DTSSAB bracing for possible rise in homelessness

Joe O'Grady
Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

ENGLEHART - While homelessness is rising rapidly across the province, Timiskaming remains steady for now.

Speaking at DTSSAB's January 21 meeting, housing services manager Steve Cox said the number of homeless people in the district is "pretty consistent" at present, averaging about 25 to 30 people.

But board member Ian Macpherson cautioned there is no room for complacency.

"It's coming and we've got to stay on top of it," he said.

District of Timiskaming Social Services Administration Board (DTSSAB) vice-chair and Kirkland Lake town councillor Pat Kiely said the province is always "playing catch-up" when it comes to support for homeless people and those with mental health issues.

He and fellow DTSSAB members were reacting to a new report proposing action to integrate housing and health infrastructure. The report, commissioned by the Ontario Service Deliverers Association and the Canadian Mental Health Association, suggests housing investment, when delivered alongside targeted investment in health —specifically mental health and substance use supports — "can better stabilize homelessness in Northern Ontario with an effective investment of approximately $435 million per year, or about 1.3 cents on every dollar of Northern Ontario's GDP."

Board member and Harley Township Councillor Cliff Fielder said housing prices are "just going crazy" and continue to rise, with no sign of letting up, compounding the homelessness problem.

Board member Rick Owen, a Kirkland Lake town councillor, said the current system is "very discriminatory" in failing to address mental illnesses in the same way as physical illnesses.

"If I break my leg OHIP pays for it. If I break my mind, I have to pay," he said. "Health care is health care whether it's mental or physical."

The report suggests housing instability and unmet health needs have "intensified rapidly" across Northern Ontario, with known homelessness rising by 37 per cent - from 5,930 people in 2024 to 8,142 in 2025.

DID YOU GET
The Speaker
THIS WEEK?
Here are some of the stories in our January 28 edition...

- Cold weather didn't stop the hot energy of a local rally held last weekend to highlight the dangers of travel on Highways 11 and 17.
- Temagami Dry is popping back into the hearts and minds of Northerners with the impending launch of the beverage in February.
- DTSSAB is increasing its municipal levy by 4.49 per cent as outlined in the organization's newly passed 2026 budget.
- St. James Anglican Church in Cobalt is hoping for some divine intervention in the form of donations to help repair the over 100-year-old place of worship.
- The North On Tap Craft Beer Festival has chosen its fundraising recipients for the 2026 event.
- Team Baker is hoping to make a clean sweep at the upcoming U18 Canadian National Championships, being held in Timmins February 8-14.
- Hundreds of skaters are hoping to edge their way to podium finishes at the Skate the Shores event this weekend.
- The New Liskeard Cubs face off against their Northern rivals, the Timmins Majors, this Friday night at The Shep.

GARAGE FIRE

On January 24 at approximately 1:27 p.m., the Coleman Fire Department and the Cobalt Fire Department responded to a structure fire on Nipissing Road. Firefighters observed heavy smoke and flames coming from the garage upon arrival. The homeowner informed the firefighters there was no one inside the structure at the time of the incident. Coleman Fire Department Chief Don Laitinen was at the scene and said, "The cause of the fire is undetermined at this time." (Staff photo by Sue Nielsen)

Simple act of kindness

Sue Nielsen

It's -25 C, there's five feet of snow on the ground and the sky is a dull grey colour.

Waah!

Doesn't the world feel heavy these days with all the things happening in Minnesota and yet another person has been shot by ICE?

As I drive around our region, I see the cattails hanging heavy with frost and if you listen long enough, you can hear the subtle sound of winter birds.

Few things bring me as much comfort as I receive from birding.

By simply observing birds, taking photos of them and being outside in nature, it is the salve to the troubles of the world.

While winter is a welcome season for some, it can be challenging for others.

I must tip my hat to all the folks who have backyard feeders and who keep them full during the coldest days of our winter.

It has been bitterly cold lately and keeping feeders topped up with seed and providing fatty sources like suet balls will help our feathered friends survive the harsh winter we are having.

When someone places a bird feeder in their yard, they recognize the struggle birds have to survive.

That is a beautiful thing, a simple act of kindness recognizing all living things need a little help now and then.

Don't forget that fruit, nuts and eggshells are also welcome additions to a bird's diet.

Please do not feed birds bread as it has no nutritional value for them.

Birding is a low-cost way to promote mental health when the days are dark.

When I find birds in a beautiful, snowy landscape I feel a sense of joy.

Finches appear to be the highlight of winter birding in our area of late and according to the Finch Forecast, this is an irruptive winter.

Irruption is when large numbers of birds venture away from their typical range when food sources are scarce. They move to areas where they can find food sources and, in our region, it seems to be working for them as the Temiskaming grocery store is well stocked with a variety of seeds.

The evening grosbeaks, pine grosbeaks and common red polls seem to be plentiful this winter, while black capped chickadees, blue jays, woodpeckers and nuthatches are also a delight.

Even though I am a huge fan of winter birding I look forward to when the first warblers arrive in late April and early May to fill our forest with colour and song.

On a slightly different note: I pay tribute to long-time Temiskaming Speaker employee J. P. Cloutier, who passed away on January 18. He was a good man and will live on in our hearts. My deepest condolences to his family and friends.

Foods that Can Lower your Blood Pressure

Have you ever heard of the DASH diet? DASH stands for Dietary Approaches to Stop Hypertension (high blood pressure). It's a way of reducing blood pressure through changes in what you eat. It focuses on fruits, vegetables, whole grains, lean meats and low-fat dairy.

Green leafy vegetables: Eat spinach, broccoli, kale, or collards for a potassium boost. The mineral helps flush sodium out of your body and relaxes your blood vessel walls. Recommended daily serving: 2-3 cups (raw leafy vegetables)

Berries: The pigments that give blueberries, strawberries, and blackberries their rich colors also come with a benefit for your blood vessels: anthocyanin. It can help artery walls become wider and more flexible to lower your blood pressure and improve your heart health. Recommended daily serving: 2-3 cups (fresh or frozen)

Yogurt: Calcium is a key player for good blood pressure because it helps your blood vessels tighten and relax when they should. Recommended daily serving: 2-3 cups (yogurt or milk)

Fatty Fish: Another good source of calcium is bone-in fish, like canned salmon or sardines. Oily fish are flush in omega-3s, the fatty acids that boost health and help your heart. Recommended daily serving: 3-6 ounces (fish, lean meat, poultry)

Seeds: Unsalted seeds are a source of vital minerals like magnesium, which helps control your blood pressure and relax your blood vessels. Recommended daily serving: 1 to 1.5 tablespoons

Garlic: Garlic can add more than just flavor to your dishes. It may also have a hand in boosting your nitric oxide levels, which dilates blood vessels. Recommended daily serving: 1-2 cloves

Unsalted pistachios: Unsalted tree nuts can be a great source of healthy fats that help your heart. But for high blood pressure, your best pick is pistachios. They seem to have the strongest effect on lowering both your top and bottom blood pressure readings. Recommended serving: 1—2 cups per week (nuts)

Olive Oil: Protective antioxidants in olive oil improve blood vessel health and help them stay elastic. Recommended daily serving: 2-3 teaspoons (oil, may or salad dressing)

Dark chocolate: Dark chocolate (at least 50% to 70% cocoa) can give you a boost of a plant compound called flavanol. This antioxidant can make your blood pressure drop a notch. Recommended serving: An occasional nibble

If you are a patient of the Temagami Family Health Team and would like to have a consultation with our registered dietitian to discuss the DASH approach to reducing your blood pressure, please call the office at (705) 569-3244.

HOROSCOPE

Week of February 1 to 7, 2026

ARIES

Even if you tend to shy away from attention, you'll find yourself in the spotlight this week. A particular situation will push you to overcome your shyness. In return, you'll receive words of admiration and be able to express your gratitude.

TAURUS

If your children have already left home, you may consider selling your house to gain more freedom. On the other hand, if your relationship is still in its early stages, the idea of moving in together may soon feel like the next natural step.

GEMINI

You'll engage in many discussions this week. At work, you'll expand your client base while strengthening team spirit among your colleagues. Your advice is valued and could lead to a notable improvement in your financial situation.

CANCER

Your financial situation could create a lot of tension this week. However, an expert could help you find a suitable solution. This will ease some of the pressure and give you the chance to enjoy a well-deserved break.

LEO

You'll be bursting with energy this week. You'll feel capable of moving mountains! You'll throw yourself into a new professional or personal project that will give you a deep sense of accomplishment and satisfaction.

VIRGO

You'll need solid support in both your professional and personal life. You'll readily offer help to a loved one this week. However, be careful and make sure others don't take advantage of your generosity.

LIBRA

This week will be filled with tension. This atmosphere will encourage you to take better care of yourself, especially through physical exercise. Since keeping your morale up matters too, treat yourself to a few indulgences to lift your spirits.

SCORPIO

Unexpected events could cause delays this week, but spacing out your appointments could help you minimize your stress. This is also a good time to consider starting your own business.

SAGITTARIUS

Your friends may invite you on a fun getaway. Nothing will revitalize you more than a brief change of scenery, especially if you live in the city.

CAPRICORN

You'll soon go through an emotionally intense period that will prompt you to evaluate your friendships. Opportunistic actions will push you to reaffirm your values. If you respect yourself, you'll attract more authentic and sincere relationships.

AQUARIUS

You'll feel a lot of pressure to make an important decision this week. If you want to make the right choice, gather all the necessary information and weigh the pros and cons. Give yourself the time you need.

PISCES

At work, you'll be flooded with urgent tasks that demand your attention. Although this may cause some stress, the hustle and bustle could become a springboard for growth. You may suddenly be given an opportunity for advancement, which will benefit your career.

Lions score two wins and a tie on weekend

TEMISKAMING SHORES
(Staff) – The New Liskeard Lions are back on the road this weekend after a successful outing away from home January 24-25.

The U18A team posted two wins and a tie Saturday and Sunday and get back to action January 30 and 31 with a pair of games in Temiskaming, Quebec, against the Royals.

LIONS 4 TRAPPERS 4

New Liskeard wrapped-up the busy weekend by playing the North Bay U16AA Trappers on Sunday evening, January 25, at the Pete Palangio Arena in North Bay.

The Lions led 2-1 after the first, the game was tied 3-3 after the second and both teams added single tallies in the third.

Scoring for New Liskeard were Jackson Smith with two, Yoakim Gingras and Alex Harvey with singles.

Earning assists were Robert Burnett, Aiden Gervais, Justin Guimond, Kaleb Lafond, and Smith.

LIONS 4 STING 1

The Lions started the day in Sturgeon Falls where they beat the West Nipissing Sting 4-1.

New Liskeard scored three times in the first and once in the second. The Sting scored their lone goal in the middle frame.

Scoring for the visitors were Harvey with two, Quinton Pigeau and Smith with singles.

Assists went to Guimond, Eli MacInnis-Polson and Jackson Smith.

LIONS 8 STING 1

The Lions began the weekend with an 8-1 win over the Sting on Saturday, January 24.

Again, a big first period sent the Lions on their way scoring five times and adding three more in the second.

Goals came from Lincoln Boulianne, Gingras, Austin Glover (two), Harvey, Kaleb Lafond, and Pigeau (two).

Earning helpers were Kian Wilson, Ben Paquin, Jayden Meunier, MacInnis-Polson (three), Guimond (two) and Burnett.

New Liskeard's next home games are scheduled for February 7 at the Don Shepherdson Memorial Arena. Game times are 12:40 and 6:30 p.m. against the U18A West Nipissing Sting.

DTSSAB bracing for possible rise in homelessness

"As homelessness grows, pressure increasingly concentrates in emergency and institutional systems. Northern Ontario experiences mental health and substance use-related emergency department visit rates two to four times higher than provincial averages, alongside higher rates of substance-related harms," the report states.

"These responses are necessary, but they are costly and limited in their ability to support long-term housing stability."

The report projects homelessness in Northern Ontario will more than double over the next 10 years, from 8,142 in 2025 to 16,900 in 2035 under a "steady economic scenario."

"Under weaker economic conditions, projected homelessness will exceed 27,500 people by 2035. At this scale, housing and health instability would place significant pressure on workforce stability and economic productivity, while families and communities experience preventable harm."

OBITUARY

Delia MacAlpine

It is with profound sadness we announce the passing of Delia MacAlpine. She passed away peacefully at Temiskaming Hospital on January 19, 2026, in her 85th year.

Delia was the devoted spouse of Roy Nowry of 20 wonderful years. Also loving wife to Neil MacAlpine (predeceased).

She was proud mother to Leslie (Patricia), Cathy (Rudy), Bridget, Dolly, Melody (Dave), Neil Junior (Angie). She was stepmother to Debbie (Dave), Kathy (Darryl) and Wayne (Lynn). She was a wonderful sister to Jim, Loretta, Brenda and Evison, and brothers predeceased – Allan, Lyle and Dave.

She was a loving mother, sister, aunt, grandmother and great-grandmother to many. She was greatly adored and loved by all.

A special thanks to Doctor Matt Scott and all the doctors, nurses and wonderful staff for their kindness, caring and compassionate care.

A celebration of life will take place in the summer with date and details to be announced.
