KNOCK CANCER

The 11th annual Team Shan Knock Cancer Out of the Park mixed slo-pitch tournament runs July 15-17 at Algonquin Regiment Memorial Beach Park and neighbouring ball fields, if necessary. The headquarters and majority of games will be hosted at Algonquin Beach Park diamonds.

The Knock Cancer tournament has raised over $50,000 during its tenure for Team Shan.

The breast cancer awareness program is named after Shanna Larsen, a former Haileybury resident who died as the result of the disease in 2005 at the age of 24.

The program drives home the message, through awareness campaigns and educational materials, that breast cancer is “not just a disease of older women.”

“The Lions Club - New Liskeard will be providing a beer garden area and the Haileybury Figure Skating Club will be manning a barbecue stand, both at Algonquin Beach Park, so there will be plenty to see, eat and drink for participants and spectators alike,” said organizer James T. Paterson.

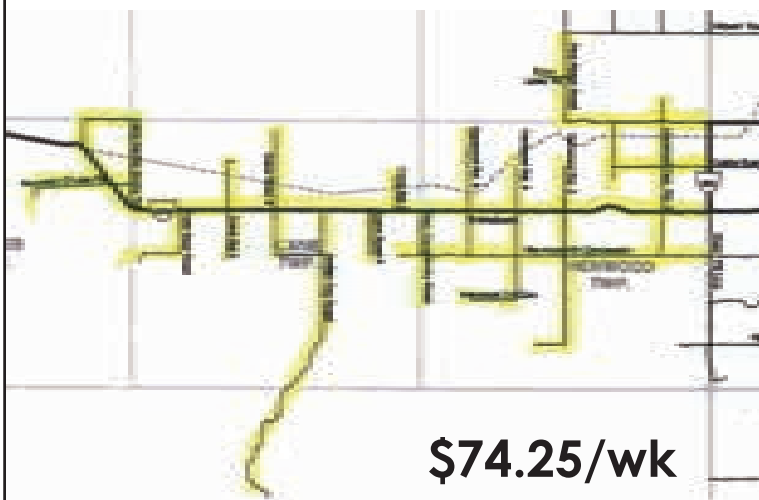

“Everyone is more than welcome. In addition, the North Cobalt Flea Market has graciously donated Blue Jays game tickets and a barbecue for our annual raffle. So there’s also something for everyone to possibly win.”

WHITE BEAR CHALLENGES

On Saturday, July 16, in Temagami: visitors can take part in the White Bear Family Challenge, a fun, 3.8-kilometre (km) canoe race in which silly costumes are encouraged. There’s also the more competitive White Bear Challenge in which two-person teams paddle a 16km course that includes several portages totalling 1.9km. For a detailed schedule and

Did you get The Speaker this week?

Here are some of the stories in our
July 13, 2016 edition...

- Hundreds of people came from near and far to honour the memory of toddler Greyson Zubyck and to support his family and the Gordon and Greyson Zubyck Memorial Fund on Saturday, July 9.
- Police suspect vandalism is responsible for damaged transmission equipment and a fire that shut down the Matabitchuan Generating Station for several days last month.
- If you're looking for live music and a taste of adventure on the water, head to Temagami this weekend.
- It was fitting that some 100 years later a railway developer should receive recognition in front of the 701 steam engine in Englehart, the town that was named after him.
- The Temagami waterfront is the backdrop for artists from Temagami, Temiskaming and beyond this weekend.
- Perhaps it was an omen— the skies were grey and the t-shirts were grey as the community came together to honour a child named Greyson.
- Our C-front this week features a story and photos on birds and threats to habitats.

Join the majority and read Temiskaming's Paper of Record, the national and provincial award-winning Temiskaming Speaker.

A paper produced in Temiskaming by Temiskaming residents for Temiskaming residents.

OUR FARMERS

Cultivating quality foods

5 ways to dish up local produce

It's the prime season to bring farm fresh produce to your table. Shopping for whole foods locally allows you to capture produce at its peak. Get creative and strategize with these tips to optimize your weekly bounty.

Plan, prioritize, prepare: Plan ahead with regional seasonality charts that show which items are at their peak. Once you've gathered your produce, prioritize the goods. Use tender greens and ripe fruits and veggies right away. Roots, bulbs and squash tend to last longer and can be saved for later in the week. Next, clean and prepare produce to extend its life. Remove the greens from items like beets and kohlrabi, so moisture isn't drawn out. Rinse leafy greens, dry thoroughly and store until ready to use. If fridge space is limited, cook down greens by parboiling or sautéing prior to putting them away.

Nutritious smoothies: Smoothies are a quick, simple way to incorporate more fruits and veggies into your diet. A banana-raspberry green smoothie marries romaine and spinach with the sweetness of raspberries and bananas.

Souped-up sauces: Tomato season is the perfect time to make pasta sauces to savour while fresh, but you can also freeze them for winter dinners. Add bell peppers and even carrot shavings (cleaned but with skins on) to boost the nutritional value.

Pestos are another way to include farmers' market staples. Nearly any fresh herb or green vegetable can become a delicious pesto-style sauce when combined with nuts, oil, garlic and grated cheese in a blender.

Use it up; Nearly all parts of produce are edible, including the greens of beets, carrots and turnips. They make excellent additions to morning smoothies and amp up stir-fry.

Join the "ugly" food movement: Though oddly shaped, bruised and dented produce may not look as appealing, it is still usable. Dry fruits for on-the-go snacks, toss items into smoothies or blend slightly wilted greens with a bit of water and freeze in ice cube trays for future use in soups and smoothies.
