Did you get The Speaker this week? Here are some of the stories in our July 6, 2016 edition...

- Lake Temiskaming and surrounding region was the beautiful backdrop for the fifteenth and final Bikers Reunion which took place in New Liskeard June 30 to July 3.
- Four candidates will be on the ballot for next month's by-election in Temagami to choose a new municipal councillor.
- As early as Friday, July 8, a disruption in postal service could be felt in the Temiskaming region and across the country as postal workers prepare to walk the picket line.
- The New Liskeard Lions Club Dragon Boat Festival, scheduled to take place this coming Saturday, July 9 along the New Liskeard waterfront, has been cancelled.
- Organizers are busy putting the final touches on readying the Evanturel and District Harvest to Home Market for its first day Saturday, July 23.
- Chicago Blackhawk fans take heart. By the time you read this, there may very well be 750 walkers and runners registered for Saturday's One Foot Forward run/walk.
- Special Olympics activities are given a little extra boost every year with the annual Law Enforcement Torch Run.
- Our C-front this week features a photographic look at this past weekend's Bikers Reunion activities.

Join the majority and read Temiskaming's Paper of Record, the national and provincial award-winning Temiskaming Speaker. A paper produced in Temiskaming by Temiskaming residents for Temiskaming residents.

Tournament Talk

With TSB director Dave LaFontaine

With the sun shining and a slight breeze on June 25, anglers once again took to the waters of Lake Temagami to see if they could take down last year's Temiskaming Smallmouth Bass (TSB) series champs Des and Sue Connelly.

Des and Sue slowly and steadily picked away at the bass until the 3 p.m. weigh-in.

Whatever their plan was it worked because the team came back with 14.14 pounds (lbs.) to win the event for the second year in a row.

Once again Monty and Eric Cummings came in second place

just a little short of catching the leaders with 13.66 lbs.

Yes, it's true, Dave LaFontaine and Steve McLean are still alive and kicking, not as hard as usual but kicking just the same. We managed to catch 12.40 lbs. before we had to stop for our afternoon naps, or we could have done better.

CASSELS LAKE

Sunday, June 26, saw a change in the weather on Cassels Lake, with a wind blowing right off and pouring rain late in the afternoon. But the show must go on so at 7 a.m. teams blasted off just the same as always.

Cassels Lake has some big bass in it and if you can keep them on it will show at the end of the day, and North Bay's Josh McKay and Conner Cantwell did just that.

The team came back at 3 p.m. with a nice bag of fish weighing 17.28 lbs. plus the big fish of the day weighing 4.46 lbs. to take first place.

Second place went to Gilbert and Jamie Maille with 15.56 lbs.

Third place went to Jean Guy and Paul St. Cyr with the help of Jean Guy's daughter Ashley at 14.02 lbs.

We allow a team to have a young angler fish with them if they want just as long as they are under 16. We do this to promote young anglers and get them fishing.

We are the only Series in Canada that does this and it is working well because we have had 20 or 30 young anglers start fishing this way and the parents are thrilled we do this.

Temiskaming Wedding PLANNER & GUIDE

Gift ideas to thank your guests

Gourmet, eco-friendly, original, unusual — there's no lack of choice when searching for the perfect wedding favour for your guests. Your small gesture will go a long way in thanking them for being with you on one of the most important days of your life. But despite all the choices, choosing the right favour is never an easy task. Here are a few ideas to point you in the right direction.

Start by setting your budget; this will narrow down your choices and save you time. Then think about the theme of your wedding, if you have one. You could have pretty candles for a romantic wedding, a small cactus for an eco-friendly or exotic wedding, wine glasses for a wedding reception at a vineyard, packs of cards for a wedding with a Las Vegas theme — the possibilities are endless if you use your imagination.

There are gourmet treats (truffles, candies, jams), decorative trinkets (photo frames, magnets, vases) and useful objects (coasters, fans, notepads). You could give a short-lived gift, such as a box of cookies, or an object that your loved ones will be able to keep as a souvenir for a long time. Don't forget that the gifts should include the date of the wedding and both your names. And get some coloured pencils, lollipops or soap bubbles to treat your younger guests.

Go window shopping and search through some specialized stores to find inspiration. You could also ask friends or family which favours they prefer among those they've received at other weddings. Also, think about what you would like to be given if you were a guest, and then add your personal touch. After all, your gifts should reflect your personality.

So, bath salts, coffee, a travel diary — what will you be giving your guests?

Yogurt bacteria revolutionizes medicine and agriculture

You've probably found fruit and berries in your yogurt cup at breakfast. Scientists have found something much more exciting.

Researchers discovered that when bacteria in yogurt were attacked by viruses, their sophisticated immune system fended off the invaders. Their immune systems recorded the enemy's DNA sequence and remembered it; if any DNA with that sequence reappeared, it was destroyed.

It took almost 20 years, but eventually researchers figured out how this works with a tool they developed; it is called Clustered Regularly Interspaced Short Palindromic Repeats, or CRISPR. The tool can be used to take DNA sequences apart and edit, repair or remove genes from humans, plants and animals.

CRISPR has impacted multiple fields and has vast potential. Notably, it has revolutionized biomedical research. Some scientists believe that CRISPR/Cas9 (Cas9 is an enzyme that slices up DNA) could be used to treat cancer, HIV, cystic fibrosis and other diseases. Researchers theorize that there are also applications that could potentially eradicate flies and mosquitoes that carry disease.

Agriculture will also benefit. Last year the MIT Technology Review reported that Dupont had CRISPR-edited wheat and corn plants in its greenhouses. The company's objective is to produce wheat that breeds like a hybrid, and drought-resistant corn. The magazine also noted that potatoes, rice and soybeans were being genetically engineered with CRISPR / Cas9 in academic laboratories.

The weekly journal Nature has reported that scientists are using CRISPR to develop vitamin-enriched sweet oranges, disease-resistant goats and dehorned cattle.

Sounds like science fiction? It's not. CRISPR is changing the world, but there are a lot of critical questions about the technology that have yet to be answered, including concerns about ethics, limitations and the need for regulation.
