in New Liskeard October 18. Several children were there with their families to enjoy the lights, colours, music, and good food. From the left are Hetvi Patel, 8, Anaya Patel, 12, Tej Patel, 6, and Hiyaan Patel, 6. (Staff photo by Darlene Wroe) that her husband joined Wabi in 2012 as a planner and the family moved to New Liskeard after he became employed by the company.

"When we came here we were among only a few families."

It was very difficult to join in celebrations such as Diwali at that time because they would have had to travel to Toronto to participate, she explained. But with time, people began organizing events locally.

"We are really grateful so that we can gather," she said.

Momentum growing for local hospice care

"The wish for more Ontarians is to die at home, but that's not always possible," she said. "It's concerning. Our battle, besides money, is to differentiate palliative care versus hospice care."

Gallagher was motivated to begin the quest after the death of a close relative. Before her passing, the relative noted there was no hospice care locally and suggested to Gallagher "you should get on that."

"This community's always been good to me so this is one way to give back," she said.

The group's next fundraiser will be a Christmas bake sale on November 8 at the Hudson Hall.

Through the winter, there are tentative plans to make presentations in some of the smaller communities in the area to gain further public awareness and support.

Gallagher said there are many ways the project could come together, possibly even with donated space, but she is determined to see it through until a local hospice is in place.

"It definitely would be a very good idea to have one," she said, noting demographic trends point to an ever increasing number of seniors in the community.

"We will have to be diligent about making the Ministry (of Health) aware of the unique needs of end-of-life patients in rural Northern Ontario and to ensure those needs are acknowledged with appropriate resources."

An homage

Sue Nielsen

The local art scene might be in mourning because Laura Landers has announced she is closing her framing store in Cobalt.

I pay tribute to this amazing artist and businesswoman.

She is a very important part of the Northern Ontario arts community, now retiring from her framing business located in downtown Cobalt.

She has had many successful years of helping local artists sell their pottery, paintings, photographs, cards, jewellery and more.

There will definitely be a huge void in downtown Cobalt when she closes her eclectic art shop.

A force in the local art scene and further afield in Espanola and Manitoulin Island, Laura is well known as an award winning watercolour painter.

I don't believe there is a single person who has promoted Cobalt as much as Laura has done over the years.

She had a shop in New Liskeard for years and then Cobalt benefitted from her move to the Silver City.

Laura quickly developed a reputation for showcasing fine local art and for producing top quality art.

I think her favourite artist that she featured over the years has to be Lionel Venne and his amazing Northern Lights paintings.

Laura was kind enough to feature artists who were just getting started in the art world.

Always warm and quick witted, if you stopped by Laura's shop you could engage in conversation on just about any topic under the sun.

Visitors to the town could wander into Laura's Art Shoppe and purchase paintings of the town's head frames and historical venues that show the uniqueness of Cobalt.

I really don't believe many know or understand how important Laura has been to promoting the best ole town we know.

Art is a very human activity that makes people feel better and Laura made people feel better with her shop and her natural talent as an artist.

In her retirement she will continue to curate art exhibitions at the Classic Theater in Cobalt.

Laura's Art Shoppe was a place where people could spend a few dollars and go home with an astonishingly beautiful artwork.

I won't forget how kind she was to me when my brother, David Brydges, passed away earlier this year.

David would often stop by her shop and talk her ear off and they got along quite well.

I can only imagine how difficult it must be for Laura to take down all the art she has in her store and close that chapter of her life.

Thank you Laura for all you have done to promote art and culture in Northern Ontario.

Good luck to the next occupants of the store, there is a lot of good karma in that space.

Spirometry Screening for Asthma and COPD

Spirometry is a common and effective diagnostic test that can easily be done in your health care provider's office. Spirometry is the most reliable way to test your lungs for COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) and asthma. The earlier it's done, the earlier lung disease can be detected and treated.

Who should have spirometry testing?

- People with asthma
- Spirometry is an important diagnosis and management tool for people with asthma. If you have asthma and have never had a spirometry test, please talk to our respiratory therapist about spirometry.
- Smokers and former smokers

If you are over 40 and smoke or used to smoke, you may have COPD. Take this quick test:

	Yes	No
1 Do you cough regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2 Do you cough up phlegm regularly?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3 Do even simple chores make you short of breath?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4 Do you wheeze when you exert yourself (exercise, go up stairs)?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5 Do you get many colds, and do your colds usually last longer than your friends' colds?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answered "Yes" to one or more of these questions, you may have symptoms of COPD. See our respiratory therapist to find out what is causing your symptoms

Why should I see a respiratory therapist? Can't it wait?

If you get early treatment for COPD you can slow down the damage to your lungs.

If you are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team, the Cobalt Medical Centre or the Latchford Medical Clinic and would like to have spirometry screening with our Registered Respiratory Therapist, please call (705) 569-3244 (Temagami), (705) 679-5466 (Cobalt) or (705) 676-2200 (Latchford) to request an appointment.

Early detection and intervention contribute to the best possible health outcomes!

Questions to ask about your first mammogram

Mammograms are an essential part of preventative care for women over the age of 40. Although getting your first mammogram can feel overwhelming, being well-informed can help ease your anxiety and ensure that you make the most of your appointment.

1. WHAT CAN I EXPECT DURING THE PROCEDURE?

Understanding what happens step by step can make the experience less intimidating. Ask how long the test will take, whether it might be uncomfortable, and what you should wear.

2. WILL THE MAMMOGRAM BE 2D OR 3D?

Standard 2D mammograms are widely available and considered reliable for screening. A 3D mammogram can provide more detailed images and may be recommended for people with dense breast tissue.

3. WHEN AND HOW WILL I GET MY RESULTS? Make sure you know when to expect your results and how you'll receive them. Your clinic may provide results by phone, mail or online portal. Ask if a follow-up appointment is necessary.

4. WHAT HAPPENS IF SOMETHING ABNORMAL IS FOUND?

It's good to be prepared. Most abnormalities aren't cancer, but it's wise to know what additional steps might be needed, such as more imaging or a biopsy.

5. HOW OFTEN SHOULD I HAVE A MAMMOGRAM?

Guidelines can vary based on age, family history and risk factors. Typically, women aged 40 to 74 should have a mammogram every two years. Ask your provider for a personalized screening schedule.

Tips to Reduce the Spread of Respiratory Viruses

Every year many people get infections in parts of the body that affect breathing, such as the throat, airways, or lungs (respiratory infections). These infections are usually caused by viruses (germs) like COVID-19, Influenza, RSV, and colds. Other germs such as bacteria can cause infections in the lungs (pneumonia).

Many respiratory infections have the same symptoms but can cause very different illnesses and outcomes. No matter what the respiratory illness is, there are actions that can be taken to help keep yourself and others healthy and stop the spread of respiratory illness.

- Preventing Respiratory Illnesses:
- Stay up to date with Influenza, COVID-19, and RSV immunizations;
- Wear a mask when recovering from illness or visiting high risk settings;
- Wash your hands often; avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth with unwashed hands;
- Cough or sneeze into a tissue or the bend of your arm; be sure to dispose of the tissue and wash your hands immediately;
- Stay away from others when you're sick, unless seeking testing or medical care.

Everyone has a role to play to reduce the spread of respiratory viruses. The actions you take will protect you, loved ones and those most vulnerable in your community.

If you are experiencing mild respiratory symptoms and want the opinion of a health care provider, please call your primary care provider's office first before going to the Emergency Room.

The Temagami Medical Centre and Family Health Team is committed to keeping you as healthy as possible!
