Joe O'Grady
Local Journalism Initiative Reporter

TEMISKAMING SHORES - The opening of a time capsule, food, music and fun will start the festivities July 14 as Haileybury Legion Branch 54 marks its 100th anniversary.

Five days of activities have been lined up for the celebration, including Tuesday's time capsule opening, and the grand opening night at the Legion hall where a steak supper will be followed by opening ceremonies and music from Steve Benoit and Black Hat Trio.

Wednesday is multicultural day, with a range of events, music and vendors at the Haileybury waterfront. The Timiskaming Art Gallery will present carnival mask crafts and live artists, while L'Association canadienne française de l'Ontario (ACFO) presents a game of Tetris. The evening caps off with an Eagles Tribute Night at the Shelley Herbert-Shea Memorial Arena.

Thursday is Magic Day, featuring a range of events including pet portraits, a snack bar and the Eric Leclerc Family Magic Show at the arena from 4-6 p.m.

Friday's schedule features more art events at the waterfront, and ends with a disco explosion at the arena with an ABBA tribute and Toe Jam Tequila.

Saturday is Block Party Day with crafts, a community barbecue, games, music and vendors. The evening features a rock finale, featuring three bands - Mud Dogs, Mystic Highway and Radio Daze.

As one of the region's oldest Legions, Branch 54 has had a major turnaround in fortunes under its current leadership. Membership has grown from a low of 128 members in 2023, to more than 370. The Legion has also managed to arrange almost $700,000 in structural repairs and renovations for the aging building through grants and fundraising. It is now a busy community hub with a range of events daily.

Another fabulous Bikers Reunion

Congratulations to Barry

Phippen and his Bikers Reunion organizing committee for a fabulous, exciting and successful 2026 Bikers Reunion.

As one drove around Temiskaming Shores and area last weekend, the hotels, the motels, the restaurants and gas bars were full of bikers.

The economic spin offs of the Bikers Reunion are without a doubt the biggest summertime boost this region experiences.

And perhaps the most significant in terms of a joy factor for people struggling to come to terms with an affordability crisis.

There was no admission fee to any of the Bikers Reunion events so that individuals and families could take in all the sights and sounds of the mega event.

Thousands of motorcycles and their riders also learned a thing or two about this region while they were here and if that isn't the biggest tourism booster we don't know what is.

And after all the dust has settled the profits from the annual motorcycle extravaganza are donated back to the community to help people and their families deal with a cancer diagnosis.

Those yellow cancer survivor t-shirts worn by so many throughout the three day event are a visual reminder of the spirit of the event.

When the Freedom Ride rolled through Temiskaming Shores, Cobalt and Coleman Township, there was nary a dry eye to be found. It was such an emotional moment for many affected by cancer.

As Phippen once said, "Cancer doesn't take a break and neither do we."

Congratulations to all those involved in the 2026 Bikers Reunion.

To Whom It May Concern

Sue Nielsen

I've always viewed the heading on letters "To Whom It May Concern" as rather impersonal.

In modern day communication you would name the group receiving the letter.

Such was the case when the Cobalt Historical Society (CHS) received a letter from the Town of Cobalt addressed in such a manner last week.

The letter informed the CHS they had to vacate the Pan Silver headframe, located across the street from the post office in downtown Cobalt, by July 20.

The letter was a notification that the CHS had to remove all of their items from the buildings before this action was taken.

I've been on many high level boards and committees over the years and the way this headframe removal issue has been handled in Historic Cobalt is nothing short of horrendous.

A total lack of consultation and communication between the CHS and the town was evident when the decision was made to tear down the structure.

I understand there is a concern for the safety of the building due to the aging stiff legs.

Cobalt's headframes are the important visual reminders when the town had over 100 mines operating in the Silver City at the turn of the century.

Cobalt is deemed a National Historic Site by Parks Canada, thanks to the work of Jack Church and Albert Chitaroni, just to name a couple.

How would they feel about this situation? I think I know.

They would be angered because they put in years and years of work to have the town designated as a National Historic Site and in moving the headframe to its downtown location.

Those men understood the importance of historic Cobalt. I come from a family that has 120 years of history living in the best ole town we know, Cobalt.

Our love of heritage runs deep in the veins.

At a time when global perspectives seem to dominate the news and social media platforms, we are reminded that our local history helps us to develop a sense of place and belonging, particularly for children.

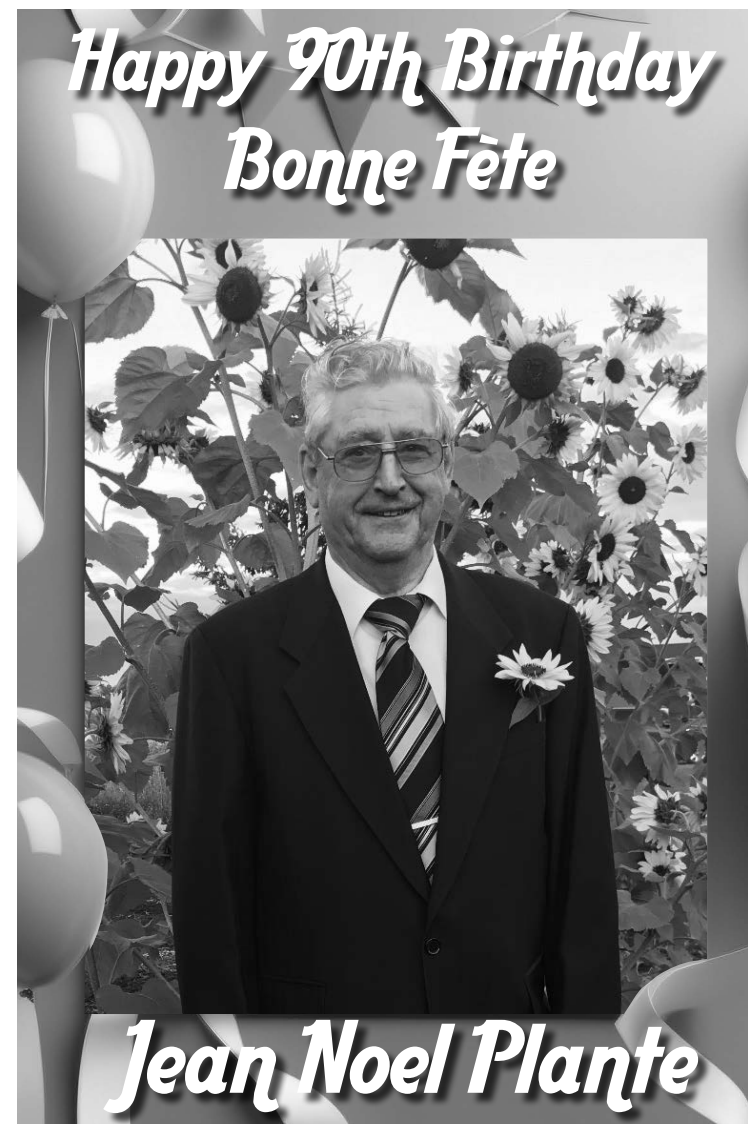

The passing down of stories and the sight of head-frames around Cobalt are the reasons we have a strong connection to our past.

We mine our illustrious history for our present day success at the Cobalt Mining Museum, the Classic Theatre and the Bunker Military Museum.

The Cobalt Historical Society has done an incredible amount of work around the Cobalt Mining camp, managing the Heritage Silver Trail and the Willett Green Memorial, located near the downtown headframe to preserve the history of Cobalt.

To not investigate options to save the headframe is concerning at best and deeply disappointing.

Melanoma Skin Cancer Awareness

Melanoma skin cancer often starts as an abnormal mole on the skin. A mole is a common non-cancerous growth. It's normally a small, round, or oval spot that is usually brown, tan or pink. It may be raised or flat. Melanoma is most frequently found on the back of men and on the back and legs of women. It is the least common, but most serious, type of skin cancer.

Risk Factors:

- Personal or family history of melanoma.
- Presence of moles--especially if there are many, or if they are unusual or large.
- Sun sensitivity--sun burning easily, or difficulty tanning.
- Light colored skin, eyes, and hair.
- History of excessive sun exposure.
- Diseases that suppress the immune system.
- Occupational exposure to coal tar, pitch, creosote, arsenic compounds, or radium.

The ABCDE rule below can help you look for the common signs and symptoms of melanoma skin cancer:

A is for asymmetry – one half of a mole does not have the same shape as the other half.

B is for border – the edge of a mole is uneven (irregular). It can look jagged, notched, or blurry. The colour may spread into the area around the mole.

C is for colour – the colour of a mole is not the same throughout. It could have shades of tan, brown and black. Sometimes areas of blue, grey, red, pink, or white are also seen.

D is for diameter – the size of a mole is larger than 6mm (1/4 inch) across, which is about the size of a pencil eraser.

E is for evolving – there is a change in the colour, size, shape or feel of the mole. The mole may become itchy or you may have a burning or tingling feeling.

Other signs and symptoms of melanoma skin cancer include:

- an area that does not heal
- a mole or sore that oozes or bleeds
- broken skin with an open wound (ulceration)

Melanoma is an aggressive form of cancer that can be life-threatening. Schedule an appointment with your primary care provider if you have any of these skin changes.

Committed to keeping you as healthy as possible!

Ontario government making it easier to drink in parks

OAKVILLE (Special) - The Ontario government is making it easier for people to enjoy the great outdoors with family and friends by allowing adults to responsibly consume their favourite alcoholic beverages throughout provincial parks.

Ontario by building a more competitive, resilient and self-reliant economy, this change means alcohol will no longer be restricted to individual campsites, making it easier for people to relax and spend time with family and friends while supporting a stronger tourism industry that creates jobs and drives economic growth across the province.

continuing to prioritize safety. Ontario Parks are a key part of what makes our province a travel destination and we are supporting experiences that attract more visitors, strengthen communities and grow the economy."

already restricted and areas that may pose significant safety risks.

Park staff will continue to enforce rules to ensure Ontario Parks remain safe, family-friendly and enjoyable for everyone, including:

- consuming alcohol only where it is allowed
- respecting other park users
- disposing of containers properly
- never driving or boating while impaired

This change builds on the government's broader efforts to modernize alcohol rules and support local tourism, including expanded "bring-your-own" permits for outdoor public events that give communities more flexibility to host festivals and cultural gatherings that support local economies. It is part of the government's broader plan to protect Ontario by boosting the tourism sector, promoting Ontario as a global travel destination and helping create jobs across the province.

Adults aged 19 and older can now enjoy alcohol responsibly in most areas of provincial parks that are open and staffed for the 2026 season, such as picnic areas, beaches and other day use areas across the park. Park users will not receive tickets or fines for responsibly consuming alcohol in permitted areas outside of individual campsites. Existing rules still apply for unsafe or unlawful behaviour, including public intoxication, underage possession or consumption, and having open or improperly stored alcohol in a motor vehicle or boat.

Parks will post clear signage to identify areas that will remain alcohol-free, such as sites of cultural or historical significance, buildings where food and drink are

"Ontario Parks are some of the province's most sought-after destinations for day trips and overnight camping, offering people a chance to connect and spend quality time together," said Todd McCarthy, Minister of the Environment, Conservation and Parks.

"As families and friends gather for picnics or unwind after a long day on the trails, updated rules around where alcohol can be consumed are intended to improve the overall park experience and support local tourism, while

COBALT - The days of watching Cobalt council proceedings online could be numbered, if Mayor Angela Adshead has her way.

Speaking at council's June 23 meeting, the mayor expressed frustration over the negativity online during Cobalt council meetings.

"Too many people sit at home and watch the meetings and react negatively," she said.

The town, like many of its peers, adopted electronic meetings in 2020 in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Adshead said scrapping the live stream might not only cut down on some negativity, but save the town some costs. It currently contracts services privately for recording and streaming meetings via Zoom. Meetings are then later uploaded to Cobalt's YouTube channel for public viewing.

HOROSCOPE
Week of July 12 to 18, 2026

- ARIES
Although you prefer the comfort of your own bubble, you'll find yourself rushing here and there, responding to countless requests. Your family will need your presence, and you'll be unable to resist the urge to spontaneously offer your support and availability.
- TAURUS
If you must address a crowd, prepare carefully—this isn't the time to improvise! At the same time, your gentle words will help ease tensions and resolve misunderstandings around you.
- GEMINI
Choose your words carefully around certain people. Listen attentively and respond with tact to avoid unnecessary conflict. Also, keep an eye on your finances. An unexpected expense could disrupt your budget.
- CANCER
Bursting with energy, you'll need to eat a healthy diet, take your vitamins and get enough sleep to support a healthy lifestyle. Your mind will overflow with ideas, but they may feel jumbled. Stay focused to turn your dreams into reality.
- LEO
You tend to give too much of yourself to others, at the risk of seriously exhausting yourself. You'll be there for your loved ones when they need you, but you must learn to pace yourself to protect your energy.
- VIRGO
Big responsibilities, some lacking clear direction, will land on your shoulders this week. Even at home, sharing tasks could prove challenging. Your patience and understanding will help you make your everyday life run more smoothly.
- LIBRA
A professional transition could open the door to new training opportunities. Accepting this challenge could lead to a more prestigious and fulfilling role—one that aligns perfectly with your ambitions.
- SCORPIO
Now is the ideal time to plan a getaway, explore a change of scenery and break free from your routine. Learning or refreshing a foreign language could also prove beneficial if you're planning to go abroad.
- SAGITTARIUS
Emotions will be raw this week, demanding self-care and making you want to withdraw. Fortunately, your friends will support you, listen to you and cheer you up when you need it.
- CAPRICORN
Don't ignore even the slightest bit of physical discomfort. Consult a health professional if needed. Trust your intuition to create a calm, protective atmosphere that encourages harmony at work and at home.
- AQUARIUS
You must resolve urgent or unclear work matters before going on vacation. If you'll be swimming, make sure you're aware of the small risk of infection. If you're single, meeting new people could prove particularly enjoyable this week.
- PISCES
Give yourself permission to enjoy movies, plays and other artistic performances. An opportunity to step into the spotlight may also arise, giving you the chance to share your talents and express your creative side.
